HOUSE INJURED AT SALE.

Women Are Unable To Stem Rush at Portland Bargain Store.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One thousand eager bargain seekers were trampled in an excitement store today. The store being a widely-advertised one.

Many were the bargain seekers who felt the crush that a large plate window in front of the store was broken to bits, several women were cut by flying glass, two were overcome and several were fainted.

More than an hour before the doors was a dense crowd about the store which filled the sidewalk for a block and stretched the traffic. As soon as the doors were opened there was a rush for tickets which were given out on a bit of pasteboard representing a new $25 suit. Ten persons were unable to restrain the crowd who swept in to the store through the wedge-shaped entrance.

The plate glass of the window and inside caused a momentary panic, but it did not last long, and the crowd stood at the doors to admit bargain hunters in groups of three and three at a time, as they left their purchases in the store with victorious smiles on their faces.

DYNAMITERS.

AFRAID OF GRAND JURY

Unionites Want to Escape Testifying.

TVIETMOE AND SIX HENCHMEN INCLUDING JOHANNSEN IN HASTY CONFERENCE.

BIG BOSSES ANXIOUS TO BE CONSIDERED MARTYRS; FEARFUL OF ARREST.

STORY OF FRICTION BETWEEN ROGERS AND SEYMOUR UNFOUNDED.

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Utilizing the arrival of Earl Rogers and Don W. Wilson from Los Angeles today, with subpoenas for witnesses in this city and its environs, the unionite bosses began an effort to inflame sentiment here against the Los Angeles grand jury investigation.

The direct evidence of this was found in an evening sheet, the unionite organ, which declared that Chief Seymour had "laid down the law" to Rogers on his arrival and that there had been friction between the two important figures in the dynamite investigation. This newspaper also adroitly declared that Chief Seymour had denied that Rogers approached him with a proposition to kidnap certain witnesses.

What Seymour did say to Rogers was that he believed it was most important to arrest one of the three principals in the dynamite purchase before indicting others, in which Rogers agreed. Out of this statement grew the paper's effort to inflame sentiment among union sympathizers.

This evening paper is also printing articles under a Los Angeles date asserting the good-government administration and "big business" have combined to saddle the responsibility on unionite members. The utterances have inspiration among some of those whose names have been brought to Chief Seymour in his investigations.

TVIETMOE MEETS SIX.

That Tvietmoe is holding conferences likely to inspire such tactics is testified to by the fact that after his "conference" with Chief Seymour yesterday he went to the Hoffman Cafe, where he had entertained Schmidt before the dynamite disaster, and met others who have been in "conference" with the Chief. In all, Tvietmoe met six men. Among them were Johannsen, Morton and a man named Hay. The seven went to an upper private room where they discussed their own affairs.

The attitude of the unionite bosses here is one of martyrdom. One of the biggest bosses is quoted as saying that he will never respond to a subpoena to Los Angeles until the people of San Francisco have received assurances from the people of Los Angeles that witnesses subpoenaed will not be arrested when they reach Los Angeles.

Of course the process of the Los Angeles courts will be served here and the power of the Los Angeles courts will be invoked to secure the attendance of all witnesses.

"No one who is without guilt need fear a Los Angeles grand jury subpoena," said Rogers tonight. "We want to punish the guilty persons only and no one is to be arrested or indicted against whom there is no evidence of guilt. The subpoenas will be served and the witnesses will attend. Those who are to respond to them exhibit suspicious alarms."

ROGERS HAS PAPERS.

When Rogers arrived this morning he went into a conference with Chief Seymour but did not turn the subpoenas over to the police department. This was because the list of those wanted in San Francisco has not been fully determined and also because many witnesses do not live within the jurisdiction of the San Francisco police force.

Notwithstanding this, it is understood tonight that four witnesses have been served and will report in Los Angeles on dates fixed to appear before the grand jury. Others will be served tomorrow.

Reports from the union headquarters affirm the dread in which the bosses sit. Many things are reported showing that they are counselling as to what resistance they shall make to the process of the Los Angeles courts and how martyrdom may be gained by them. There is no real desire for voluntary immolation among them, but there are some developments that indicate that if a "goat" is needed Johannsen is likely to be pushed into that role.

It is reported that Tvietmoe has said that Johannsen used very bad judgment in bringing Schmidt to San Francisco and associating with him in union quarters. The same informant says that Johannsen actually did invite Schmidt to come to San Francisco from Chicago and that their relations have been intimate ever since.

FORMER ACQUAINTANCE.

It was, in fact, a mere continuance of former intimacy, for Johannsen had known Schmidt in Chicago and knew that he had slugged a union carpenter in trouble between two unions there. Johannsen also has stated that he knew Schmidt worked in an El Paso sash and door mill and that Schmidt

RED TACTICS.

DEATH THREATS SENT FIVE GRAND JURORS.

Warned Against Fastening Dynamite Outrage Upon the Labor Unions or Officials--Labor Temple May Be Source. Watching in Mexico.

LETTERS threatening death and other dire things in the event that the dynamiting and burning of the Times Building are fastened upon the officials of organized labor, have been received by five members of the grand jury. The matter has been reported to the Sheriff's office, and to Assistant District Attorney McComas, who will have charge of the grand jury inquiry, and a sharp search for the writers of the anonymous epistles is promised.

That the various letters were mailed by the same person is the contention of the attaches of the Sheriff's office. The same phrases, and with few exceptions the same threats of injury and death are in all. The penmanship in each instance is crude, and of a type that would put a primary school pupil to shame. On some of the letters are skulls and cross-bones, and some contain the crude hieroglyphics often found in black hand warnings of death and disaster.

That the penned mutterings were conceived by unionites who make the Labor Temple their rendezvous is the belief of Sheriff's Hammel's deputies. The letters all bear the post-mark of Station C, which is but a short distance from the Labor Temple. Every letter of a threatening nature local men in public life have received since the Times Building was dynamited, was posted at Station C, and the police are inclined to believe that a bureau is maintained by the unionites for that purpose. It is supposed that the writers are on the pay-roll of the union strikers, and are employed to cast their baneful influences over local judges, and county and city officials interested in enforcing the laws.

Twenty subpoenas were issued yesterday by Assistant District Attorney McComas for service on local residents who have knowledge of the Times Building disaster. It is not believed that there are any in this batch whose testimony will be of material importance in locating the dynamiters, or unearthing the plot. It is supposed their testimony will be used only to lay a foundation for the subsequent investigation, by legally establishing the fact that the Times Building was destroyed by dynamite, and twenty-one workingmen killed.

While the wheels of justice as represented by the grand jury will start today grinding the evidence that will prove beyond a shadow of doubt that union dastards were responsible for the Times Building horror, no sensational facts are expected until Attorney Rogers and Detective Browne of the District Attorney's office, arrive from San Francisco, with the two-score witnesses they have been rounding up for several days. It is believed that officials high in the councils of union labor will be among the number subpoenaed.

Early this morning the local police had not received an answer to the telegram sent to the port of Acapulco, Mex., advising the arrest of the three suspects aboard the Pacific Mail liner San Juan, which left San Francisco several days ago. The men, according to the Mexican authorities, tally in every respect with the trio—Schmidt, Caplan, and Bryce—wanted for the dynamiting plot. One is understood to have a "cock-eye," which is a distinguishing feature of "Schmitz." The men have been under the surveillance of the officers of the steamer since leaving San Benito, Mex. Capt. Flammer has wired proofs of identification of the men wanted, and if they compare favorably, the suspects will be arrested and brought back to California.

MORE DEAD THAN ALIVE WHEN FOUND AFTER PASSING OF BIG HURRICANE.

VESSEL FORCED TO TOW SHIP FOR WEEK BECAUSE OF OLD MAN'S WILL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Capt. E. E. Walls of the lumber schooner Hollswood, owned by Pendleton Bros., of New York, and bound from New York for New Orleans with 812,000 feet of cypress lumber, was brought into port this afternoon by the steamship Parkwood, Capt. Falconer, Trinidad to Galveston.

The Parkwood found the derelict with its lone sailor off the Campechy coast, and the old man, more dead than alive, fought to remain with the dismantled schooner after he had been revived with stimulants.

The Hollswood was found at noon on Thursday, October 20, and for three days and nights Capt. Walls, who is 55 years old, had eaten nothing and drank only salt water.

"It was hell during the hurricane which we fought for nearly four days from Friday, October 14, to Monday, October 17, when the steamship Harold took off my seven men and dog," said Capt. Walls, "but it was worse than hell for me to be tossed about like a cork for three days and nights until the Parkwood picked me up on Thursday, October 20, at noon."

"I did not want to tow the schooner and 700,000 feet of lumber for a week, but the old man wouldn't leave her so we undertook the task," said Capt. Falconer of the Parkwood. "I never thought he would live but he is all right."

HOUSES SWEPT ON THE CREST OF TIDAL WAVE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TAMPA (Fla.) Oct. 26.—Further details of last week's hurricane ravages in a portion of the Everglades and "ten thousand islands" section of Southern Florida, indicates that many square miles of land was inundated by a tidal wave of tremendous force.

The captain of the Everglades schooner Eureka said today that the tide during one period of the storm rose twelve feet in an hour. This inrush in many cases swept inhabited points bare, depositing houses, household goods and food in inaccessible swamps. A few cabins which were swept inland on the crest of the wave were carried out to sea with its outflow. The outrush of water was even more dangerous than its inflow for it often traveled with millrace force, carrying its victims straight toward the open sea.

Supplies for the destitute, who are said to number hundreds, were rushed today aboard the Eureka. There are no new figures here on the number of dead, which is said to be at least twenty.

TURNED DOWN.

PHOENIX EMPLOYERS REBUKE THE UNIONS.

Seventeen Firms Advocate Open-Shop Principle, Combat Efforts of Walking-Disturbers and Ask Moral Support of Sentiment Which Has Built Capital.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For several months past a vigorous effort has been made to unionize the mechanics and laboring men of Phoenix, which was said to be a rich field for the walking delegates.

As a result, half a dozen or more new unions have been formed and have submitted demands to their employers. The wages, hours, and treatment generally seem to have been satisfactory, but various points of management of the men have been objected to and warning has been given that the union rules must be observed, including the closed shop.

To their demands a sharp answer has just been given the organizations by the Phoenix Merchants and Manufacturers' Protective Association, which, in the first day's roll, shows seventeen builders and building firms, three plastering contractors, three employing painters, five electrical equipment firms and one foundry. All have signed the following announcement:

"Believing the closed shop principle, as maintained by labor unions would prove inimical to the best interests of this city, we the undersigned employers and contractors, hereby announce that from this time we will maintain and adhere to the open shop, asking the moral support of the entire community."

T. L. Edna was elected president, Clinton Campbell, vice-president, Claude Sisson, treasurer, and H. J. Tilley, secretary. The members explain that they fear a repetition of the conditions that have beset San Francisco.

Phoenix has been prosperous under old conditions, the employers believe it will continue to be if the old conditions are maintained. Busy contractors insist that they are paying good wages for reasonable hours of work and are hiring all who seek work under prevailing conditions, without rebuking their affiliation with labor unions.

Today it was announced that an association had been formed of employing printers who have organized "for the purpose of mutual protection and, while it is not the purpose of the organization to attack the organized printers or bookbinders it is known that their demands have been received with poor grace by the employers. The membership includes the Arizona Republican, The Arizona Gazette, McNeil Company, the Phoenix Printing Company and the Arizona State Press. These include nearly all of the printing and binding companies in Phoenix.

DONE IN NIGHT.

VIOLENT EXPLOSION IN PASADENA FOUNDRY.

Plant Greatly Damaged by Blow-up in Cupola, Which Puts Moulding and Casting Departments Temporarily Out of Business.

PASADENA, Oct. 27.—The plant of the Pasadena Foundry Company was greatly damaged by an explosion of exceeding violence which took place at 10:30 o'clock last night.

The center of the terrific force was in the cupola in the upper part of the building, whic his located on South Broadway between Bellevue and Center streets. The tuyere iron three-fourths of an inch thick, was so utterly shattered that it was hard to find pieces of it afterward.

The actual damage of the establishment was not great. C. Z. Wishart, the owner, said that the cost of replacing the destroyed parts will probably not cost over $200. To this loss will be added that of the delay in work caused by the moulding and casting departments being temporarily out of business. Mr. Wishart thought it would take only two or three days to put the establishment in working order again.

No one was near, so far as has been learned, when the explosion occurred, and little evidence has been gathered as yet to show that the explosive was set off with malicious intent.

The plant furnishes employment for about twenty-five men. Some time ago when the owner declined to yield to what he considered unjust demands of the unions his place was picketed but lately the picketing had apparently ceased. He had lately had no direct trouble with the unions.

UNIONITES BLIGHT PAINT JOB.

Vandals Squirt Black Mixture Over Building of Company Which Hires Independents.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO (Ill.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despicable spite work, in connection with labor troubles, are responsible for vandalism at the factory of the O. A. Kochs Company, some time last night or early this morning. Over the freshly painted brick walls of the building, to a height of twelve feet, the persons responsible squirted jets of black paint in all sorts of curves and twists and cabalistic signs. On three sides of the building the hieroglyphics were painted.

The police of the East Chicago Avenue Station said today that they had not been notified of the occurrence by either members of the company or the policeman on that beat.

The job was done as a result of hiring non-union labor. The contractor admitted that he paid no attention to the standing of his men with regard to unionism so long as they were competent.

VICTORY.

HAWLEY AND POST SAFE.

Aeronauts Land In Canadian Wilds.

DARING BALLOONISTS ESTABLISH NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR SUSTAINED FLIGHT.

TRAVEL THIRTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILES FROM ST. LOUIS.

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF TRIP IS GIVEN--WEEK SPENT GETTING TO TELEGRAPH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, the aeronauts of the balloon America II, for whom search had been prosecuted in the Canadian wilds, are safe and have established a new world's record for sustained flight.

They traveled approximately 1350 miles, and came to earth in Chicoutimi county, Quebec, Wednesday, October 19, but were not heard from until today, when telegrams sent from St. Ambroise, Quebec, reached New York.

The balloonists started from St. Louis with nine other contestants in the international contest, October 17. All the other balloons have been reported.

TWO MESSAGES RECEIVED.

Two messages from Hawley and Post were received in New York early today. One was to William Hawley, brother of the aeronaut; the other to Samuel F. Perkins, pilot of the balloon Dusseldorf II, which until tonight had been considered the winner.

The message to Mr. Hawley read:

"Landed in wilderness week ago, fifty miles north of Chicoutimi. Both well—Alan."

The Perkins message ran:

"Landed Paribonka River, north Lake Chilogana, 19th. All well; returning—Hawley, Post."

With receipt of the news there ended a search which had come to be regarded by many as almost hopeless, and in which the governments of this country and Canada were participating.

GENEROUS CONGRATULATIONS.

Young Perkins, who accompanied Lieut. Hans Gericke, in the Dusseldorf II, conceded as soon as he received the telegram from Hawley and Post that he and the German had lost first place to the New Yorkers. Perkins had estimated the distance traveled by the Dusseldorf II at 1240 miles. He was overjoyed at hearing from his long-lost rivals and quickly dispatched this message of congratulation to Hawley and Post:

"Indications are that you have broken the world's record for sustained flight in a balloon. Please accept my sincerest congratulations on your skill. You are the only ones I would be glad to see win outside myself. I know from my own experience what you must have risked to make such a trip."

William Hawley shouted with elation when he heard of his brother's success and safety. For a week he had been under constant strain and had been in hourly communication with points in Canada from which he hoped to receive news of the landing. He had sent J. H. Pope and Edmund Stratton to Ottawa to carry on the search, but he notified them tonight of the happy ending.

The new record established by Hawley and Post is unofficially estimated at 1350 miles. Only this year Count Odensoff, of Russia, claimed to have flown 1234 miles in forty hours, but the figures were not officially verified.

If the estimated distances are made official, the long-standing record of Count de la Vaulx of 1193 miles, made in 1900 in a flight from France to Siberia, has been broken by at least three of the contestants in the recent race—the America II, the Dusseldorf II and the Germania.

POST, GIVES GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF TRIP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICOUTIMI (Que.) Oct. 26.—Thoroughly fatigued, and showing plentiful marks of an arduous week of struggling through the dense wilderness of northern Canada, Alan W. Hawley and Augustus Post, the insatiable aeronauts, who, according to available data, sailed the America II, 123 miles farther than any other contestants in the big balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett cup, arrived here this evening.

They had landed at 3:45 p.m., Wednesday afternoon, October 19, 1500 feet up on the face of an unnamed mountain, which, as nearly as they could reckon, lies about fifty-eight miles north of Chicoutimi, and about eight miles north of Lake Tshishtigama. They had been involved in a snowstorm, accompanied by a change in the wind to a more northerly direction from that which heretofore bade fair to carry them to the Labrador coast. The adverse conditions compelled them to land, much against their wished. Landing was effected easily, and the balloon was left in good condition.

REGISTERED MAIL LOST.

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) Oct. 26.—It was learned today that a registered mail pouch destined to San Francisco, was lost on Burlington train No. 15, which left Chicago, Monday. The loss was discovered when the mail transfer was being made here to a westbound train, but the fact was not made public at the time. The value of the pouch is unknown. Secret Service men have been put to work on the case.

POLITICAL.

APOLOGY? NO, SAYS COLONEL.

REPEATS HIS CHARGES AGAINST CANDIDATE DIX.

SAYS RECORDS WILL PROVE TRUST CONNECTIONS.

ALTON B. PARKER LISTENS TO MAN WHO BEAT HIM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OGDENSBURG (N. Y.) Oct. 26.—John A. Dix, Democratic candidate for Governor, came in for some rather hard knocks from ex-President Roosevelt today.

Col. Roosevelt carried his attack on Mr. Dix a point further today by asserting that the records of the Secretary of State at Albany proved that the Standard Wall Paper Company, with which Dix is connected, was virtually identical with the concern of the same name which went out of existence in 1903, and which it is claimed was a part of the wall paper trust.

The people of nine Northern New York towns gave the colonel a cordial reception today. His reception here tonight was the liveliest he has had in the campaign.

Alton B. Parker, who is campaigning for Mr. Dix, happened into Richland just as Col. Roosevelt was attacking Mr. Dix in a speech at the railway station.

"I think I'll go down and hear him," said Mr. Parker, and he walked toward the crowd and stopped within about fifty feet of the man who defeated him for the Presidency, and listened.

"I say, colonel, Judge Parker can't hear," some one in the crowd shouted.

The colonel stopped talking for a moment and looked around, but did not see Mr. Parker. The latter turned away and walked into the station.

PARKER RAPS ROOSEVELT.

PUTS THE COLONEL IN HIS OWN ANANIAS CLUB.

Former Democratic Presidential Candidate, Defeated by Man He Attacks, Says Dix Wouldn't Upset Business as T. R. Did—Quotes Commandments.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OSWEGO (N. Y.) Oct. 26.—Judge Alton B. Parker in a political speech here tonight referred at length to Col. Roosevelt's remarks concerning "the alleged political circular, alleged to have been mailed by somebody in Tammany Hall to some alleged person in Wall Street."

He said, in part:

"The Colonel is unnecessarily disturbed. He would make a legitimate appeal for the funds needed for the legitimate expenditures of a campaign, 'the issue of the hour,' a 'vital issue,' as he puts it.'

"No, that won't do. Nobody will take that seriously. Everybody knows by this time that the Democratic party in this fight stands for tranquility and business peace, and is opposed to the wild doctrines of Roosevelt which would unsettle values, disturb business and renew the panic from which the country suffered during his administration. That is the fact, the truth. Is the Colonel such a stranger to truth that he does not know it when he meets it?"

Speaking of the charge that Mr. Dix, Democratic candidate for Governor, was connected with the wall paper trust, Judge Parker said:

"Mr. Dix asks for an apology from his detractor. Will he get it? No. The Colonel will continue to steal away the good name of Mr. Dix.

"With the same disregard for fact, the Colonel has declared that the Democratic party of Connecticut has nominated for Governor a former judge (Simon E. Baldwin), who was a man who took the view that it was competent for the workman, when driven to accept any employment, to bind himself not to be compensated if he lost life or limb in that occupation.

"Let me commend to Mr. Roosevelt's serious consideration A single thought, 'thou shalt not steal' was only one command that was thundered from the Mount. There was another just as plain, just as clear, just as emphatic, which was this, 'thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'"

CRAFT'S TRIP IS EVENTFUL.

Captain Is Relieved When British Ship Makes Boston From East With Rich Cargo.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—The $2,500,000 worth of products of the far East which the British steamer Kaisenga has just brought to this port, were carried across the seas amid many perils.

The Kaisenga's trouble began on July 17 last, when she was four days out from Colombo, for New York. The steamer ran into a monsoon on that day and simultaneously the crew had to fight fire which had broken out in a bunker. Before the blaze was subdued it had done damage estimated at $15,000.

The Kaisenga rode out the storm safely. A coral reef then brought trouble, the steamer scraping over it on Aug. 8 between Singapore and Kobe, but managed to work off without serious damage.

Hardly had the steamer left Calcutta on Sept. 7 for Boston than she ran down and sunk a native fishing schooner. There were no casualties.

Backing away from the schooner, the steamer landed on a mud bank. The rising tide released her.

While the steamer was loading tea and rubber at Colombo, the British steamer Janus, in preparing to sail parted her sternlines and ran against the Kaisenga, nearly pushing her into the sea wall, but doing little damage.

An Arab fireman, crazed by the heat of the fire room, rushed on deck while the steamer was passing through the Red Sea, and jumped overboard. He was not seen again.

Half way across the Atlantic there was another suicide, a pet monkey belonging to one of the officers leaping into the sea.

The remainder of the voyage was unexciting, but Capt. Debbs appeared unusually glad to make port.

BIG DEAL PENDING.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company Negotiating for Lease of Western Power Company.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Negotiations are pending for a change of control of the Western Power Company to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company from Edwin Hawley and associates.

Mr. Hawley is president of the company, which has $17,220,000 stock outstanding, of which $12,000,000 is common.

The deal provides for the leasing of the power company by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for ninety-nine years, the proposed new interests to guarantee dividends on the common shares of the power company, beginning in 1912, at the rate of 2 1-2 per cent., 3 per cent. in 1913; an annual increase of 1-2 per cent. until the rate reaches 7 per cent.

The Great Western Power Company, which also is under Hawley's control and owns land and water rights in Northern California, figures in the project. The lease, if consummated, will become effective January 1, 1911.

LA FOLLETTE GOES HOME.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ROCHESTER (Minn.) Oct. 26.—Senator and Mrs. Robert La Follette left Rochester today for Madison, Wis., their home. Senator La Follette has completely recovered from his recent surgical operation.

WHY BACON IS HIGH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—In the face of a steady decline in the price of hogs and the corn on which they are fed, Chicagoans who desired to eat bacon yesterday discovered that they were compelled to pay the highest price ever obtained for the salt meat in times of peace, 25 cents a pound, sliced. If the housewife was willing to cut it up herself, she might have reduced this figure to three pounds for $1, but that was the best she could do. It was up, and to all appearances, would stay at this record-smashing figure for some months. The sole reason for this situation, according to C. W. Foster, veteran provision dealer, lies in the shortage of bacon-producing hogs. No matter what the facts might seem to indicate, said he, the difficulty lies in the inability of the packers to buy porkers. This situation, he said, would be changed in the interest of the public and lower prices just as soon as a new yield of hogs could be produced from the cheaper corn.

CHICAGO FACES COAL FAMINE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Chicago is facing a serious coal famine, according to opinions of coal operators. The supply coming to the city now is said to be about equal to the demand. Shortage of cars on the railroads is held responsible for the present condition. The Indiana coal fields were practically idle yesterday, though the demand for coal is such that the mines could all be worked to their full capacity. Indiana coal operators are coming here tomorrow for a conference with railroad officials to see if there is a way of relieving the situation. Many of the mines in Illinois are not working to their full capacity because there is not a sufficient supply of cars to haul the coal to market. On account of the strike in the Illinois coal fields all summer which kept the supply down to actual demand, buyers were unable to stock up their yards, as has been the custom in past years.

TOPEKA MAYOR IN HOT WATER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 26.—A meeting of citizens to protest against the interviews and actions of Mayor Billard, and to discuss a recall election, has been called here for next Friday night. A committee of fifty business men, ministers and professional men, issued the call for the gathering. Objection to Mayor Billard is based on an interview recently credited to him in which he was quoted as saying 90 per cent. of the residents of the city of Topeka drank and that prohibition was productive of low real estate rentals, and prices, and injured business. W. J. Rickenbacher, a business man, is chairman of the committee which is arranging the meeting. It will be open to every one.

MILLION IN GOLD IN STREET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—A score of messengers from every bank that is a member of the clearing house here, walked across the city yesterday and bore to the vaults of the Fidelity Trust Company $1,000,000 in gold. Not until after the transfer had been made did anyone other than several bank employees know that a fortune was being moved. The gold was transferred to the vaults of the bank for the use of the Kansas City Clearing Association. This organization becomes trustee of the coin, issuing for it $5000 and $10,000 certificates which the banks may tender in payment of daily clearing house debts. Heretofore the coin has been sent daily by each bank to the offices of the clearing house.

WHITE WINGS SPREAD.

HOXSEY SOARS INTO CLOUDS.

REACHES AN ALTITUDE ABOVE SIX THOUSAND FEET.

AUBRUN EASILY CAPTURES CROSS-COUNTRY EVENT.

TWELVE AEROPLANES SEEN IN AIR AT ONE TIME.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—When dusk began to settle on the aviation field at Belmont Park this afternoon, there were twelve aeroplanes in the air at once, and when night shut down two of them were still flying. It was by the dim glow of the stars that the two aviators, Hoxsey and Johnstone, were at last sighted. Both alighted safely in midfield.

"I don't know how high I was," said Johnstone, "but if I wasn't higher up than Hoxsey, I'll never trust a barograph again. I stayed up there till I saw him start down and then I stayed up some more to make sure twice."

But he was mistaken. His barograph registered only 5763 feet, against 6173 for Hoxsey.

In a cross-country race to a captive balloon ten miles east of the course, and return, four aviators started. Latham, in a fifty-horse-power Antoinette, was the first to cross the line. Aubrun followed him and after Aubrun, Drexel and Le Blanc, captain of the French team, both in Bleriots.

Aubrun won in 28m. 8.75s. Latham's speed down the wind was prodigious. The timer at the balloon reported he covered the ten miles and passed the mark outbound in eight minutes. Later records showed that Aubrun did the same distance in seven minutes. The figures are unofficial.

Eight men went out for distance. Brookins, driving the baby Wright racer, made up all the distance he had lost in starting late and soon led the field by two laps. It was the first chance there had been to measure the possibilities of the Wright speeder in competition, and the stands were delighted to see him lap his rivals repeatedly.

Brookins dropped out for no apparent reason and left first place safe for Latham, who had no trouble in lapping Parmelee's standard Wright biplane.

Summaries:

Special hourly distance event: Won by Latham, (Antoinette) 17 laps, 36m. 22 2-5s.; second, Parmelee, (Wright) 16 laps, 57m. 37s.; third, Brookins, (Wright) 12 laps, 22m. 40s.

Special altitude events: Won by Hoxsey, (Wright) 6183 feet; second, Johnstone, (Wright) 5763 feet; third, De Lesseps (Bleriot) 2549.

Cross country, distance twenty miles: Won by Aubrun, (Bleriot) 28m. 8.75s.; second, Latham, (Antoinette) 32m. 17.71s.; third, Drexel, (Bleriot) 43m. 7.75s.

Standing to date in the prize money: Hoxsey, $1825; Grahame-White, $1700; Moissant, $1200; Latham, $1150; Johnstone, $875; Drexel, $800; de Lesseps, $650; Aubrun, $650; Radley, $500; Brookins, $150; Ely, $100; Mars, $100; McCurdy, $50; Willard, $50.

KNIGHTS RESCUE WOMAN.

Tacoma Organization Provides for Destitute Mother and Children in Dire Straits.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Elisabeth Budinich, who declares she is a lineal descendant of the kings of Ireland, will no longer suffer the pangs of poverty nor keep her children out of school from lack of clothing. The Knights of Columbus last night voted funds for her assistance. She and her family were taken under the protection of the Knights living in St. Patrick's parish, where Mrs. Budinich resides.

Mrs. Budinich was to have appeared in court today to show cause why her children should not be taken away because of her inability to support them. Instead, a committee of Knights of Columbus appeared and told the court of their intervention.

Mrs. Budinich says she comes from the famous Brian family of Ireland, which traces its ancestry back to Brian Boru. The family was worth $50,000 or more ten years ago when Mrs. Budinich's husband was the leader of Tacoma's Slavonian colony, and furnished laborers for the railroads. The husband entered several mining deals, was an invalid two years before dying, and left a mortgage on the home.

DYNAMITERS.

never did work in Cleveland. Knowing that Schmidt was shiftless, that notwithstanding his lack of industry, he still always had plenty of money and that he was not a member of any union in the west (so Johannsen said,) the dynamiter was still treated as a friend and companion in union quarters.

That is why Tveitmoe is censuring Johannsen's judgment.

The chain of connection between Schmidt and Tvietmoe is all through Johannsen, just as it is between Caplan and Tvietmoe. Johannsen is the close friend of all and he now states that because he is, he wants to clear up the whole situation and aid in the capture of Schmidt. He has stated that he does not believe Schmidt is implicated, although he admits his flight is a serious blow to this belief.

Neither Johannsen nor Tvietmoe will admit that they ever met Bryce. Both say they never heard of him until after the explosion.

Johannsen has also admitted that he knew Schmidt went to Los Angeles in July and spent ten days there looking for work, which he did not find. Schmidt was advised to come by George Faulks. Johannsen said, who was a man Schmidt had worked for in Chicago.

KNOWS EMMA GOLDMAN.

That Johannsen knew the arch reds, Emma Goldman and Lucia Parsons, was also another admission Johannsen has made, although he declared he had opposed their views as to violence and had taken the platform against the Goldman woman.

Now it happens that a woman who said she was the widow of one of the Chicago anarchists lived for a time at the Morton house. She is supposed to have been Lucia Parsons, widow of A. R. Parsons, who was hanged for participation in the Haymarket riots of 1886 in Chicago. She was peddling his life and works among unionites here and Johannsen said she had sought his indorsement, but had been refused.

On the whole the statements of Tvietmoe, Morton and Johannsen show a close relationship between them all and Schmidt. They show that the dynamiter was a frequent visitor at the rooms of the Asiatic Exclusion League, where Morton had been employed writing newspaper articles until he wrote one that was regarded as injurious. These relations have been admitted to Chief Seymour and the only apology is that not one of the men knew that Schmidt had any criminal ideas or any confederates. If that is the case, reluctance to respond to Los Angeles grand jury subpoenas becomes something of a mystery.

GOOD LIN EON BRYCE.

J. B. Bryce, one of the dynamite suspects is now known to have arrived in San Francisco, August 19, when he registered at the Argonaut Hotel from Seattle. He stayed until August 27, when he left and returned again, September 4.

On August 26, he sent three telephone calls from his room, all to a number recorded at the hotel as M. 1806. The M can stand for but two districts, Market or Mission.

The Mission 1806 is the number of Miss Hilda La Pira's home at South San Francisco. No one there has any knowledge of any Argonaut Hotel guest.

Market 1806 is the number of the Building Trades Council, where Anton Johannsen and Olaf Tvietmoe make their headquarters.

MEXICO OFFICALS SAY NO ARRESTS YET MADE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26.—The authorities of the Pacific Coast cities of Mexico have been furnished with the descriptions of three men, who it is believed, by the authorities in Washington, were implicated in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting, but at a late hour officials of the foreign office said no arrests had been made.

Foreign Minister Creel said he had received no information from any port where a ship carrying the suspects would enter. He said Washington had asked the authorities in Mexico to assist the American government in trying to apprehend the men who are under suspicion, and that the request would be granted.

Minister Creel said that he would undoubtedly be notified immediately if any arrests were made.

STATE DEPARTMEN HAS NOT HEARD OF ARRESTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to Assistant Secretary of State Adee nothing has been heard yet of any arrest at Acapulco in connection with the Los Angeles Times dynamiting.

He intimated that on receipt of such news Gov. Gillett would be immediately notified and that the State Department would be disposed to look on the matter as confidential, because of the question of extradition being involved.

The first authentic news, therefore, may be expected from Gov. Gillett.

"There have been various contradictory rumors," says Assistant Secretary Adee, "regarding a vessel which has had its name changed heading for some indefinite place but the department is very much in the dark concerning it."

Should arrests be made, another official of the department says, extradition papers will have to come here and then be forwarded to Mexico but it is expected that the matter would be expedited as much as possible.

NO DIRECT COMMUNICATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—An official of the State Department tonight said there had been no direct communication between the department and the California officials relating to the supposed arrest in Mexico of the suspects in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case.

It was regarded as probable, however, that there had been communication in the matter between the authorities and Consul Brickwood at Tapachula, Mex. No report from Consul Brickwood has reached Washington.

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint of warm water, and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guiaicol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Boiler Explosion on Haytian Gunboat at Sea—Ten Army Officers Among Missing.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORT AU PRINCE (Hayti) Oct. 26. The Haytian gunboat, Liberte, has been lost at sea, off Port de Paix, following an explosion on board. It is estimated that seventy persons were either killed or drowned.

News of the accident was received here today. The Liberte sailed from this port on Monday last, having on board ninety persons. So far as known only twenty of these escaped.

Among the seventy who were lost were ten Haytian generals, who were on their way to take command of the several divisions of troops in the Department of the North.

Details are lacking, the only definite information being as to the loss of life and the fact that an explosion occurred.

Kansas Congressional Candidate Says Relationship Does Not Warp His Views.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank Rockefeller, who is a Democratic candidate for Congress for the Sixth District, has been attacked because of his relationship with John D. Rockefeller. Mr. Rockefeller, the Kansan, is a first cousin of the oil magnate. They are friendly but not on intimate terms.

"Some of the Republican papers in my district," said Mr. Rockefeller. "fear that my relationship to John D., may warp my views as a Congressman. They forget that my legislative record proves that my campaign promises are good. I do not think John D. knows that I am running and I know he dosen't care. When he wants Congress to do anything he has generally got what he wanted without electing any of his family to office to help him."

NEGRO GETS HIGH JOB.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—President Taft, it was stated today, has decided to appoint a negro to the highest office in an executive branch of the Government ever held by a member of that race. William H. Lewis, at present an Assistant District Attorney in Boston, is to be made an Assistant Attorney General of the United States. The appointment has been agreed upon by the President and Attorney-General Wickersham. Lewis is a graduate of Amherst and Harvard and played on the Harvard football team as center rush. He won the reputation of being one of the best players in that position that Harvard ever had.

INITIATIVE, REFERENDUM AND RECALL TO COME UP.

SQUABBLE EXPECTED AS RADICALS DEMAND ALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow the Constitutional Convention, in committee of the whole, is expected to tackle the initiative, referendum and recall. It is understood the committee has left the various percentages blank and has recommended that counties be not embraced in the scheme at all. There will be a likely squabble over the percentages, as the radicals want them so low that any bunch of voters may call an election. They will demand also counties and municipalities be included in the scheme.

Friday afternoon the convention will take up the matter of separate submission of a prohibition plank, and will hear arguments on both sides. This is expected to develop the first real oratory of the session, and there is doubt if a single afternoon will hold it all. The opponents of the measure have been supplying delegates with copies of an eastern magazine, in which is an article that claimed to show that prohibition is a failure in Oklahoma.

Today a telegram was received for submission to the convention, from Gov. C. N. Haskell of Oklahoma, in which was said the magazine article was "so utterly false and from such an unreliable source as to be unworthy of belief in any particular. The vote November 8 will show you that our good people stand by prohibition in any judgment."

The question concerning the boundary line of Arizona, near Yuma, seems to have been settled by the Convention, which will simply accept the boundary of the Colorado River. It has been found that California in her own Constitution has fixed the boundary as being down the channel of the Colorado River to the line between the United States and Mexico. So Arizona will retain that which California has not claimed.

Webb of Graham introduced a proposition that no railroad shall consolidate its stock, property or franchises with any other railroad corporation owning a competing line. Rolling stock, especially, is made personal property. Wells of Yavapai, Republican, had a similar proposition, adding prohibition of any discrimination in freight rates and establishing the right of the State to control common carriers. A proposition was also made that property be taxed according to its cash value, prohibiting exemption from taxation of the property of corporations, providing for municipal improvements under an assessment plan and limiting municipal indebtedness to 4 per cent.

Judge E. M. Lewis, of the Supreme Court, approached the convention from the off side in a letter which asked the members to read a speech of Alexander Hamilton in favor of the appointment of judges rather than their election. As four-fifths of the convention strength is Democratic, the communication was promptly shunted, without remarks, to the Rivers and Harbors Committee, probably to be drowned.

Propositions introduced today about which interest centered were the proposed declaration of rights, introduced by F. L. Ingraham of Yuma, which makes the "third degree" a crime, and that of S. B. Bradner of Cochise, prohibiting the assessment of office holders for campaign contributions.

ARIZONANS DUE TO TACKLE THE FREAKS TODAY.

INITIATIVE, REFERENDUM AND RECALL TO COME UP.

SQUABBLE EXPECTED AS RADICALS DEMAND ALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow the Constitutional Convention, in committee of the whole, is expected to tackle the initiative, referendum and recall. It is understood the committee has left the various percentages blank and has recommended that counties be not empowered in the scheme at all. There will be a likely squabble over the percentages, as the radicals want them so low that any bunch of voters may call an election. They will demand also counties and municipalities be included in the scheme.

Friday afternoon the convention will take up the matter of separate submission of a prohibition plank, and will hear arguments on both sides. This is expected to develop the first real oratory of the session, and there is doubt if a single afternoon will hold it all. The opponents of the measure have been supplying delegates with copies of an eastern magazine, in which is an article that claimed to show that prohibition is a failure in Oklahoma.

Today a telegram was received for admission to the convention, from Hon. C. N. Haskell of Oklahoma, in which was said the magazine article was "so utterly false and from such an available source as to be unworthy of belief in any particular. The vote November 8 will show you that our good people stand by prohibition, in their judgment."

The question concerning the boundary line of Arizona, near Yuma, seems to have been settled by the Convention, which will simply accept the boundary of the Colorado River. It has been found that California in her new Constitution has fixed the boundary as being down the channel of the Colorado River to the line between the United States and Mexico. So Arizona will retain that which California is not claimed.

Delegate Graham introduced a proposition that no railroad shall consolidate its stock, property or franchises with any other railroad corporation doing a competing line. Rolling stock, especially, is made personal property. Wells of Yavapai, Republican, had a similar proposition, adding a prohibition of any discrimination in freight rates and establishing the right of the State to control common carriers. A proposition was also made that property be taxed according to its cash value, prohibiting exemption and taxation of the property of corporations, providing for municipal improvements under an assessment plan and limiting municipal indebtedness to 4 per cent.

Judge E. M. Lewis, of the Supreme Court, approached the convention hall the other day in a letter which advised the members to read a speech of Alexander Hamilton in favor of the appointment of judges rather than their election. As four-fifths of the convention strength is Democratic, the communication was promptly ignored, without remarks, to the Rivers and Harbors Committee, presumably to be drowned.

Propositions introduced today about which interest centered were the proposed declaration of rights, introduced by R. L. Ingraham of Yuma, which would ban the "third degree" a crime, and one by R. B. Bradner of Cochise, prohibiting the assessment of office holders for campaign contributions.

HAVE NOVEL PLAN FOR CORPORATION CONTROL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) Oct. 26.—The Committee on Corporations of the New Mexico Constitutional Convention reported today a unique safeguard against delay in the enforcement of orders of the State Corporation Commission. The plan originated with H. B. Holt, chairman of the committee and chairman of the State Republican Committee.

By its provisions, if any person or corporation affected by an order of the commission falls to appeal to the Supreme Court of the State, the order and accompanying documentary evidence shall be at once submitted to the Supreme Court to be affirmed. The case is to be considered always in order for that purpose and must have the consideration of the order before all other cases. If the order is found in order, it is to be sent back to the commission for corroboration and then affirmed. Thus a legal precedent of the highest tribunal of the State is established and delay can be caused by subsequent appeals.

The commission is to consist of three members and will have a wide range of power, from chartering all corporations to rate making for common carriers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ASTORIA (Or.) Oct. 26.—The American barkentine Jane L. Stanford, with a cargo of 1,100,000 feet of lumber, cleared for Brisbane, Australia, arrived today in distress and with 4 feet of water in her hold. The master, Capt. Robert Peterson, his wife and child, and crew of twelve, were safe on board. She left Gray's Harbor yesterday forenoon for Brisbane. In tow of the bar tug Cudahy. In crossing the bar she struck several times, but not hard enough to alarm the captain. After dropping the tug, Capt. Peterson found the ship leaking. It is expected the Stanford will be sent to Portland for repairs.

"Poor Man's Chance" in Alaskan Gold Fields Ends—Capital Is Needed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SEATTLE, Oct. 26.—The steamship Umatilla arrived from Nome today with 511 passengers and $250,000 in bullion and will be followed closely by the steamships Victoria and Northwestern, each carrying gold and a heavy passenger list.

The exodus from Nome marks the end of the romantic period of the famous gold camp's history. In the summer of 1900 20,000 persons were assembled on the beach at Nome, whose sands were rich in gold dust. The camp has yielded $40,000,000 in gold, and will still produce much more than that, but the rich dirt that could be worked by hand has been washed and the mining henceforth will be done by dredges owned by large corporations.

Estimates of the number of persons now in Nome range from 1000 to 1500. There are nearly 2500 men in the Inoko and Iditarod districts and several hundred in the diggings north of Nome. These are still "poor men's" camps, but Nome has gone the way of the Klondike and will transform no more laborers into millionaires.

Former Soldier, Infected in Philippines, Is Ousted From Every Place He Tarries.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three counties are trying to get rid of an unfortunate leper, Edward Fickert, a former soldier in the Philippines, and the State Board of Health has been compelled to take a hand in the controversy. Fickert contracted the disease in the Islands, returning to Stockton, where the malady was detected. He went to the Soldiers' Home at Yountville, in Napa county, where the nature of his disease was again discovered. He says he was advised to make his escape from the home.

On the train he was captured and taken to Vallejo where he was placed in quarantine. Vallejo tried to return him to the Soldiers' Home but the authorities there refused to take him, asserting that he belonged to Stockton.

The attorney for the State Board of Health has decided that he must go to Stockton and orders were issued today to that effect.

Sister of Mrs. Gustav Luders Seeks Reno Divorce; Spouse Deserted Her Sick Children.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring her husband deserted her in Denver in February, 1908, leaving her with three children ill with scarlet fever, and $5 out of $30 given him by her sister to give her, Mrs. Bertha Welchman testified today in her suit for divorce against Edward Welchman, a mechanic, formerly of New York, now in New Jersey.

The couple were married in Waterford, N. J., Oct. 5, 1898, and she last saw her husband at her father's home in Newark in December, 1908. Since the separation her sister, wife of Gustav Luders, the famous musical comedy composer, has provided her with funds, although Mrs. Luders has also separated from Luders and is now in Europe.

Mrs. Welchman is here in needy circumstances. The two women came into Reno upon a switch engine from Sparks last October in order to prevent their arrival becoming known to newspaper men. The incident created such comment that they failed in their purpose, the arrival of fashionable women in such a manner in the early morning being conspicious.

INJURY CAUSES WRANGLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 26.—Frank J. Roberts, the Mayor of Albany, a small town near the Contra Costa line, has been removed from office by his brother trustees and the people of the town are greatly aroused over the matter. Trouble started some time ago when Roberts was forced to remain away from the trustee meetings on account of an injury. Trustees A. S. Linquist and A. P. Hanscome each desired to occupy the chair during his absence, which created somewhat of a factional jealousy. G. W. Browne and Ed Cushing taking up an opposition, with the result that with the resignation of one member of the Board they came into majority and at once ousted the Mayor. Roberts continues to be a member of the Board, however.

Prominent New Yorker, Who Joins Reno Colony, Quits Washington Irving's Grand-niece.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, Oct. 26.—Among the young men of prominence in New York who quietly joined the local divorce colony last Spring was Wade Chance, well known in New York as the youthful husband of Mrs. VanRenssalaer Cruger Chance, former wife of the late Col. VanRenssalaer Cruger, comptroller of the wealthy Trinity Church corporation. Chance, who says that business interests in California have necessitated his frequent absence from Reno, filed suit for divorce today. The complaint is sealed, but it reported that age disparity is set out for cause, Chance being forty years younger than his wife, whom he married a year ago last May.

They lived together about ten months, when they agreed upon separation and he started for Nevada, arriving here last April. Mrs. Chance is a grand-niece of Washington Irving.

PETALUMA (Cal.) Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fred Stennbach, an accountant at the Petaluma National Bank, committed suicide yesterday morning, using a 22-caliber revolver. Unrequited love for a pretty miss of 17 years, it is said, led the young man to end his life.

For the last six years he held a position in the bank and his accounts are all straight. He returned to Petaluma Monday evening after a vacation of two weeks spent in Los Angeles with his mother and step-father.

The young man made his home at the residence of Dr. Stuart Peoples, and it was there that the rash act and committed. Seven years ago the young man's father ended his own life.

GOLD RUN HOTEL BURNS.

ESPEE FIRE TRAIN TOO LATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUBURN, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fire last night destroyed the Stewart Hotel at Gold Run, owned and conducted by James D. Stewart. The loss on building and contents will amount to $10,000, with little insurance. The Blue Canon fire train of the Southern Pacific was rushed to the scene, but arrived too late to do any good. Edward Gray, telegraph operator, was asleep when the fire broke out, and made his escape through flames in his night clothes. The fire started in the roof of the main structure, and had a big start before it was discovered. The building was of wood and the water supply for fire purposes was limited so that little could be done to save it.

MANY CHANGES IN EPISCOPAL CHURCH CUSTOMS.

Dean MacCormack Returns From the Cincinnati Convention—Long Debate on Proposed Change of Name, Which Is Lost by One Vote. Great Step for Unity.

Rev. William MacCormack, dean of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, returned yesterday from Cincinnati, where he had been in attendance upon the general convention of the Episcopal Church.

Dr. MacCormack noted with satisfaction and spoke with enthusiasm of the several important steps taken by the convention, as affecting the church throughout the United States. The appointment of a Commission on Christian Unity, the creation of the office of Suffragan Bishop, permission granted rectors to use the Revised Version of the Bible, the adoption of a new table of scripture lessons, and of a new supplemental hymnal, are some of the things that mark a departure from long-established custom.

"The greatest debate of the convention," said Dr. MacCormack, "was that upon the question of a change of name, which was defeated by a very close margin, and strangely enough, by the vote of the laymen. The debate occupied the greater part of three days, and it was pretty warm at times, but through it all, I never heard an unkind or acrimonious word spoken. This spirit of affectionate regard for each other was marked throughout the discussion.

"The proposition was to drop the word 'Protestant,' and call it simply 'The Episcopal Church,' which fully met my views, inasmuch as our church is commonly called by that name. The clergy gave a fair majority in favor of the change, but the laity defeated it by one vote. I have no doubt that the agitation will continue and eventually the change will be made.

"Easily the biggest thing the convention did, to my mind, was the appointment of the Commission on Christian Unity. The avowed purpose of the commission is to hold a conference to consider question of 'faith and order.' In times past, the very mention of such a discussion has been sufficient to cause some people to have cold chills, but this commission, of which Bishop Anderson of Chicago, is president, has extended an invitation to every orthodox Christian to take part in the conference, regardless of denomination. J. Pierpont Morgan, who was a delegate to the convention, promptly subscribed $100,000 toward the expenses of the conference.

"The work of many of the dioceses is too heavy for one bishop to take care of, and to meet this emergency, after careful consideration, the office of Suffragan Bishop was created. He is really an episcopal curate to assist the bishop of the diocese. The movement for a racial bishop was almost unanimously defeated, but I have an idea that the Suffragan Bishops will be taken advantage of to meet the demand in some places, for bishops of other nationalities.

"A very notable thing was the granting of permission to use the Revised Version of the Scriptures in reading the lessons, after a struggle of nearly thirty years.

"Another was the adoption of a new table of Scripture lessons, for reading in the services ,after having used the same ones for fifty years.

"Finding our hymnals did not contain many of the popular hymns that everybody had learned to like, a new hymnal was adopted, in which these are embodied. It does not supplant the present hymnal, but is rather supplemental to it, and I suppose will take the place of it to some extent in Sunday-school and some of the other services."

Dr. MacCormack says he had the pleasure of meeting Rev. J. J. Wilkins at the convention, and that he has again been made secretary of the ministerial pension fund for three years. The fund has reached about a half million dollars, and he thinks will grow much more rapidly than in the past, as the preliminary work is now done.

Dr. MacCormack noted with interest, that the convention was held in Cincinnati for the first time in sixty years, during which time the population of the United States has increased 400 per cent., and the membership of the Episcopal church has increased 1200 per cent. The House of Bishops contained 104 deputies, and the lower house, 584 clerical and lay deputies.

Remarkable Results of the Work of Healer Truth

Without Money for Those Who Wish It

338½ South Hill Street Filled Daily With Hundreds Seeking Health.

Los Angeles, the home of cults and cures and isms, has in the Truth Curative Institute one more and probably most wonderful place of them all. Noticing a crowd, the writer walks in and listens to see what it was all about. People stand around on crutches, some with ear trumpets, some with one trouble and some with another, and the most striking thing about it all was the smiling faces that we see on all sides. I listen to an old lady standing at my left. Says she, "Oh, yes, I am about well now. I have been here only three times to get rid of rheumatism and I walked here today from my home about two miles away." Walking into a long waiting room the writer sat down beside a gentleman and quietly asked him if he was getting any better. His reply was electrifying: "Why, of course. Do you think I would come here for nothing?" And he goes on to explain: "I was all broke up, stomach trouble, nerves all unstrung and other things, but it's all changed now, and I feel like a new man." A young lady in attendance said the Healer was busy from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. every week day, and that there are just crowds all the time. Los Angeles welcomes all cures, as it does all people. The sick and ailing come thousands of miles for health, and Healer Truth is doing his part in relieving their sufferings without money and without price for those who wish for the asking.

Marks Cut Cards on Plea and Loser Is Found Guilty.

[Associated Press Night Report.]

TACOMA, Oct. 26.—John Boss and Patrick Daily held in jail for burglary, cut cards to see who should plead guilty to a charge of burglary and take the blame for a mutual crime. Daily lost, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to one year in the State Reformatory. Boss went to trial and was found guilty despite Daily's testimony for him and was sentenced to five years in the State Prison at Walla Walla. That chance gave him the low card in the cut, Boss says, showed that Fate was only playing with him.

ANGELENO LOSES JOB WITH KING'S ABDICATION.

RECOGNITION WILL GIVE HIM NEW CREDENTIALS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Department believes Henry T. Gage can serve as minister to a reception as acceptably as he can to a royal court, and if the present regime at Lisbon is maintained, he will be accredited anew to the post.

Technically Minister Gage lost his job when Manuel lost his. The Californian was delegated to represent his country at the court of the King and when the King no longer had a throne, Gage was no longer a minister.

His present tenure is provisional under instructions from Secretary Knox to act for the time being with the provisional de-facto government at Lisbon.

If the Portuguese elections result favorably to this regime and it is recognized by foreign government, Gage will be made minister all over again in the way of receiving new credentials, just as Ambassador Reid had to be installed anew at the court of St. James after the death of King Edward. Gage's course throughout the Lisbon upheaval is officially declared as that of a diplomat making good.

RATTLESNAKE JOINS SPIDER.

DEADLIEST REPTILE AND BUG HELD FOR MUSEUM.

Live Monster Comes to Hotel Man Who Is Making Collection. Scorpions, Centipedes and Queer Bats Also Sent Him from Mexican Border—Miners Are Friendly.

A live rattlesnake, held captive in a large oil can, which in turn was reinforced with a wooden box, arrived at the Hollenbeck yesterday, consigned to Charles Smead.

Since his receipt of the rare "Latrodectus Manctus," or red-spotted spider, the most poisonous insect of its kind, two weeks ago, Smead has been made the custodian of an innumerable collection of spiders, bugs and curious living things that crawl, creep and fly, the latest being the rattlesnake.

A friend residing in Calzona having read of the fact that the hotel man had received the spider, decided on a more peculiar gift and as a result set out to catch the rest of this species there are many in that section of the country. In a letter accompanying the gift, the donor mentions the manner of its capture and hopes that Smead will be able to add it to the collection, which he has or is making for the Southwest Museum.

As yet Smead has not been able to decide whether the serpent shall be killed and its skin tanned and stuffed, or whether to turn it over to some of the Main street side show fakirs.

From Dos Cabesos, on the Mexican border, Smead several days ago received one of the most perfect specimens of a scorpion ever seen here. It is five and one half inches in length, with not a vertebra or a claw displaced in the horrible land crab. In addition, two splendid specimens of the centipede were inclosed.

A mining man residing in Lower California undertook to show his esteem for the hotel man by shipping him a pair of bats, captured in a great guano cave along the west shore. They were both dead, but preserved in such a manner that they will keep for a long time. In the letter accompanying the bats, the mining man tells a wonderful tale of the millions of these night flyers that at about 7 o'clock in the evening begin to leave the caves.

"They pour forth in one steady stream for a period of more than three hours, all going out over the ocean in their flight. At about 2 o'clock in the morning they begin to return, flying from the land side, having evidently completed a big circle in their flight. Again it takes them several hours to get inside. The caves are so foul smelling, so vilely black that they have never been fully explored."

Smead is waiting for his collection to grow to sufficient size for exhibition service, when he will resign from the hotel business and become a showman.

SIMIAN'S STIR.

MONKEY HIDES IN BACK YARD.

WOMAN, PEERING OVER RAILING DISCOVERS BRUTE.

Escaped Simian Frightens Housewives and Children—Savagely Attacks Two Women Who Are Bitten and Wounds Humane Officer Who Tries To Cage It.

A large monkey, wearing a collar and chain, believed to have escaped from quarters where it was probably kept as a pet, created a reign of terror in the vicinity of North Grand avenue and Court street yesterday afternoon. Before it was captured the animal had bitten two women in the hand and a man in the arm.

The police were unable to learn to whom the monkey belongs. They will be very glad to get rid of it.

The Simian appeared first in the yard in the rear of No. 232 Bunker Hill avenue. Mrs. Marie Brown heard a scratching sound below the level of her porch, and just as she was about to lean over the railing and see what was going on, the head of the monkey appeared between the rounds of the railing. An instant later it sprang to the railing and Mrs. Brown, badly frightened, ran inside and closed the door.

At supper-time, men living in the neighborhood were told that a large monkey was loose and scaring women and children. They searched for it, finding it huddled in a corner of Brown's yard. They captured it and fastened it to a tree in the yard and waited for the owner.

The monkey, having considerable space in which to move, made for a sand pile where children were playing. There was a wild scamper as the children fled.

Thinking to entice the monkey away and at the same time feed it, as it had had nothing to eat for about twenty-four hours, Mrs. Brown approached and held out a piece of bread.

The monkey slowly drew near Mrs. Brown, who also advanced. Quick as a flash, the brute buried its teeth in her hand. She screamed and Mrs. Gooday, living nearby, ran to her assistance. Then Mrs. Gooday was attacked and bitten in the hand.

The Central Police Station was called over the telephone and a request made for an officer to take the monkey away.

Before the police arrived, a representative of the Humane Society appeared and maneuvered to put the animal in a cage. As he reached to seize it, the animal buried its teeth in his arm. He continued, however, placed it in the cage and it was taken to the pound.

CONDUCTOR LOSES LIMBS TRYING TO SAVE ANOTHER.

Pushed Off Moving Car by Intoxicated Passenger He Was Preventing From Alighting and Falls Under Wheels—Has Family of Six Dependent on Salary.

The legs of Joseph Ostrow, conductor of Pacific Electric car No. 452, living at No. 800 Avenue 65, were crushed by his car while trying to prevent an intoxicated man meeting a similar fate.

The accident happened at Avenue 57 and Pasadena avenue yesterday morning. Ostrow jumped off the car at the railroad crossing and seeing that the way was clear, signaled Motorman Penden to come on. When the car reached him Ostrow prepared to swing on the front end when he saw a man, under the influence of liquor, staggering down the steps with the evident intention of getting off.

Ostrow sprang on the step and attempted to prevent the suicidal act. The drunken passenger resisted his well-meant efforts and struck at him. Ostrow lost his hold on the hand rail and fell, the drunk falling on top of him, preventing the conductor from scrambling out of the way of the car wheels. Two wheels passed over his legs before the motorman succeeded in bringing the car to a stop.

Meantime the intoxicated man, responsible for the accident, rose unhurt and was allowed to stagger away, immediate attention being given to Ostrow. He was taken to the County Hospital, where both legs were amputated. It was stated last night by the hospital surgeons that while very weak he has a fighting chance to recover.

Ostrow is 35 years old and has a wife and six children. The family is solely dependent upon his salary for support. None of the children are old enough to leave school and obtain work to keep the wolf from the door. Mrs. Ostrow is heart-broken.

She remained at the hospital at her husband's side as long as the surgeons would permit her. Last night she sat in her little cottage, sobbing her heart out.

Every effort will be made, it is said, to locate and apprehend the man whose drunken act has deprived Ostrow of a means of livelihood and may cost his life.

SMUGGLED FOR OWN USE.

Develops That Young Ledford, Victim of Unfortunate Habit, Brought Single Can of Opium.

The fear of the Federal authorities that the recent case of opium smuggling across the Mexican border from Tia Juana may be only a single instance of much more extended operations of the sort is in a measure relieved by recent developments which go to show that young Ross Ledford, the San Diego youth who pleaded guilty to the charge, was himself addicted to the use of opium and that he had brought across but a single can of the drug for his own use.

At the hearing before the United States District Court on the 17th inst., it was brought out that Ledford, who is only 21, had been without the restraints to which boys of his age are usually subjected, but that it was the most earnest desire of his parents that they be given an opportunity to work out his reformation themselves. His father has been doing good work as an evangelist on the Pacific Coast for the past twenty-five years and his mother is a teacher in the San Diego public schools. Neither of them was aware, until recently, of the young man's unfortunate habits.

In view of all the circumstances of the case, Judge Wellborn was of the opinion that the ends of justice would be better met by imposing a small fine than by imprisonment. He referred to the lack of restraint upon the youth, not as reflecting upon the parents, but merely as one of the mitigating circumstances.

FIGHTING HARD.

Claims of Beatrice A. Turnbull, as Daughter of "Lucky" Baldwin, Protested by Unruh.

H. A. Unruh, executor of the estate of Elias J. ("Lucky") Baldwin, yesterday filed his answer in the petition for partial distribution by Beatrice A. Turnbull, known as Beatrice Anita Baldwin.

It is denied that Beatrice Anita Turnbull is a legitimate daughter or a daughter at all, of the late Elias J. Baldwin, or that she is entitled to two-ninths or any part of the estate of Baldwin. It is alleged that her true name is Beatrice Anita Turnbull, born of one Lillian A. Turnbull, now the wife of William B. Turnbull.

It is said that on June 22, 1904, the Turnbulls filed a petition in the probate court, in Norfolk county, Massachusetts, praying for leave to adopt Beatrice, and change her name to Beatrice Anita Turnbull. The consent of the mother was appended to the petition, which was granted by the court. It is asserted that by such action Beatrice Anita Turnbull is now the legitimate daughter of Lillian A., and William B. Turnbull, and under the law is not entitled to inherit as an heir, or issue of any other person other than its natural mother and its adopted father.

LETS PIER CONTRACT.

Ocean Park Syndicate Formally Arranges for Building of Concrete Wharf at That Resort.

OCEAN PARK, Oct. 26.—The Promotion Syndicate this morning awarded to Charles W. Corbaley the contract for the construction of a new reinforced concrete pier, to be erected at the foot of Navy street. This structure, which is to be fifty feet in width, will have a length of 500 feet or more and will be utilized in connection with the six-story hotel which the same syndicate plans to build on the sand between Navy and Marine streets and the broad walk and the sea.

Work is t obe commenced this week on the construction of the pier. This syndicate is composed of oil and copper capitalists who recently purchased the Gilman frontage and secured from the city a fifteen-year liquor permit to be used in connection with the projected hotel. Messrs. Carrigan, Barrett, Guthrie, and Burmister are the members of the syndicate, and their plans are to have the pier, hotel and extensive amusement and recreation enterprises completed in time to accommodate the people at the opening of the next summer season.

This same syndicate controls many feet of ocean frontage just north of Pier avenue, where the plans are for the installation of a number of high class amusement features, including a scenic railway, a giant dance hall and a reproduction of the Tyrolean Alps.

Since June 1, 205 cases of infantile paralysis have been reported to the Rhode Island State Board of Health. Of this number 23 have resulted in death. Nine other suspected cases are being watched.

FEAST AND TALK FOR BIG SHOW.

PLANS PERFECTED FOR ROSE TOURNAMENT LUNCHEON.

Purpose of the Function Is To Awaken Enthusiasm and Arouse the People of the City to the Importance of the Great Midwinter Celebration.

(Office of The Times, 39 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, Oct. 27.—Arrangements have been completed for the big Rose Tournament luncheon at Hotel Maryland tomorrow noon to be given under the auspices of the Board of Trade. Beginning with the "big feed" things will be doing for pulling off the biggest event given in the history of the city.

The object of the luncheon is to start enthusiasm and to awaken the people of the city to the importance of the great midwinter celebration the like of which is known nowhere else on earth. The Promotion Committee recently appointed by Mayor Darley will have direct charge and will touch off the fuse which will make the big noise.

Joseph Scott, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will have for the subject of his short address "What the Tournament of Roses Is to the People Outside of Pasadena." Dr. Robert J. Burdette will tell "What the Tournament of Roses Has Done for the Crown City," and Prof. LeRoy Ely, principal of the High School, will tell what "What the Tournament of Roses has Done; from an Educational Standpoint."

There will be a number of other speakers. In addition to this the matter of having a "Tournament Queen" will be discussed and ways and means devised for starting the big campaign to get memberships for the Tournament Association. The committee in charge has extended an invitation to every citizen of the United States and Canada regardless of whether he is a member of any of the Pasadena civic organizations, to be present.

VISIT WATER LANDS.

The various subcommittees of the Board of Trade Water Committee are getting down to business and expect to have reports ready for the committee of the whole which will meet Friday night. Yesterday under the guidance of Mayor Earley, City Attorney Wood, and City Engineer Van Ornum, the subcommittee appointed for the purpose of investigating Pasadena's available water supply, consisting of F. E. Twombley, T. D. Allin, J. Welsch, G. W. Harbert and F. E. Wilcox, visited The Narrows, where the City of Pasadena owns a strip of land which was purchased several years ago for its water. The question has arisen as to whether or other lands in the San Gabriel Valley will permit Pasadena to pump the water from The Narrows up-hill to be used in the city.

The subcommitteemen were very well pleased with the looks of things and it is believed will report that there is plenty of water at The Narrows for the entire city.

MASS MEETING CALLED.

At a daily meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade, yesterday morning it was decided to call a mass meeting of the citizens here for next Monday night at the Board of Trade rooms to discuss two matters which seem to the minds of the directors, to be giving Pasadenans much uneasiness at this time. The first matter taken up will be the proposed State bond issue for good roads. The residents of this city believe the proposition as now presented, shows too much favoritism to San Francisco as against Southern California.

The second matter to have consideration will be the proposed amendment No. 8. Many people here believe the proposed amendment is nothing more than an attempt to force the consolidation of Pasadena and Los Angeles, but action will be taken regarding the matter cannot be told until the meeting but it is generally believed the Board of Trade will place itself on record against the proposed consolidation of city and county government or any change in the present boundaries of the Los Angeles county.

GIRL MISSING.

Gladys McHerney, 15 years old, who has been making her home at the residence of Dr. J. R. Patterson on Arroyo drive, left Monday morning apparently to go to school. A short time later she appeared at the home of Mrs. Reed at No. 427 Mundell drive, saying that she was going out to look for work. Since that time no one can be found who has seen her. Her mother, Mrs. McHerney is a nurse and was out on a case at the time.

Frederick Schmidt was haled before Police Mamroth yesterday morning on a charge of "outdoor" burglary. He pleaded guilty to having stolen chairs and bottles of milk from the verandas of wealthy people along Fair Oaks avenue and Orange Grove avenue. She stated that she needed the milk to drink and wanted the furniture to fix up her home. She was given a six-months' suspended sentence. He was arrested early yesterday morning by Officer Nichol with her arms full of bottles of milk which she had taken from various porches.

WILL PAY BANE BOND.

Santa Monica Relieved When Indemnity Company Decides to Hand Over Defaulter's Bond.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—The city's financial condition took a sudden upward movement yesterday when it was received from Hartford, Conn., that the Aetna Indemnity Company would at once pay the Bane bond. Ralph Bane, City Treasurer and Tax Collector, disappeared the city last May, taking with him $10,000 cent he could find in the city's safe box. His shortage was determined to be something in excess of $20,000. The defaulting official was bonded in the Aetna Company, but as the corporation seemed not inclined to meet the obligation in a hurry, the City Council little over a fortnight ago brought suit to recover on the bond. This action was brought in the Superior Court. Today the bonding company telegraphed to its Los Angeles representatives to make sight drafts on them for the full amount of the shortage.

The payment of this sum will come as a relief to Santa Monica, as the city has warrants outstanding to the amount of the shortage. These are drawing 7 per cent. interest.

PASADENA.

FEAST AND TALK FOR BIG SHOW.

PLANS PERFECTED FOR ROSE TOURNAMENT LUNCHEON.

Purpose of the Function Is To Awaken Enthusiasm and Arouse the People of the City to the Importance of the Great Midwinter Celebration.

(Office of The Times, 24 S. Raymond avenue.) PASADENA, Oct. 27.—Arrangements have been completed for the Rose Tournament luncheon at Hotel Maryland tomorrow noon to be given under the auspices of the Board of Trade. Beginning with the "big" things will be doing for pulling off the biggest event given in the history of the city.

The object of the luncheon is to arouse enthusiasm and to awaken the people of the city to the importance of the great midwinter celebration the like of which is known nowhere else on earth. The Promotion Committee recently appointed by Mayor Earley will have direct charge and will touch off the fuse which will set the big noise.

Joseph Scott, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will speak for the subject of his short address, "What the Tournament of Roses Means to the People Outside of Pasadena." Mr. Robert J. Burdette will tell "What the Tournament of Roses Has Done for the Crown City," and Mr. Leroy Ely, principal of the High school, will tell what "What the Tournament of Roses has Done; from an Educational Standpoint."

There will be a number of other speakers. In addition to this the matter of having a "Tournament Queen" will be discussed and ways and means raised for starting the big campaign for memberships for the Tournament association. The committee in charge has extended an invitation to every citizen of the United States and Canada, regardless of whether he is a resident of any of the Pasadena civic organizations, to be present.

VISIT WATER LANDS.

The various subcommittees of the Board of Trade Water Committee are getting down to business and expect to have reports ready for the meeting of the whole which will be held Friday night. Yesterday under the guidance of Mayor Earley, City Engineer Wood, and City Engineer Ferguson, the subcommittee appointed for the purpose of investigating Pasadena's available water supply, consisting of F. E. Twombley, T. D. Lukens, J. Welsch, G. W. Harbert and ... Wilcox, visited The Narrows, where the City of Pasadena owns a piece of land which was purchased several years ago for its water. The question has arisen as to whether or other wells in the San Gabriel Valley will serve Pasadena to pump the water from The Narrows up-hill to be used in the city.

The subcommittiemen were very well pleased with the looks of things and believed will report that there is plenty of water at The Narows for the entire city.

MASS MEETING CALLED.

At a daily meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade, yesterday morning it was decided to call a mass meeting of the citizens here for next Friday night at the Board of Trade rooms to discuss two matters which are on the minds of the directors, to the end that Pasadenans may become unusually active at this time. The first matter to come up will be the proposed State bond issue for good roads. The residents of this city believe the proposition now presented, shows too many favoritisms to San Francisco as against Southern California.

The second matter to have consideration will be the proposed amendment to the charter. Many people here believe the proposed amendment is nothing more than an attempt to force the consolidation of Pasadena and Los Angeles. No action will be taken regarding the matter cannot be told until the meeting but it is generally believed the Board of Trade will place itself on record against the proposed consolidation of city and county government or any change in the present boundaries of Los Angeles county.

GIRL MISSING.

Grace McBerney, 15 years old, who has been making her home at the residence of Dr. J. R. Patterson on Arroyo Seco, left Monday morning apparently to go to school. A short time afterward she appeared at the home of Mrs. Neal at No. 427 Mundell drive, saying that she was going out to look for work. Since that time no one can be found who has seen her. Her mother, Mrs. ... McBerney, is a nurse and was out on a case at the time.

Otto Schmidt was haled before Judge Klamroth yesterday morning on a charge of "outdoor" burglary. He pleaded guilty to having stolen clothes and bottles of milk from the porches of wealthy people along Colorado avenue and Orange Grove avenue. He stated that he needed the clothes to drink and wanted the furniture to fix up her home. She was given six months' suspended sentence.

Judge Wells granted early yesterday morning to Officer Nichol with her arms full of bottles of milk which she had taken from various porches.

WILL PAY BANE BOND.

Sureties Relieved When Indemnity Company Decides to Hand Over Defaulter's Shortage.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—The financial condition took a sudden upward movement yesterday when word was received from Hartford, Conn., that the Aetna Indemnity company would at once pay the Hane bond. Ralph Bane, City Treasurer and Tax Collector, disappeared the first of last May, taking with him what it could find in the city's coffers. His shortage was determined to be something in excess of $10,000. The defaulting official was bonded in the Aetna Company, but as the situation seemed not inclined to force the obligation in a hurry, the bondsmen let over a fortnight before suit to recover on the bond in action was brought in the Superior Court. Today the bonding company telegraphed to its Los Angeles representatives to make sight draft for the full amount of the bond.

The proceeds of this sum will come over to Santa Monica, as the bondsmen's servants outstanding to the amount of the shortage. These are to pay 6 per cent. interest.

Nothing new has been heard from Ralph Bane since he boarded an electric car for Los Angeles late in April, saying he would return in a few days from a trip to Tulare county. He did not go to Tulare, but is believed to have gone to San Francisco, sailing thence for Honduras or the Orient. Large rewards were offered for his arrest, but from that day to this not a single suspect has been held and no authentic word was received by either the officials of the city or the bonding company.

County tax receipts giving indication that the Santa Monica school tax is considerably higher this year than during former ones, the Board of Education has just made an investigation and learned from the County Auditor that the rate this year for the Santa Monica district is $1 this year as compared with 63 cents last year, although the money to be raised this year is only $38,022 as against $39,461. The explanation of this difference is found in the reduction of the assessed valuation as made by the County Board of Supervisors. Last year the collection was made on an assessed valuation of $3,086,849, while this year the valuation was reduced to $5,985,604. The levy of $1 is distributed as follows: bonds and interest 36 cents, high school purposes 28 cents, elementary schools 31 cents.

NEAR DEATH BY LEAP OF AUTO.

MACHINE HITS AGAINST POST AND HURTS INFANT.

Wife of Oil Promoter and Capitalist at the Wheel When Horseless Carriage Runs Off the End of a Culvert and Spills Occupants in the Ditch. Gas Explosion Damages Oil Wells.

WHITTIER, Oct. 26.—Mrs. William Plotts, wife of a local oil promoter and capitalist, her infant son and the nurse, narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding ran off the end of a culvert and spilled them all out in the ditch.

Mrs. Plotts was driving the machine. She was returning from a trip to the oil fields and, when opposite the home of J. M. Randall in East Whittier, she saw a rig coming in front of her. Mrs. Plotts attempted to turn out and in doing so ran off the end of the bridge.

The machine was going rather rapidly and when it struck the ditch the nurse and baby were thrown out. Mrs. Plotts held to the steering wheel and, as the machine hesitated for a moment, she leaped to the ground unhurt.

The machine went on, however, and crashed against a post and was smashed. Mr. Randall, hearing the screams of the frightened mother, rushed out and found that the baby was hurt and unconscious. He immediately got the injured ones into his machine and rushed them into Whittier, where they were attended by a physician. Mr. Plotts, who is in Arizona on business, was immediately advised by wire.

DESTROYS OIL OUTFITS.

An explosion of gas in one of the drilling wells on the Santa Fe lease at Olinda yesterday afternoon caused a loss by fire of three rigs. The gas was ignited from a boiler being used in drilling the well, which was almost ready to pump. There was a terrific explosion and the fire soon caught the oil-soaked timbers of two other wells and in less than thirty minutes the three outfits were entirely destroyed.

No lives were lost as the men working near the well escaped down the hill. The property loss is estimated at about $60,000.

SANTA ANA.

BREAKS LEG IN HAY CHUTE.

STOCKMAN MISTAKES HOLE FOR A LADDER WAY.

With Leg Dragging He Crawls Out of Manger and Painfully Reaches Sidewalk Where He by His Cries Succeeds in Attracting Attention and Bringing Aid.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 26.—In the darkness of the loft, H. W. Sylvester, a stockman of No. 121 East Washington avenue, last night, mistook a haychute for a ladder-way. He fell through the chute into a manger. His left leg was broken above the knee. With his leg dragging, Sylvester crawled from the manger and to the sidewalk. Not until then were his cries heard and help received.

Sylvester's mishap was due to forgetting to feed a horse yesterday evening. After he had gone to bed he remembered, and he arose and went to the barn. The accident occurred at 9:30 o'clock.

COW WARRANT.

There is a warrant out for the arrest of Carino Verdugo, charged with selling his landlady's cow, without her permission. The cow belonged to Mrs. Martina Marques of Orange. Samuel Bohn, a dairyman, was at Orange on Saturday on a cow-buying expedition, and paid Verdugo $20 for the Marquez milker. Verdugo disappeared.

H. Jiminez, a cholo beet-topper, is in the County Jail charged with disturbing the peace. While partly intoxicated he followed the 16-year-old daughter of Frank Ocampo, a Spanish fish peddler. The girl sought protection at a fruit stand, and Jiminez was arrested.

LOSES TWO BROTHERS.

F. W. Glenn, a bean-grower on the San Joaquin Ranch, in the last two weeks has lost both his brothers by death. One of them was killed two weeks ago in a railroad accident in Arizona. Yesterday the other, Jesse, died of pneumonia. F. W. and Jesse came here from Oxnard three years ago.

LONG BEACH.

TRUSTING MAID WISER NOW.

CONFIDENCE NIPPED IN SHORT ACQUAINTANCE CASE.

Comparative Stranger Imposes on Her and Retains Her Purse With the Excuse That She Is Too Careless To Keep It—Episcopalians Plan To Enlarge Their Church.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 26.—The danger of familiarity on short acquaintance was shown today in Justice Brayton's court when Frank Morris was arrested on complaint of Miss Margaret Perry, of Los Angeles, and charged with larceny.

Miss Perry, who is visiting here, became acquainted with Morris on the beach and the two became chummy. A week ago Morris took possession of her purse containing $10 and told her he was going to keep it for her as she was careless. He refused to return the money and, after waiting a week she had Morris arrested. The young fellow managed to borrow the sum and $5 additional with which to pay the fine assessed for being so fresh. Miss Perry has lost her confidence in nice, confiding young men.

FOR BIGGER CHURCH.

The vestrymen of St. Luke's Episcopal Church last night approved plans whereby the seating capacity of the church at Fifth street and Locust avenue will be doubled. The church will be widened twenty-two feet and the entrance improved with a little tower.

Activity of Salt Lake engineers surveying a route from Burnett to San Pedro by way of the territory north of Anaheim road revives the old rumor that the road is about to carry out its long considered intention of reaching the bay by a shorter route. In this event the company will have to build another drawbridge across Cerritos slough, decided by the courts to be navigable, but it will have an added advantage in thus also gaining access to the city's inland waterway now under construction.

On a tip that an attempt would be made by the Pacific Electric to force its crossing at Seventh and California streets the Salt Lake last night doubled its guards, having ten men on duty with a switch engine in readiness a short distance away, but the rumored attempt did not materialize, although the Pacific Electric has its tracks and wires in readiness on both sides of the crossing.

The Republican Club of Long Beach is preparing for a rally Thursday evening at Stewart's Hall when all the county candidates will be present and also Lee C. Gates and James McLachlan. A coffee and sandwich luncheon will be served to the speakers and all Republicans at the hall at 6 o'clock.

The police are looking for John Wunder, a young man sent from here on confession of having stolen over $1000 in money and jewelry from workmen on new buildings. Wunder was released on probation, but is now wanted for repeating his act in Pasadena and then escaping from the Juvenile Court room. It is thought he is hiding at the beach.

PLAN BIG BALL.

The El Rodeo Club, composed of young men from 18 years and older, all unmarried, is planning one of the biggest informal balls ever held in this city. It will be given at Hotel Virginia in the evening of November 4, and 700 invitations have been sent out, among them to members of social clubs, railroad and hotel men of Los Angeles.

Work on the Hammond company's steamer at the Craig ship plant is hurrying forward. Yesterday the propeller, which is twelve feet in diameter, was put in place and the engines coupled up.

The girls' basket ball team of the freshmen class of the high school rather surprised the sophomores yesterday in the interclass game by defeating them by a score of 19 to 12.

The electric dredger at work on the ocean entrance of the inner harbor is now at the bascule bridge and working steadily toward the ocean cutting a channel twenty-one feet in depth.

Incorporation papers will be filed tomorrow for the new oil refinery which is to be built on the flats just north of the inner harbor. Two buildings will be erected each 40x80 feet. The company will make a specialty of manufacturing lubricating oils.

Construction was begun this morning of a double inclosure under the pier for the quarters of the big buffalo recently secured from Yellowstone Park. The bison will be confined in a 12x12 cage which can be moved from one corral to the other, as the animal is still averse to the near presence of humans.

While crossing the switching tracks of the Pacific Electric at Sixth street and American avenue last night, Mrs. Eleanor Fremlin, of Redlands, who is visiting her daughter, caught her heel in a switch and falling, broke a small bone in her ankle.

CLEAR FOR TROLLEY.

Evident Purpose of Pomona City Trustees in Preparing To Vacate Part of Public Street.

POMONA, Oct. 26.—The City Trustees at their meeting yesterday afternoon instructed the City Attorney and City Engineer to prepare a resolution of intention to vacate the east forty feet of Laurel street from Cucamonga avenue to the Santa Fe railway near North Pomona. This is in order to give the Pacific Electric a private right of way in connection with its other rights of way between this city and Claremont.

The trustees also instructed the City Clerk to place the name of H. J. Nichols in nomination as one of the fifteen city freeholders to be voted upon November 3 in place of A. J. Williams, who is not eligible to election because of not having lived here the required five years.

SOMETHING DOING.

TRIPLE PLAY PLEASES FANS.

UNUSUAL FEATURE OF GAME FULL OF EXCITEMENT.

CONTEST NOT FINISHED UNTIL TWELFTH INNING.

DALEY NIPS RUNNER AT PLATE BY GREAT THROW.

Portland, 1; Los Angeles, 0. Twelve innings.

Two players of recognized big league caliber, deliberately running into a triple play was the big feature of the ball game yesterday at the Chutes grounds in which the locals scored their ninth straight beating, but the bunch of fans that saw the show had no kick coming from any direction for they really got more than they paid for at the gate.

Twelve innings of exciting ball; good pitching; oodles of pretty double plays and punk errors were mixed in on both sides of that triple play and the game might have gone on all night had not Howard got into an argument with a grounder from the time it left the bat until it reached him. He fought it just a second too long and when he threw the ball to first base Olsen had beaten it there and Fisher had scored with the winning run.

It was a great little game and although the Angels were out-hit and out-fielded they were not beaten until the twelfth and then through Howard's boot.

The big thing of the day, irrespective of which team won, was the triple play and it was the first one of the kind ever seen here and its like will probably never be seen again. The strangest thing about it was that Dillon, whose team it favored kicked at the decision.

Krapp and Criger had been pitching fine ball for five innings and as but one player had been able to get to third base during that time there was plenty of excitement. Casey opened the sixth with a swat to right, and Kreuger followed with a bouncing infield single to third. Ryan was supposed to sacrifice both of them on a base and in attempting to bunt he popped up a little fly about ten feet from the plate and toward third base.

Waring dashed out for it and naturally both Casey and Kreuger hugged second and first for fear of a double play. Waring did not get the ball on the fly and he did not need to catch it for when it was hit Umpire Irwin called "infield fly." This, of course, meant that the batsman was out, for first and second were occupied.

When Casey and Kreuger saw that Waring had not caught the ball they started to run the bases for they expected a forced play at either third or second. Seeing Casey run, Waring scooped the ball and shot it to Hallinan at third, who touched Casey and then threw the ball to Delmas at second, who touched Kreuger and thus the triple play was completed.

Ryan was the first man out on an "infield fly" with men on first and second, but the other two would not have been out if they had hugged the bases they were on. It was not a force triple play and would not have counted if the runners had not been touched. Dhion thinking the runners had reached their bases kicked when Irwin called Ryan's bunt an infield fly, maintaining it could not be such unless Waring could have gotten it.

Aside from this unusual play the fielding feature was Daley's fine throw to the plate from center field on which he doubled up the speedy little Krapp who tried to score from third after the catch of Ryan's fly in the eighth. This was the closest that any player got to the plate until Fisher of the Beavers scored the only run of the game in the twelfth inning.

Ort was the first man up in this inning and was an easy out, Criger to Smith. Then Criger laid one in the groove and Fisher bent it out to the right fence for a double and a moment later ran to third when Waring and Criger crossed their fingers on the sign language and a passed ball resulted, the pill going between Waring's fingers. Krapp popped up to Smith and then Olsen hit a grounder to Howard, who booted the ball long enough for Olsen to reach first and for Fisher to score. The locals were helpless in their half for the three men to bat were easy outs.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The only Beaver error was when Olsen threw Delmas's grounder low to first in the tenth inning. The visitors certainly played like champions.

Ryan got a single in the fourth inning because Smith held his grounder too long before throwing it to Criger who covered first.

Olsen made a beautiful assist from deep short field to first base in the fourth and retired Smith on what would ordinarily have been a hit.

Krapp was charged with a balk in the tenth inning which put Delmas on third because when he went to wind up to pitch he dropped the ball and it rolled behind him.

The Beavers opened the eighth with three singles and then could not score. Daley's double play retired two men and the next batsman was an easy out at first on a grounder to Delmas.

Ort hit up his speed in the fifth for he ran to third base from first on Fisher's sacrifice bunt in front of the plate.

PHOENIX RACE MEETING.

Entrants To Choose Positions at Start. Fourteen Cars Entered and Most Important One.

Automobile men who have entered cars in the Los Angeles-Phoenix race are to meet this morning at the Hollenbeck Hotel to decide on the positions of the machines at the start of the contest Saturday night, November 5. Each entrant will draw a number and the one securing No. 1 is to have first choice of place.

There was a difference of opinion among a number regarding the decision to start the cars five minutes apart. The majority now want such a time allowance. The fastest cars can get to the sand hills before the slow cars arrive if there is only a short time between each racing machine that gets away from the corner of Second and Spring streets.

Fourteen cars are to start. These are to be sent away over the lower road through El Monte and Puente. High and low-powered cars are to compete and the fastest part of the course is from Los Angeles to Banning. The road from Banning to Whitewater is fairly good, but after that the sand bucking must be done.

VERNON STOPS IN ELEVENTH.

WILLETT BLOWS UP DURING THE NINTH INNING.

Has Oaks Beaten Easily Until the Pinch Comes and Then Is Soaked for Three Hits and Two Tallies. Maggert Surprise Fans With Home Run in First Inning.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just to prove that they can come back, the Oaklanders picked away at Vernon today, with the score against them most of the way, tied it up with a magnificent batting rally in the ninth and won in the last of the eleventh, when Willie Hogan crossed the plate with the winning tally of a 4 to 3 session.

Willett outpitched Harkins in the early innings and in fact had all the better of the argument until the ninth, when he weakened and finally went to pieces. Harkins was in hot water all through the session, but Oakland had its share of the baseball luck and two double plays helped them out. The base running of the Vernon club was more than slightly off color, for they had chances to put men around the bases and failed miserably.

The cheering started when Maggert swung on the first ball pitched in the Oakland half of the first inning and lifted it over the fence for a home run. The Hooligans came to the front in the third. Hasty, the new catcher, grounded to second, but Willett hit to third and beat the ball. Carlisle's two-bagger into right and the speed of Willett enabled the pitcher to score and another single by Hosp through short to center field tallied Carlisle. Coy scored the concluding Vernon run in the fourth on a walk, a sacrifice, an out and Hasty's single.

Not until the ninth did the Commuters show to advantage. Hogan and Cameron both smashed the ball into left. Cutshaw forced Carroll, running for Cameron, at second. Swander's two-bagger to the right field fence was a hit in the right spot, for both Hogan and Cutshaw made the circuit and the score was tied up.

In the eleventh Hogan singled to center and when Phyle dumped the ball on a sacrifice Hogan went all the way to third, for no one covered that sack. Cutshaw's safe hit to right scored him. The score:

Danzing opened the seventh with a triple, was trailed by Burns and Shinn with singles, two runs scoring. The Seals made their lone run in the sixth inning, Mohler getting a single, being sacrifice by Fielder and scoring on McArdle's sigle. Arrelianes pitched good ball allowing but three scattered hits. FOR NEW AUTOS.

SWELL MOTOR CAR SALONS.

DEALERS TO HOLD BIG EXHIBIT ON GRAND AVENUE.

NINETEEN-ELEVEN MODELS TO BE THE ATTRACTION.

HEMPEL'S IDEA IS ACCEPTED AT LARGE GATHERING.

Two automobile shows are to be held in Los Angeles this year. About thirty of the automobile dealers gathered last night at the W. J. Burt Motor Car Company's headquarters and decided to hold a motor-car exhibit early in December. W. Whitcomb, agent for the Halladay, was the chairman and Los. Henry was secretary.

The proposition which Walter Hempel placed before the gathering was the most pleasing. The auto show will probably be held in the Grand-avenue rink building. Nearly 15,000 feet of space was spoken for last night and licensed and unlicensed cars are to be represented. The exhibit should be even more classy than it was last year.

New motor cars, gentleman's roadsters, touring cars, fore-door models and a large array of trucks are to be shown. The exhibit should include at least a hundred different makes of automobiles. There was plenty of enthusiasm on tap from the moment the meeting was called to order. Another meeting is to be held at the same place tomorrow night.

The consensus of opinion was that a show should be held by the dealers who are not members of the Licensed Automobile Association. It was then proposed to form an organization that is to take charge of the motor-car exhibit. One of the proposals made was that the new body be known as the Los Angeles Motor Dealers' Association.

No definite action was taken on this proposal, though a majority of those present decided to form such a body. The new organization is to have charge of the coming show, which is to be held along the same lines as last year's exhibition.

Hempel's plans for the show are more elaborate than last year. He intends to have a special decorative effect in the interior that will make the building resemble a great outdoor garden. Banks of greenery are to form the background for what should be a handsome display of 1911 motor cars.

ROAD ON ROAD.

Well-known Pedestrian Making Good Time on His Long Journey to Los Angeles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Godfrey Road, the famous Holland globe trotter reaches Los Angeles Friday forenoon, as he should, barring accidents, the famous pedestrian who bears a letter from the San Francisco Chronicle to Harry Chandler, business manager of the Los Angeles Times, will have established a new walking record between the two cities that will stand for many a day. Estimating the distance by the road from San Francisco to the southern metropolis at 490 miles, Road will have walked his journey in less than eight days, and in all probability he will clip several hours off the record that he laid out for himself.

In the presence of a large crowd of people, Road left the Chronicle business office at 12:30 o'clock, noon, Thursday, October 20, accompanied by his manager, Ottc Fuetterer, who proposed walking part of the way. At 10 o'clock on the first night Road had reached Palo Alto, thirty-five miles distant fro mSan Francisco, and except where it was impossible, he has been in daily communication with the Chronicle telling the story of his trip.

At 9 o'clock on Friday night, October 22, Road reported that he had reached Salinas, 116 miles on his journey. The following night, October 23, at about the same hour, he reached Kings City, 170 miles from San Francisco. Gradually increasing his walking distance he did eighty miles last Monday and at 9 o'clock Monday night, October 24, reported his arrival at San Luis Obispo, having covered 250 miles.

There was no report from him Tuesday night, but Wednesday morning he telephoned from Santa Barbara and this evening at 8 o'clock Road reached Oxnard, 408 miles from San Francisco, and some eighty miles by road from Los Angeles. He says that he is in fine condition. Tonight he remains in Oxnard, but he will be on the road bright and early for the last lap of the journey. He says he will reach Los Angeles Friday morning, and go at once to the Times office to present his credentials.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL.

Second Team of State University Counts on St. Mary's Fifteen in Exciting Game.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERKELEY, Oct. 26.—The second 'varsity team of the University of California defeated St. Mary's by a score of 6 to 0, this afternoon. A sixty-five-yard kick to touch delivered from the shadow of the 'Varsity goal by Full-back Price, and a passing rush in the second half by Emerson and Barnett, of the California hookers, covering sixty yards, were among the features of the play.

During the first half, the Oaklanders were forced to save on three occasions. The first try was made by Mini, who received from Horiowe and Baker, who in return received a neatly delivered cross kick from the toe of Price.

The second score came at the end of a dribbling rush by St. Mary's with Baker taking the ball from the ruck and squirmming over the line. Neither try was converted.

TUNA APPEAR.

Many of Them Seen Yesterday Leaping in the Waters About the Bay of Avalon.

AVALON, Oct. 26.—The cry announcing the presence of tuna rang out in the streets here today. At once there was a rush to the bay front and a general air of excitement about the town.

Hundreds of the game fish were seen leaping in the water but at some little distance off shore.

"LEST YE FORGET."

POINTS OUT MAN'S DUTY.

COURT READS MORAL LESSON IN DIVORCE CASE.

SAYS HUSBAND FORGETFUL OF WIFE'S RIGHTS.

WOMEN PRONE TO RESPOND TO KIND TREATMENT.

A delicate, sensitive, high-minded woman heard with glistening eyes a judge from the bench yesterday give voice to sentiments which burn in the breast of every suffering wife. The husband she was suing for divorce gazed fixedly at nothing, his alert mind seeking to grasp the problem which the words of the court presented to him.

It was something out of the ordinary for a judge to speak so freely in a divorce proceeding. But the case was out of the ordinary, although there figured in it the sordid things which make most divorce suits unpalatable, which blackens a husband in the eyes of men or shatters the reputation of the wife and causes her to be a social outcast.

Superior Court Judge Church of Fresno, was the speaker. He had heard the evidence in the proceedings brought by Mrs. M. Blanche Wickland against John W. Wickland. The Wicklands are well-to-do. They have a home in Hollywood and a ranch at Calabasas. The complaint of the wife was extreme cruelty. The husband had ugly charges to press against the wife. Considerable property was involved, and in order to dispose of that feature, Judge Church took the case under advisement.

But there were features in the case that appealed strongly to the court. It pained him to see this couple part that had lived so long together, that had raised a large family and done so well from a material point of view. Speaking for their best interests, his words had a tremendous bearing on other couples whose married lives threaten to be wrecked by that lack of consideration a husband owes to his wife and the mother of his children.

HUSBANDS FORGET.

Unfortunately, as happens in too many cases of this kind," the court said, "he (Wickland) has been unhappily forgetful of her (Mrs. Wickland's) rights and privileges, forgetful of the fact that she is a being just like himself, with absolutely the same rights that he has; that so far as disposing of her time and her company and of everything else, she is an independent being.

"And here is a case where it has been manifestly forgotten.

"Had this defendant treated his wife always kindly and affectionately, as she deserves, and not have hectored or annoyed her by mean and low suspicions, by innuendoes that she might possibly have had something to do with somebody that she ought not to have done, and had he never been guilty of such a wrong and outrage, she would have responded kindly and affectionately to him. His charges are absurd and ridiculous and there is nothing here to show anything of the kind.

"What I would like to do with this case, if I could, would be to send these parties out of court and this defendant to his home to do his duty and never intimate a suspicion of the wife of his bosom and the mother of his children, never think of charging her, by innuendo or in any other way, with any improper relations with a common workman on his farm, a man he has had there, or with a boy.

"It used to be that a woman was only a slave and regarded as such, a slave to minister to the selfish wants and desires of some brute of a man. I hope we are going to take the view that men and women are equals with equal rights.

MUST WIN AFFECTION.

"If one gets anything he gets it by winning it and deserving it. If I want affecton I make myself worthy of affection and I will win it, and if I can not get it that way, I will go without it, for I know I can not get it in any other way, and there are few women that do not respond to that kind of treatment more than liberally.

"No words are too strong to condemn the want of the treatment of the wife as an equal with the same rights that a man has, and no less and no more, knowing that a good woman, a good wife, will not do anything willingly to hurt the feelings of a husband, and a good man should do nothing to hurt the feelings of his wife.

"A woman who has given her best to a man, all that she has, is entitled to every consideration possible and to the kindest possible treatment under all circumstances. This woman has not had it."

FOOLS WITH REVOLVER.

Young Dishwasher Receives Painful Wound by Reason of Fussing With a Cheap Firearm.

After shooting himself through the finger while fooling with a cheap little revolver, in his room at No. 220 Franklin street, Joe Tul, a 17-year-old boy, was locked up in the City Jail yesterday evening as a felony suspect. He may be formally charged today with threatening to kill his employer, the proprietor of a little restaurant at No. 651 Central avenue.

Tul worked at the restaurant as a dish-washer. Some dispute arose between him and the proprietor Tuesday evening, and there was a quick severance of "business interests." Tul left the place vowing, it is said, that he would kill the "boss."

The ambulance was called out yesterday evening for a shooting on Franklin street. Detectives Hosick and Ziegler found Tul ruefully contemplating a bleeding hand and a revolver, of which the barrel was still warm. While Tul was being taken care of in the Receiving Hospital the officers investigated.

Reports of the boy's threats to kill his former employer reached them, and, thinking that Joey might have been cleaning the tricky gun while preparing to carry out his threats, they decided to lock him up pending further investigation.

But Joe was a very penitent boy, a couple of hours later, when his mother called to see him, and it is not likely that the courts will be very harsh with him.

LURE BRINGS GRIEF.

Girl Who Sees Barrel Trick at Circus Tries it at Home and Results Are Painful.

Little Lenora Gardner will not play circus for several weeks. Lenora is only years old. She lives with her parents, at No. 223 Frankie street, Belvidere. The little miss attended the circus when it was here last, and she was very much impressed with the trick of the Japanese performers and clowns who took joy rides all about the ring, with nothing but a barrel to ride on.

That was the big, stellar feature of the circus in the eyes of little Lenora. Yesterday afternoon she found an empty keg in the back yard of her papa's home. That was the first chance she had to try the barrel-riding stunt, and she went at it with a will.

But this was not a circus barrel—only a mean old empty keg, and Lenora fell, breaking her right wrist. Her papa had to take her to the Receiving Hospital, where they gave her chloroform and she was so very sick afterward, when she awoke, and her arm was all bound up against a hard piece of board. Lenora will try no more circus tricks.

HIGHER?

IS BANKRUPTCY FACING BAKERS?

MUST ORGANIZE OR STARVE, THEY CONTEND.

Claim Made That Existing Conditions Are Intolerable and Prohibitive—If Necessary Price of Bread Will Be Increased—Unfair Competition To Be Discouraged.

"Present conditions in the bread-making business are such that the bakers of Los Angeles must organize for the purpose of improving them to the point that they can live and enjoy at least a small profit on their business and investment. The action has been made imperative for us, and if it is necessary to increase the price of bread, we expect to do it, not for the purpose of gouging the public, but simply and solely to provide ourselves with a living, which, under present conditions, we cannot do."

This ultimatum was delivered in the form of an authorized statement by the recently organized Master Bakers Association of Greater Los Angeles at their meeting in the offices of the Bakers' and Confectioners' Review in the Mason building last night.

The association was tentatively organized last Saturday, its avowed purpose being to urge the bakers of Los Angeles to "get together and stick together and to elevate the baking industry of Los Angeles toward greater unity among its members and greater achievements along practical and scientific lines," as read the resolutions then adopted.

The meeting last night, largely attended by the smaller bakers of the city and of the surrounding towns, was for the purpose of perfecting the organization.

The members protest warmly against the use of the word "bread trust" in characterising their association, their contention being that they must either organize or starve.

They were at first reluctant to give the impression that a raise in the price of bread had any part in their plans, fearing that such a statement would immediately be construed to mean the exaction of unreasonable or exorbitant profits from the consumers of their product. Discussion quickly brought out, however, that the primary purpose is the alleviation of conditions which are characterised as "intolerable and prohibitive" and "the worst in the country."

These conditions are briefly summed up as being "the increase in the prices of bread-making materials, which is from 50 to 60 per cent.; the advance in the wage scale, from 35 to 40 per cent.; the increase in the interest rate upon the investment involved, from 4 to 7 per cent., and the actual decrease in the price at which bread is sold, which is from 10 to 20 per cent."

It was shown by careful figuring that, for the smaller bakers, who produce most of the bread, the actual cost of making a sixteen-ounce loaf is 4.586 cents, exclusive of depreciation and interest on the investment.

At the price at which bread is now sold at wholesale, the bakers contend that they are actually selling at and below cost. Even the larger concerns, they add, are making bread at a loss which is made up in other departments of the same business.

It was frankly stated that many of the local bakers are gradually going into bankruptcy and that, in the continued absence of profits, they are all headed that way.

It is the further purpose of the association to establish a better and more uniform quality of bread by discouraging the "unfair competition" which produces an inferior kind of bread to be sold at a reduced price. It is their contention that by organization and equalization, any advance in price will be more than compensated by the higher quality of the article sold.

The officers of the new association have not as yet been chosen. Acting as temporary chairman is T. C. Bartholomae, Pacific Coast representative of the American Diamalt Company, and as secretary, M. A. Biey, editor of the Bakers' and Confectioners' Review.

CHINESE DIES OF BERI BERI.

Federal Authorities Will Investigate Cases on Steamer Bessie Dollar at Seattle.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) Oct. 26.—Beri beri was the disease which caused the death of the Chinese seaman whose body was taken ashore from the steamship Bessie Dollar at Seattle yesterday, according to a statement made tonight by Dr. W. W. Chapman, assistant surgeon in charge of the Seattle station of the United States Public Healt and Marine Hospital service.

Dr. Chapman came to Bellingham tonight to investigate conditions abroad the Bessie Dollar, where two more Chinese are dangerously ill with the dreaded malady. CHILDREN SAVE IOWA FARMER.

MAN OF SOIL GIVES COMMISSION THE FIGURES.

HIGH PRICES INCREASE LAND VALUES, HE SAYS.

LIVE STOCK PAYS RAISER WHO LOSES ON GRAIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—"Iowa is prosperous in agriculture because of the labor of the farmers' children," was the burden of the testimony given today before the Interstate Commerce Commission by Henry C. Wallace, farmer and educator of Des Moines, in the hearing on the proposed freight rate advance.

Drawing a striking picture of the Iowa farmer clad in cheap clothing and owning an automobile and aided by the labor of his offspring, Mr. Wallace detailed statistics of the grain crops of the State, concluding with an apparent loss to the renter of a 160-acre farm of approximately $300 yearly. The apparent loss, the witness explained, was overcome by the labor of the farm boys, who took the place of hired men as soon as they were fourteen years old. On cross examination he admitted that he had taken no account of the live stock, cattle, horses, sheep and hogs nor of milk nor eggs, in his tabluation of the returns on Iowa farm lands.

The morning session throughout was punctuated with constant reference to Iowa's children and toward the time of adjournment, Commissioner Clark observed:

"Then a childless farmer in Iowa would be a bankrupt?"

"Not exactly," replied Mr. Wallace, "but he would have to work mighty hard to keep from it."

On cross examination, Mr. Wallace declared that his figures on the grain included what was shipped and what was fed to the live stock, and said he had not sought to show that renting farmers operated their holdings at a loss.

LIVE STOCK GETS THE GAIN.

"What was your purpose then, in giving those figures," asked Attorney J. B. Payne, general counsel for the Chicago, Great Western Railroad.

"I wanted to show actual conditions and what we might expect if live stock raising was discouraged," replied the witness.

"Is there a farmer in Iowa who does not derive revenue from livestock or any of the items omitted from your list?"

"No, they are all getting something from these things," replied the witness.

The questions then turned on the value of land in Iowa, and the witness said that he believed the farmers were more prosperous now than ever before.

Mr. Wallace also assented to the statement that money was being sent East from Iowa for investment, whereas it formerly was being borrowed by Iowa farmers.

Commissioner Lane, interposed, saying:

"It is undisputed here that the Iowa farmer is getting along pretty well."

"To what do you attribute the prosperity of the farmers?" asked Attorney Payne.

"His children have worked for him," was the reply.

"Has Iowa a record as a child raiser?" asked the attorney.

"Not exceptional," was the answer.

WOULDN'T PAY DIVIDENDS.

Commissioner Lane asked if a farm managed as a stock company would return any yearly interest on stock or bonds, and Mr. Wallace replied that he did not believe it would. He contradicted an assertion of Attorney Payne that retired farmers went to live in town and cities because they could afford it.

"The farmer goes to live in town not because he is rich or can afford it, but because he

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Warm weather has caused great changes in the vegetable market during the past five or six days. The rain was a benefit to vegetables and gave them all a new lease on life. With the warm days following, tomatoes, cucumbers, cabbage, lettuce, beans and all of the bunch varieties have done some extra sprouting. The prices on the market have been greatly affected by the daily increased receipts. Cucumbers sold as low as 15 cents a box yesterday morning. Tomatoes were down to 30 cents in a number of instances. Celery sold below the 25 mark considerably. The yield of celery this year is reported as very heavy, and as a result prices are showing the result. Shipments of celery East are going forward rapidly and although there is still considerable eastern stock in the markets, California celery is at a premium on account of its size and freshness as compared with the storage stock. The best cauliflower is also being shipped, so far the season on cauliflower has been more or less unsuccessful on account of the poor quality of the vegetable produced. Good stock is still bringing more than $1 a dozen, but there is little that will grade up that well. From the northern part of the State come reports of a large crop of heavy yields of artichokes. It will only be a short time before these are moving out of the State. About 150 cars will be shipped. At present artichokes on the local market are bringing $1 a dozen. They cannot be grown to advantage in this part of the State owing to the warm days.

In the staple market there were few if any changes. Egg receipts were 38 cases. Coast eggs and those from the San Joaquin Valley supplied a good portion of the demand for fresh stock. They brought 33 cents. Storage stock was in good call, and selects sold at 32.

Butter arrivals were 31,250 pounds. Ladle was in good call, and sold at 1 cent premium over current quotations. Other grades were slow in movement and unchanged in price.

Cheese arrivals were 772 pounds. There was an excellent call for cheese of the northern fresh and storage variety. Offerings of eastern and Oregon cheese were rather stiffed. The demand for limburger was also noticeable.

Potato arrivals were 2185 sacks. The situation remained unchanged. Sales at the prevailing low quotations were only normal.

Onion arrivals were much smaller than usual, only 40 sacks being reported in. The market was steady. Bean arrivals were 130 sacks. Pinks sold in a jobbing way as low as $1.25. Sweet potato arrivals were 226 sacks. The demand for them was fair.

Apple arrivals were 4232 boxes. Belleflower were the best trading variety of the morning. Other deciduous fruits were all unchanged in value.

The first salmon arrivals of the season were reported in. They are shipped here from the Sacramento district, as well as all the way from Oregon. They brought 15 cents a pound. Other large fish receipts were very light. A few mackerel, bonita and yellowtail constituted the bulk of receipts.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company's new President, Capt. Cousins, cleared today for San Diego, with passengers and freight. He will call tomorrow bound for Seattle, via Redondo Beach and San Francisco.

The flag-ship Perry, Lieut. Richardson, commanding, and the other vessels of the Pacific squadron flotilla sailed tonight for San Diego. The U.S.S. Preble was dispatched this morning to the assistance of the navy tug Navajo, which informed the flag-ship by wireless that she was having trouble with a target which was being towed from San Francisco. Off Point Conception a heavy sea and rough weather was encountered and the Navajo could not make any headway with her tow. The other Justin accompanied the flotilla to San Diego.

The British steamer Penrith Castle, Capt. Davis, will complete the discharge of 1900 tons of general cargo here and is scheduled to clear tomorrow for San Francisco.

SHARES AND MONEY.

MONEY MARKET GROWS FIRMER.

MAKES MORE POSITIVE FORCE ON SIDE OF DEPRESSION.

Month—Higher Rates Expected. Interior Demand for Currency Expands Again Unexpectedly, Meeting Necessity for Preparations for Settlements on First of Next

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The waning influence of some of the factors which have been related on to lift and hold the prices of stocks became evident in today's market. The growing firmness of the money market made a more positive force on the side of depression. The technical position was in favor of the party of reaction as a result of the accumulation of holding in the course of the advance, with no other purpose than to resell at a profit. Such selling was heavy at times, but closing prices were above the lowest. The interior demand for currency has expanded again unexpectedly this week. This meets the necessity for preparations for November 1 settlements, which include the maturity of large obligations in London.

The stiffening of the call money rate yesterday and today is looked upon as a mere preliminary to higher rates next week. It is suspected that the rise in the discount rate in London is having the effect of impeding transfer of Canadian bank balances, which are large in New York, to the London market.

The fall in British consols to 78⅝ marked so rapid a decline in that security as to demoralize investment issues.

Bonds were steady; sales par value, $2,574,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

He Charges Fraud.

FACTORS IN TRADE.

Australian Cites Reasons Why Our Merchants Are Losing Business With His Country.

Pacific Coast merchants are losing trade daily with Australia, according to Howard W. Berry of Melbourne, who, with his wife and secretary, arrived at the Alexandria yesterday on his way home after a trip around the world.

"The first great loss to the United States merchant resulted through the withdrawal of the Pacific Coast ship subsidy. As soon as the vessels plying between San Francisco, San Diego, Seattle or other ports on this Coast and Australian ports, were withdrawn from service, on account of the loss of the subsidy, the business went to Vancouver and other British points.

"Germany and Japan were the other two countries which benefited next in their export trade. When the United States took over the Hawaiian Islands, it made another mistake in applying to these islands the Coastal laws forbidding the trading of foreign vessels without heavy duty. The trade between Honolulu and Australia has dwindled to nothing practically.

"There is still another factor which is making the imports of Australia smaller and that is the continual growing production. Great land areas are coming under cultivation. The various portions of the continent are becoming more prosperous all the time and the result is that, in a number of years, we will have to import few, if any, food stuffs. At present, we are getting a considerable amount of canned and dried fruit, nuts and some fresh fruit from California."

Mr. Berry will go through the orange belt tomorrow and sign a number of contracts for dried and citrus fruits.

GRATEFUL FOR ASSISTANCE.

The members of the Magnolia Whist and Bridge Club have issued a card extending sincere thanks to the firms and individuals who generously assisted in the card party for the benefit of the sufferers from The Times Building disaster. Charles A. Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Company donated the use of the hall for two days; Barker Brothers Furniture Company supplied the chairs and tables; the Ville de Paris, the score cards; Nordlinger & Sons, Vollmer-Jantzen, Bullock's, J. R. Newberry Company, Mrs. George Dryden, Mrs. B. F. Kardell, Mrs. George Maxon and Mrs. S. D. Parker, each donated valuable prizes, thus enabling the club to devote the entire proceeds of the sale of tickets, amounting to $110, to the general relief fund at the First National Bank.

SCROFULA
HEREDITARY BLOOD POISON

Scrofula is a disease manifested usually by a swelling and ulceration of the glands, especially about the neck. It is almost entirely hereditary in its origin, being the dregs or remains of some specific blood poison. Where the blood is greatly weakened with the scrofulous poison, the disease attacks other portions of the system besides the glands, and then we see its effects in weak eyes, poorly developed bodies, running sores and ulcers, skin diseases, especially on the scalp, catarrhal troubles, etc. Scrofula usually makes its appearance in childhood, though manhood or womanhood may not be reached before the poison progresses to the stage of outward manifestation. S. S. S. is the one remedy for Scrofula. It is a blood purifier without an equal, and it cures by destructive blood poison by removing every trace of the infection from the circulation. S. S. S., in addition to cleansing and purifying the blood, tones the stomach and digestive organs, puts new blood in the circulation, puncles and nourishing matter for the skin, tissue and tissue formation. S. S. S. increases the appetite, builds up the powers of the system and by giving health and building up the whole body allows nature to make a perfect and lasting cure. Book describing disease and any medical advice free to all who write.

LETTERS IN TORRENT.

CASE HINGES ON "CAP" "B"

TWO CLAIMANTS STRUGGLE FOR BUNNELL DOLLARS.

NEW JERSEY AND INDIANA BOTH IN THE FIGHT.

QUESTION OF INITIALS CUTS REAL FIGURE.

A "B" or not a "B" or whether it is better to have a "B" for your middle initial or a legacy of $10,000 was the question around which surged a torrent of oratory in Judge Rives's court yesterday. It was in the case of William B. Probasco of Asbury Park, N. J., against William Probasco of South Bend, Ind., for possession of a $10,000 legacy left to William Probasco by the late Theodore P. Bunnell of Santa Monica.

Both of the principals claim to be the William Probasco mentioned in Bunnell's will. The Asbury Park Probasco boasts of 92 winters while the South Bend Probasco is 35. Both claim to have been the nearest and dearest to the heart of Bunnell.

The will of Theodore P. Bunnell, who died about two and a half years ago while visiting in Colorado Springs, has been variously attacked. About one year ago when the will was filed for probate a woman named Melissa Zink appeared with a note calling for $20,000 which she averred had been given her by Bunnell when she was a mere girl for an alleged wrong. The case was tried and the woman lost.

STRIKE A SNAG.

The executors, who are represented by Attorney William P. O'Neil of Mishawawa, Ind., had decided to distribute the estate which amounted to between $150,000 and $200,000, among the heirs and had arrived at the clause where William Probasco was to get $10,000.

The younger Probasco whose father, Abraham Probasco, had come in for $10,000 legacy had prepared to receive the donation but as he was rehearsing his speech of acceptance the heavy villain of the play in the guise of a benign old gentlemen of 93 years of age yelled "Hold" and they held.

He stated that he is William Probasco and that he was a near kin to the deceased Bunnell and he backed it up so strenuously that the younger Probasco returned home burned his speech of acceptance and hired a lawyer.

William P. O'Neil, who has spent the last two years trying to settle the tangles which have arisen among the Bunnell heirs, got the job. He hastened to Asbury Park, N. J. and took the deposition of the claimant. Then he skipped across the continent to Santa Monica and secured a number of letters which Bunnell had received from the Asbury Park claimant and which he gleefully found to be signed William B. Probasco.

And upon the presence of this "B" in the name of the aged claimant from New Jersey the final disposition of the $10,000 hangs.

The letters written by the Asbury Park Probasco to Bunnell have been introduced as evidence. They consist principally of caustic fault finding, with a flash of New England wit.

CUTS OUT THE "B".

Probasco of Asbury Park has denied strenuously in his deposition that his name is William B. Probasco and said that he used the middle initial in recent years only at the behest of a relative whose name began with B. It was shown by Attorney O'Neil that the elder Probasco had continually called himself William B. Probasco and that after the will was made public, had gone so far as to take a pen knife and cut the letter "B." from a rubber stamp he used. It was also shown by O'Neil that the man in Asbury Park was worth about $100,000 or more and that there had been no friendship between him and Bunnell.

The only friendship shown, O'Neil stated, had been when Probasco urged Bunnell and his wife to come to Asbury Park and remain over the winter, providing they would agree to pay him a good stiff board bill. He offered as an inducement, O'Neil stated, to tell Bunnell his secret of longevity which proved to be a patent electric belt which Probasco said he had worn for years and enabled him to "run faster and jump higher than any man of fifty years."

Judge Rives took the case under advisement.

LEGAL STORM CENTER.

Captain of Beer-Laden Ship Arrested on Charge Made by a Brewery.

A. W. E. Thompson, part owner of the bark Allen Besse, which is now held under attachment in the port of Los Angeles, will have to be a good mariner to sail through the storm of trouble which has arisen before him.

He was arrested yesterday for the second time on a charge of embezzlement. The last complaint alleges that he appropriated for his own use $747.50, which was the property of the Maier Brewing Company. He was released by Justice Beard under $2000 bonds to insure his appearance on November 11 for examination.

He was already under $3000 bonds, given for his appearance on a charge of embezzlement, which was preferred by the East Side Brewing Company. In this case he is said to have gotten away with $3600.

Thompson took a shipload of beer to the Hawaiian Islands last summer. His failure to make returns to the concerns for which he was agent is said to have caused them to institute criminal proceedings.

The firm which loaded and unloaded the bark in San Pedro harbor is proceeding civilly against him in the United States Circuit Court. Although the ship has a cargo ready to be taken to foreign parts, it cannot leave the harbor on account of being subject to an attachment.

HIGHLY-PRIZED FIFTY CENTS.

W. W. Todd of No. 600 West Vernon avenue has in his possession a 50 cent continental bill which was issued a month before the Declaration of Independence. It has for a motto: "Mind Your Own Business" and was printed by Hall & Sellers of Pennsylvania, June, 1776. It is a prized family relic.

STRIKER GUILTY.

Seward Perrine, charged with felony by reason of a lewd act committed with a child under 10 years of age, was convicted in Department Twelve of the Superior Court yesterday. Perrine is one of the brewery strikers.

CIRCUIT BROKEN.

TWENTY-THREE" FOR SEELEY.

TELEPHONE SUPERINTENDENT RESIGNS HIS OFFICE.

Gilkyson, Another "Twenty-three" Year Man, Will Succeed Him. Glendale Gets New $60,000 Cable Trunk Line To Be Open for Service Saturday Night.

"Twenty-three" has again taken deadly effect, this time in the case of C. M. Seeley, division commercial superintendent of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. After twenty-three years as a live wire in the telephone system of Los Angeles he has broken the circuit, and on November 1 becomes part owner in the Fairchild-Wilton-Gilmore Company.

The rule of twenty-three, however, is not mathematically exact. J. W. Gilkyson who has been with the same company for twenty-three years succeeds Mr. Seeley. Mr. Gilkyson has been division superintendent of the plant and will assume his new duties without initiation. The two officers of the company have worked together and the policy of management will not be changed.

Mr. Gilkyson's successor has not yet been appointed.

The fact that Glendale will enjoy better telephone service after next Saturday night has nothing to do with "23" magic or the change in officers. Mr. Seeley and Mr. Gilkyson are equally responsible. The fact remains that a new cable trunk line has been installed at a cost of $60,000 and will be opened to service at once. Delays in securing the right of way have interfered with the plans for improving the connections to this suburb.

Mr. Gilkyson will take charge of one of the best organized telephone systems to be found in any part of the country. The campaign of extensive improvement in service which has been going on for several years will be vigorously continued.

GIFT TO CITY PARK ZOO.

Market Proprietors Forego Butchering Big Brown Bear and Present It to Commissioner Lippincott.

The City Park Department added one brown bear to its zoo collection yesterday. It became noised about that the Newmarket Company, which is about to open its new branch, near the corner of Fifth and Hill streets, had a handsome brown bear corralled in its basement, to be butchered and served to customers on the opening day. J. B. Lippincott, Park Commissioner, said he loved bears and would like to see it, and finding it a really beautiful animal, suggested that it would be the handsome thing to present the bear to the Park Department. This would occasion a considerable loss to the company, as bear meat is a delicacy that finds ready sale, but after thinking the matter over, Messrs. Jeffries annd Wenk, proprietors of the market, decided to acquiesce in the request, and notified Mr. Lippincott that he could have the bear.

It was captured in San Luis Obispo county several years ago, and now weighs 600 pounds, and will be an attractive addition to the zoo. In order to compensate the donors, in some measure, for their generosity, the commission will provide a cage for the bear, and allow it to remain on exhibition at the Hill-street establishment for two weeks. It will then be taken to the zoo in Eastlake Park, but will eventually be placed in Griffith Park, which Mr. Lippincott regards as the apple of his eye, in a desire to keep it a wild, native woodland, where bears and all other wild animals will not seem out of place

SWELL.

IS AN ARTIST IN "HOT AIR"

MILLIONAIRE ROW SMOKES AT HIS WARM PACE.

BLOWS INTO TOWN AS A HIGH STYLE FINANCIER.

BUT THE "DOCTOR" IS FORCED TO TAKE A SNEAK.

From the purchase of $40,000 worth of promising local acreage and an artistic bungalow, valued at $10,000, to the sale of $300 worth of undelivered stock in a mine that may not exist, was so much of a drop that the Los Angeles hotelmen extended Dr. A. M. Waters a cordial invitation to leave this city, with the sympathetic advice never to return.

Dr. Waters arrived, prosperous and urbane, late in September. With a smile and a flourish he registered at the Angelus, looking around in a disappointed way for the brass band which was not there to participate in his reception.

Amazed that the clerk had never heard of his name, the man who supposed that his fame had preceded him to the ends of the earth, informed the insignificant hotel employee that he was none less than his August Highness, the first vice-president of the Ford Automobile Company of Detroit.

Now the Ford is a bang-up machine and its makers have money as well as gasoline to burn. Dr. Waters was made welcome. The best in the house and the best in the city was none too good for him. Hardly had he been assigned to the best available suite in the house when he got busy with the telephone.

Before the sun had descended upon a day forever momentous in the history of Los Angeles, nearly every body in the city with any big thing to sell had been informed that the doctor was here, with the Ford millions back of him, to make investments by the wholesale. The information was straight, for the doctor himself was the informant.

BUSY AT ONCE.

The first thing he wanted to buy was several acres of land in the suburbs of the city, which might do for town lots a few months hence. Having accepted a nice $60,000 tract in the Southwest, for which deeds were drawn and an abstract of title made, the genial investor proceeded to pick out the style bungalow which would be most nearly in keeping with his taste and fortune, and a contract for this nice property was drawn at a specified price of $10,000.

These brief negotiations having been satisfactorily concluded, Dr. Waters consented to be entertained by the local agency of the Ford and by other people worth while.

No one knew very much about him, and for the sake of conforming to ordinary commercial usages, he casually mentioned in places where it would do the most good that he had deposited $35,000 at the Security Bank for pin money. He dined at the Alexandria and at the Van Nuys on a scale that threatened the early exhaustion of the thirty-five "thou." In fact, he was what some persons might describe as a "blooded feeder." He was the sort who orders three-inch steaks, buried in so many fresh mushrooms that it would take an explorer of Walter Wellman's capacity to discover it.

Some weeks before his arrival in the city, the doctor had been introduced to the wife of a fairly well-known hotelman in this city. He met the lady in the North, when she was on her way home, and, realizing the value of the right introduction, he found an early opportunity to renew the acquaintance.

ROOM RENT IS DUE.

As soon as consistent with the breeding of a gentleman, he endeavored to make a confidant of the lady's husband to the extent of seeking a mutual investment in a good hotel property in Southern California. He might have made it stick temporarily, since the man into whose notice he had thus brought himself stands well with the local association, but about the time the deal was ready to be turned, he failed to square for his last week's room rent at the Angelus, the same delicate item amounting to the trivial sum of $30.

To be sure, $30 is of no consequence whatever in the face of transactions running high into the thousands, but $30 is a great deal more money than the Angelus, or any other hotel in the city expects to lose.

It also happened that on the very day that this bill was due and was not paid, C. F. Loomis of the Angelus was informed by one of his employees that he had just come upon an extraordinary piece of good fortune. This employee had struck it so rich that he begged to resign, having in prospect the immediate construction of a very much larger hostelry than now accommodates the patrons of Los Angeles.

Always ready to congratulate an employee or any other man upon a stroke of good luck, Mr. Loomis gladly listened to the young man's story. Whereupon, he was led to a private chamber and in profound secrecy trusted with the confidence that Dr. A. M. Waters had sold the young man 1000 shares of mining stock that was too good to be true, at only 10 cents a share.

THAT WONDERFUL MINE.

The doctor had told the young man a wonderful story. He had a mine near Winnipeg which was asupposed to be only copper, but on which he had unearthed a shoot of silver ore so large and so rich that its value would make the greatest financier in America pale at the mere mention of its worth.

Under the laws of Canada, the doctor said, he would be assessed by the cruel tax people for every cent's worth of ore exposed. He had therefore hastily covered over his big fine and would not uncover it until next year's tax assessments had been made. Meanwhile, he was selling a very few close friends a limited number of the shares in his company at only 10 cents a coupon.

Two and two make four in the hotel business, and while Mr. Loomis is not rapid at mathematics, he knows a man who is. That man is E. W. Cason of the Associated Hotel Brokers, 422-423 Grant Building. Associated with him is L. A. Walker. Any time a bogus party can hand anything to these two gentlemen and get away with it, he is welcome to the loot. Also, he will be presented with a handsome gold medal from the Panama Exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

TEARS OFF MASK.

Mr. Cason wired the Ford people to ask about their vice-president, named Waters. They wired quickly, but they had not any. He wrote them that he knew better because he had seen him in the flesh. He knew that he was no ghost because he weighed 200 pounds, had red hair, a white smile and a hand shake a yard wide. Also he sold mining stock worth thousands of dollars at 10 cents per.

Even this failed to impress the manufacturers of the Ford. Not that they had not heard of Dr. Waters before. On the contrary, they had heard from him frequently and unpleasantly. He had made them no end of trouble at many and divers points on the map and was wanted in two or three places for obtaining money on transactions which would not bear the sun. They would be very much obliged to the hotel men of Los Angeles if they could secure evidence which would put Dr. Waters in a position where he would be less spontaneous and promiscuous.

The hotel men here did not do this, but they did confront the doctor with the facts in the case and gave him three hours in which to raise money on a questionable check for the liquidation of his hotel bill and the return of $300 to innocent purchasers of his apparently fictitious stock. Furthermore they permitted him to pay the Ford agency for every gallon of gasoline burned in his entertainment.

Straightway the Doctor made good and then faded from the local horizon. He is now believed to be in Canada where he may be operating his great hot air mine.

UNCLE SAM'S HINT.

Young Stanford Student May Hold Homestead by Marrying and Sending Wife To Live on It.

While the Federal laws contain nothing directly framed to prevent race suicide, it has provisions which impliedly foster the establishment of marital relations.

A Stanford University student will ascertain this fact when he receives a reply to a letter he wrote to the Register and Receiver of the local Land Office.

The young man took up a homestead eighteen miles west of El Centro in the Imperial Valley last summer. With the opening of the fall term he returned to college. He now fears that he will lose his right to hold the land until he can make final proof on it.

He sent a letter to the officials asking them if there was some means whereby he could keep his residence on the property by living on it during the Christmas and summer vacations.

The reply to his inquiry will contain the information that a residence can only be maintained actually or constructively. An actual residence in the eyes of the law is the occupation of the property by the claimant and a constructive residence is one maintained by a claimant's family.

If the student desires to keep the property he has his choice of two courses. He must either give up his college career and move to the homestead, or he must marry and send his wife to live on it.

In this manner Uncle Sam impliedly gives aid to the efforts of Cupid.

ANOTHER HENRY NOTE.

D. W. Silbeck brought an action yesterday against Victor C. Henry, now in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of forgery, alleging that he had been made the victim of the clever forger's wiles. On Sept. 17, he alleges that Henry secured from hima loan of $2500, secured by a trust deed on the westerly 150 feet from lot No. 43, of the Abbott Kinney Tract, calling for the return by Henry of $3000, or an addition of $500 for the accomodation. The notes given by Henry were payable in four months, at the home of the plantiff, 3923 South Olive street. Silbeck says that he has since ascertained that Henry does not own the property involved, and that the mortgage or trust deed is worthless. He asks that the court give him a judgment for $3000

LONG SEARCH.

IS "STUBBY" WEEKS, '49ER, ALIVE OR DEAD?

THE STORY of "Stubby" (Nelson) Weeks would be one of the romantic narratives of early Southern California if it had a sequel. This hardy Forty-niner may be alive today or he may have died the violent death that befell many of the pioneers. His niece, Mrs. J. E. Robinson, of No. 957 South Broadway, is still looking for him and occasionally she receives anxious letters from his family back East asking if nothing has ever been discovered regarding him.

Nelson Weeks was one of a party of hardy residents of the Catskill mountains, who in the days of the gold fever put their money together and built a ship with which they sailed around the Horn. The ship was named The Orbit and was commanded by Capt. Frank Best. All but three members of this party met comparatively early deaths and they are all accounted for but Weeks.

Nelson Weeks was a short, stocky man of great physical strength and was soon nicknamed "Stubby." It is under this name that his relatives expect to find him if they ever do make a discovery. He is 91 years old, if still alive, but as his father reached the age of 98 and his mother 103 this would not be unduly estimating his probability of life.

Weeks did not disappear at once. He went prospecting in Tuolumne county and was successful in finding gold. In 1852 he returned to his old home and the same year came back to California. For some years after he wrote at long intervals. The last letter that is definitely remembered was one written in 1853, saying that Weeks was just returning from the location of some mining claims in the mountains and was on his way to his home in Sonoma, where he owned 300 acres of land.

Mrs. Robinson has never been able to make a personal search through the State, but has written many letters and interviewed every Forty-niner she could meet. She has heard of him indirectly up to within the last twenty years. From that time forward his movements have been a mystery.

The interest of the relatives in trying to find traces of Weeks is due to the strength of family ties among the people of the East. They would like to know whether he is dead or alive. They do not anticipate that he left any large unclaimed fortune and would not be surprised to find him still on the frontier in some remote part of the West.

Few of the Forty-niners who spent the early part of their lives in prospecting accepted the civilization that crowded fast upon their tracks and the few of them still left are generally found in the outposts and mining camps of today. In the hope of reaching some one in these remote places who might assist her Mrs. Robinson made the fact of her search public for the first time yesterday by giving what information she had to The Times.

"DOPE."

SMUGGLERS OF OPIUM IN DESPERATE GAME.

SLAVES of the opium smoking habit are willing to pay such high prices for the drug that persons of many nations continue to be willing to take chances of smuggling it into this country in defiance of the Federal laws.

Gangs of men in close combination are always on the alert for an opportunity to slip past the government officers with a quantity of the essence of poppies, which has been made precious by its prohibition.

The remuneration for a successful escapade of this nature is so great that it pays for the expense of much cunning and effort to outwit the officials.

The government constantly has a number of men near the Mexican border under surveillance, with the result that arrests are frequent.

Two Chinese smugglers were taken in custody yesterday. They are reported to have been caught with the "goods on." The gave their names as M. Sing and Ling Sang. All efforts to get any information out of them as to where they procured the drug and as to whether any one else was implicated with them, were unavailing. This is the usual experience with prisoners arrested for this offence.

No man in the government service has been able to ascertain what power so successfully closes their lips. It is believed that they are bound together by threats and that the man who gives up on his fellow conspirators is marked for death.

As the lines are drawn closer against the smugglers, the price of "dope" goes bounding up. It is now so precious that only the wealthy can afford to indulge in it. The poorer men are willing to deprive themselves of food for the sake of it, and often do so.

The higher the value placed on it is, the greater are the efforts of the smugglers to get past the Federal officers.

ALL ABOARD.

SCHEDULE FOR FOUR TRACKS.

PASADENA CARS WILL RUN ON NEW LINE TOMORROW.

Temporary Time Table Soon To Be Made Permanent Upon Completion of South Pasadena Franchise Provisions—Much Time Saved and Danger of Blockades Reduced—Stops and Runs.

The Pacific Electric will place the new four track system from Los Angeles to South Pasadena in operation tomorrow morning under a temporary schedule. The complete schedule for the operation of the line will go into effect immediately upon the completion of the franchise provisions which the City of South Pasadena imposed upon the road.

Under the present schedule the entire northwestern territory will be greatly benefited and the time from Los Angeles to Oneonta Park will be cut approximately 10 minutes by the new schedule.

General Superintendent McCaffery posted the following general order yesterday morning covering operation of the new system.

Beginning Friday, October 28, a line of cars will be operated between El Molino and Sixth and Main streets, Los Angeles, using the outside tracks between El Molino and Indian Village, and will make stops at all regular streets and stations to take on and discharge passengers.

Until such time as the schedule on the Pasadena short line is re-arranged all cars, except the flyer of that line, will stop at every street and regular stopping place between Columbia street and Oneonta Junction, but will not stop between Oneonta Junction and First and Los Angeles street when south bound to take on passengers; however, south bound cars will stop at Sierra Vista, Covina Junction and at all points south of Anderson street to discharge passengers.

Cars of the Sierra Madre, Manrovia, Glendora, and Oak Knoll lines, using the inside tracks, when south bound, will not make any stops to pick up passengers between El Molino and First and Los Angeles streets, with the exception of Fletcher avenue and Oneonta Junction; however, cars of these lines will stop at El Molino, Oneonta Junction, Sierra Vista, Covina Junction and other points south of Anderson street to discharge passengers.

All interurban cars, north bound, excepting flyers, using the inside track, will stop only to discharge local passengers at Oneonta Junction and Fletcher avenue.

North bound interurban cars, excepting flyers, will stop at regular stations between Sixth and Main streets, and Aliso and Anderson streets, to pick up through passengers destined to points north of Oneonta Junction on the short line, and east of El Molino.

Pasadena short line flyers, will stop at Oneonta Park, and at a point to be designated between Oneonta and Mission street, South Pasadena.

The estop will probably be at Oxley street

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor yesterday decided to accompany the automobile excursion along the line of the aqueduct, and will be absent from his office for seven days.

Attorney Frank W. Burnett was found by a jury to have overcharged $900 in the matter of an attorney fee for the collection of $6000 in notes.

Judge Covert, yesterday, denied either Charles Edwin Reeves or his wife, Lydia Maud Reeves, any relief in their divorce litigation. The fight will now be for the son, Charles John Reeves.

A peppery answer was filed in Judge Hutton's court yesterday by Florence E. Watkins, administratrix of the estate of O. J. Watkins, in the matter of the interminable litigation of the California Fruit Growers' Association.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MAYOR WILL GO UP THE DITCH.

DECIDES TO ACCOMPANY PARTY ON AUTO TOUR.

Needs a Rest and Wants To Get Acquainted With the Great Aqueduct Enterprise—Water Commission Wishes To Sell Part of Old Downey-Avenue Reservoir.

Mayor Alexander has determined to be one of the party on the automobile excursion to the Aqueduct, next Saturday. W. D. Stephens, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Aqueduct, called on the Mayor yesterday and prevailed upon him to make the trip.

"I have never been up along the Aqueduct," said the Mayor, "and I decided to accept this opportunity to acquaint myself with the work."

The Mayor also said that he is in need of a rest and that he anticipates much pleasure as well as a much-needed relief from office pressure. He will be gone about seven days.

City Librarian Wright called upon the Mayor yesterday, to acquaint him with the fact that there is in the Public Library a really valuable municipal reference library, and he desires that all persons interested in the subject shall be fully informed, so as to take advantage of the books there collected. Many books of that character reach the Mayor's office and hereafter all such will be turned over to the librarian for classification and to be placed at the disposal of the public.

OLD DOWNEY RESERVOIR.

SALE OF PART RECOMMENDED.

The Board of Water Commissioners have filed a recommendation to the City Council that a portion of the old Downey-avenue reservoir, known as Reservoir No. 5, be sold at a price not below $500.

This piece was detached from the main reservoir site by the opening of Mission road, and as it is not now available for water purposes, the city has no special use for it. Behind this statement is the fact that assessments and costs against the property, for the improvement of North Broadway (formerly Downey avenue), and the opening of Mission road, amount to $1800 and the Water Board regards this as more than the property is worth to the city, though it is of greater value for other purposes. The purchaser, at $500, would be required to also pay these claims against it and would in reality pay between $2300 and $2400 for the property, which is regarded as a fair price.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

DOUBLE CROSS FOR DIVORCE.

JUDGE REFUSES A DECREE TO EITHER PARTY.

Case of International Interest Ends, for Time Being, in Local Court, but New Legal Fight Is Threatened for Custody of Only Child of Couple.

On the theory, perhaps, that a litigant in a court of justice must approach the portal of the temple with clean hands, Judge Covert, in the Superior Court yesterday, denied the prayer of the complaint for divorce, brought by Charles Edwin Reeves against Lydia Maud Reeves. At the same time the court declined to afford the affirmative relief prayed for by the wife, in the way of the custody of the son, Charles John Reeves, and separate maintenance, so that under the ruling of the court, the parties still hold the same legal relation to each other.

The care and custody of the son which was really the bone of contention, is still undecided, with the chances that an action will soon be brought in the courts to determine that matter. Under an order of Judge Rives, made some months ago, the child was placed in the care of John Alten, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, and the cost of his keeping has been paid by the father. The wife is here penniless, having been brought here from Seattle, at the cost of Reeves, for the purpose of allowing her to defend the divorce action, and her movements are problematic.

Reeves, himself, has a fine country home in the Eagle Rock Valley district, and in addition, according to the testimony of witnesses, invested nearly $3000 in two properties in Whittier, in one of which Miss Annie Crooks, the English serving maid, is living, who came all the way from Auckland, New Zealand, at the expense of Reeves, as a witness, more than two years ago, her return being paid by Reeves ever since, by the evidence of Miss Crooks herself.

The decision of Judge Covert ends, for the time, an international divorce action, for Mrs. Reeves, in the search for her son who was taken away from Auckland, in June, 1909, after the articles of separation had been signed, went to Australia, England, South Africa, and then to New York, seeking her boy.

Reeves was finally located in Los Angeles, and it appeared also from the testimony that he was masquerading under the name of George Hall, at least so far as the Whittier investments were concerned. She impoverished herself in the hunt for the boy, and was compelled to seek employment in a store in Seattle, where she worked for $25 a month.

Now will come the struggle for the custody of the boy, for under the law the wife is as much entitled to his care as the husband, unless it can be shown that she is an unfit and improper person to be charged with his care.

SUIT AGAINST LAWYER.

FOR ALLEGED ILLEGAL FEES.

A jury in Judge McCormick's department yesterday returned a verdict of $500 in the case brought by J. S. Johnston against Attorney Frank W. Burnett, to recover $700, alleged to be due on account of attorney fees that had been retained by Burnett in a suit that he had been compelled to take to the Supreme Court for final settlement.

It seems that Johnston gave Burnett three notes, aggregating in value $6000 for collection, and the notes provided that proper attorney fees should accompany the collection of the money, which was estimated at $310 to be Burnett for the work.

Suit was brought for the money, and the case went virtually by default, Burnett securing judgment in behalf of Johnston for the full amount of the three notes. Afterward the matter was brought up by the maker of the notes setting up fraud, and the case was carried to the Supreme Court, where Johnston finally secured judgment for $7200, which included the face value of the notes and interest.

It was alleged by Johnston that in making the remittance on account of the judgment, that Burnett retained $1100 as his fee for the service, and the action was brought to recover the difference between the $310 that was the sum originally fixed as his pay and the $1100 that he retained. It was argued on behalf of Burnett that the original amount only covered the proceedings in the Superior Court, but the jury evidently thought that the services were not worth what Burnett charged for them.

PEPPERY ANSWER.

SMELLY LEGAL CASE AGAIN.

In Judge Hutton's court yesterday, an order was made allowing an answer to be filed on behalf of Florence E. Watkins, administratrix of the estate of O. J. Watkins, to the second amended complaint of the case brought by Henry G. Dent and N. A. Ransome against the California Fruit Growers' Association, and about a dozen other defendants.

It is alleged that O. J. Watkins died December 21, 1907, and that the petitioner was ordered by the court to appear in his behalf; but denies that the Rialto Land and Water Co., American Loan and Trust Co., or the Rialto Development Co., were organized by Watkins for the purpose of holding property and assets as agents and trustees for the

It is also denied that the plaintiffs are the legal owners of the shares of stock alleged to be held by them, but that they were issued without consideration to C. Maurice Bartlett, for the use of and delivered to C. P. W. Watson, and then acquired by Dent with the full knowledge that they had been issued without consideration, and wrongfully taken from the treasury of the association.

It is admitted that the California Fruit Growers Association was the owner of 1932.34 acres of land, subject to deed of trust of $210,000 to the Merchants Trust Co., and that shortly following the appointment of a receiver for the defendant association commenced proceedings to sell the same. Injunction proceedings were brought by Dent, and Judge James refused to enjoin the sale of the property.

The sale was made at San Bernardino, and the land purchased by the Fontana Development Co., by John C. North and others. Dent then brought suit to enjoin the delivery of the deed, but the matter was compromised. It is alleged that 120 bonds of the Rialto Irrigation district were fraudulently appropriated by Dent, and by him exchanged with the Citizen's Water Company of San Bernardino for 1340 shares of stock in that company. The subdivision of the large tracts of land is reverted to, and denial made of the allegation that any money was wrongfully diverted by Watkins and others.

The answer in voluminous pages goes into the transactions of the California Fruit Growers Association, and asks that Henry G. Dent and N. A. Ransome be denied the right to use the court for their alleged "base and fraudulent purposes," that they be declared acting in bad faith, and not for the California Fruit Growers Association, its creditors, contract and stockholders; that the pending suit be dismissed; and that Dent and the recounting of all property in their ceiver be required to make an accounting of all property in their ceiver be required to make an accounting of all property in their ceiver be required to make an acc

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

SOUTH PROFITS BY CONDITIONS.

FULLERTON AND WHITTIER DISTRICTS ARE BUSY.

HAVE STEADY PRODUCTION OF HIGH-GRADE OIL.

GENERAL NEWS OF INTEREST FROM OIL FIELDS.

Because of the conditions in the arth, due to the unusual production f heavy oil, there has been a disposi- on on the part of the public to for- et what is going on south of the Te- achapi. The industry in the southern ields has been greatly stimulated by he conditions now obtaining, and hroughout Orange and Los Angeles ounties, everything has a bright and rosperous appearance.

In the extreme eastern end of the ity of Los Angeles, on what is known s Boyle Heights, a well is now being rilled by the Tarbell Oil Company, which is 400 feet deep. This is located three-fourths of a mile beyond the city imits towards Whittier. Farther down the line the Belle Vernon Oil Company has a well drilled 2200 feet. It has been suspended for some time, ut preparations are being made to re- ume work. Some miles further on A. J. Gilmore is drilling, and still further on, the Standard Oil Company has a well 2200 feet deep, which will be sunk still deeper and a thorough test made. Up in the hills several miles to the east, the Whittier field stands out in bold relief. Many experienced oil men believe that within a few years this en- tire valley will be filled with producing wells, as it is their opinion that the oil belt extends out that way. In this territory lie the Bastanchury and Em- ery ranches, owned by the Union Oil Company, the former being tested at this time with two drilling wells. The territory, if it ever makes good, will be very deep, as one well, the Bastan- chury No. 1, is now 4450 feet deep.

Beyond these ranches one comes to Fullerton and thence into the oil fields six miles beyond. In this field there is evidence everywhere of new work being undertaken. There are many good producing properties in the Ful- lerton district, among them the Colum- bia Oil Company. This company has 80 acres of land, its camp is neat and new and its street is well-graded with a line of maple trees set out in artis- tic order. It has eighteen producing wells, many of them doing better than 30 barrels a day. No. 12 was brought in four years ago at a depth of 2375 feet and has produced continuously. It averaged over 1000 barrels a day for more than a year, then showed a grad- ual decline till it was producing 450 barrels a day where it remains. Drill- ing in this territory is tedious, as it requires about eighteen months to complete a well. The Columbia main- tains its own machine shop. It is now drilling three wells. Adjoining this property the Orange Oil Company has one well that is producing 800 barrels of oil a day.

In the Whittier field it is said that the recapitalized Central Oil Company will open up quite an area of new terri- tory. It now has four wells drilling, besides being engaged in deepening several old ones. It now has fifty- three wells producing 22,000 barrels of high grade oil a month. The Murphy Oil Company is the largest producer in the Whittier field, having an output of 45,000 barrels a month. This com- pany is now drilling three wells in the hills, the deepest of which is down over 3000 feet.

The oil producers of the southern fields are not up against the same pro- blems that confront the northern pro- ducers. Their oil is of a refining quali- ty, and commands a good price at all times. Over-production does not worry them.

DETERMINING DISTRICT.

WHAT DRILLING MAY SHOW.

Martin & Dudley, who own the Lake- shore well in the Lost Hills, and were the first to get production in the new district, are considering putting on the market several tracts of forty acres to encourage the formation of small oil companies. In one day recently they received fifteen applications for leases. The wells now drilling in the district will prove a strip of territory fifteen miles long and six miles wide. It looks small on the map of the Devil's Den district, but it is very much larger than the Kern River field, and if it should prove one-half as prolific it would be a world wonder. The work now under way, moreover, will deter- mine the dip of the strata on both sides of the anticline, and thereby in- dicate the probable further extensions of the field both east and west. A number of experts declare that the most promising territory is to the south of the proposed townsite, but all of the earlier drilling was far in the other direction.

LOSE STRING OF TOOLS.

WESTERN CONSOLIDATED.

The Western Consolidated Oil Com- pany, which has been drilling on the Ballard ranch, nine miles from Fres- no, for more than a year has lost the tools in the hole and has decided to move the derrick and commence a new hole. The well was a wildcat located sixty miles from any production, but indications found in the vicinity and a correct geological formation gave encouragement to its promoters.

Although misfortune seems to fol- low every turn in its affairs, the offi- cials have not lost hope and will con- tinue their quest for oil.

Easterners May Invest.

The officials of the German-Ameri- can Oil Land and Development Com- pany, owning twenty acres in the La Habra valley and having a lease on 20 acres in the Newhall district, are authority for the statment that sev- eral members of the Otto Kahn party of eastern financiers will become inter- ested in their venture.

Building Big Storage.

Carl Leonardt, the local contractor, is on his way to Mexico to superintend the construction of a 1,000,000-barrel concrete reservoir for the Huesteca Oil Company of which E. L. Doheny is president. The company has also ar- ranged for the construction of six 55,- 000-barrel steel storage tanks in addi- tion to the five big tanks recently com- pleted.

September Oil Price.

Members of the Independent Oil Pro- ducers' Agency are this week receiving their checks for their September oil. They are getting a little in excess of 36 cents a barrel for their product.

IN HOME OF FASHION.

Crowd Attends Opening of New Store Devoted to Things Ruffled, Fluffed and Tailored.

Of special interest to that part of Los Angeles' population, whose tastes incline to things ruffled and fluffed and tailored and otherwise skillfully devoted to feminine wear was the opening yesterday of the newest and one of the biggest of the city stores specializing therein, the Paris Cloak, Suit and Millinery House, No. 609-11 South Broadway. Even to the un- lettered eye of mere man—of whom there were several representatives in the crowd that kept the big store filled all afternoon—the new house justifies its name in the bewildering quantity of dainty things displayed.

The proprietors, W. H. Hosking, J. F. Peter and W. T. Smith, have labored under considerable difficulty in getting their opening stock, whose value is given as in excess of $100,000, properly arranged over the 26,500 square feet of the store and their 100 employees have been kept at it day and night for the past week, preparing for the opening. Every floor was pro- fusely decorated with ferns, palms and chrysanthemums an especially attrac- tive piece being a giant swastika of yellow chrysanthemums, the gift of the employees to the management.

The main floor is devoted to the mil- linery department. On the mezzanine floor are spacious and handsomely fur- nished rest rooms, with a pretty little tea-room adjoining. On the second floor is a well-nigh endless display of tailored suits, evening gowns, street frocks and pretty much everything else that goes into the makeup of milady's exterior. To such an extent has this department been developed that a good part of its overflows into the third floor, where are also located the fitting rooms and a large, well- lighted and well-ventilated work room for the employees.

NEWLANDS IS BATTING NIXON.

TWO SENATORIAL FRIENDS PITTED AGAINST EACH OTHER.

Interesting Developments of the Nevada Political Campaign. Charges of Corruption Heard, but no Proof Adduced in Response to Big Rewards Offered.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Senators Newlands and Nixon, who are great personal friends and almost cronies, and both of whom have handsome resi- dences in Washington, find themselves pitted against each other this fall in a bitter political struggle, and Senator Nixon seems to stand in real danger of losing his seat.

In Nevada there has long been a be- lief, which nothing seemed able to shake, that there was a "frame-up" between the Senators, one of whom was a Republican and the other a Democrat, and both of whom are wealthy. There is declared, on the best of authority, to be no truth what- ever in this popular belief. However, it seemed impossible to disillusion the minds of the Nevada voters, and partly in consequence of that state of mind Senator Newlands has thrown himself heartily into the State cam- paign. He is practically organizing the campaign against Nixon, he is furnish- ing a large portion of the printed argu- ment and general propaganda, he is contributing money to the campaign, and is going on the stump. Already he has appeared on the public plat- form in California to help Bell, who is running for Governer against Hiram Johnson.

Heretofore the Democratic campaign in Nevada has always been directed by William E. Sharon, a nephew of the late Senator Sharon, but the Democrat- ic Warwick is sulking in his tent this year. He is a politician of the old school. He is down on the irrepressible insurgent, whom he looks on as a polit- ical upstart. In consequence the bur- den is on the shoulders of Senator Newlands, who is still equal to a good, stiff fight.

Insurgency is rampant throughout the State of Nevada. This has but re- cently become really apparent. Rumor is active regarding the corrupting in- fluence of money. The big reward offered by Gov. Dickerson, a Democrat, for evidence of corruption, have not yet resulted in any definite proofs.

It is undoubtedly true that Nixon's popularity has kept him to the fore in a Democratic community thus far. He had no opposition for the primary nomination, and yet his close friend, Judge W. A. Massey, was beaten by State Senator T. L. Oddie for the nomination for the Governorship. At- torney-General George Springmeyer, a rampant insurgent, also won out against Hugh H. Brown, who made a great run last year for the Supreme Bench. Nixon is a stand-patter of the stand- patters, and the indications are that the insurgent forces of Nevada will try their best to batter down his defenses and elect his Democratic opponent, a young man of good reputation named Key Pittman, who won at the prim- aries against three opponents. In Ne- vada the popular vote elects the Sen- ator, so that Nixon is appealing di- rectly to the people. At present the Legislature is Democratic, but there are not enough holdover Senators to give any line on what the political com- plexion of the Senate will be next year.

COTTON IN CALIFORNIA.

Of the cotton crop of the United States two-thirds is exported and until the last few years we consumed in our own mills only one-third, and yet our mills did not supply the home demand for cotton goods, and we imported and paid a high duty upon cotton goods made in Europe from the cotton which we sold to foreign manufacturers.

The cotton grown in Bengal and other portions of British India is far inferior to American cotton. The goods made from it are sent to Africa, South America and Australia, and do not, to any extent, find their way to this country.

No staple product has fluctuated in price so violently or so frequently as cotton. During the Civil War it sold in Liverpool as high as $1.50 per pound, and five years after Appomattox, the market price of cotton was 23 cents per pound in New Orleans. This was due largely to diminished production for, in 1870, we produced only three million bales. Ten years later the production had increased to five and three-quarter million bales, and the price had fallen to 11½ cents per pound. In 1890 we produced seven and one-half million bales and cotton sold in New Orleans for 10 cents per pound. The maximum of production and the minimum of value was reached in 1900 when, with a production of ten million bales, cotton fell to 7¾ cents per pound. This fall in price bankrupted many planters, and caused abandonment of the cultivation of cotton on many plantations. But the ratio of consumption of cotton by American mills increased from 32 per cent. to 40 per cent., new cotton lands in Texas and Oklahoma were opened, and, although the production was maintained at ten million bales, in 1904 the price was advanced to 12 cents per pound. The crops of 1908 and 1909 sold at from 14 to 15 cents per pound, at which price cotton now stands.

With the cheap negro labor of the Southern States, cotton can be placed in the bale on land that will yield not more than half a bale to the acre for 8 cents per pound, and on land that will yield, with the use of fertilizers, one bale to the acre, the planter can pay as high as $40 a month for laborers and still make cotton for 8 cents per pound.

It has been demonstrated during the last two years that cotton of the best quality can be grown in the Imperial Valley, and on the bottom lands of the Colorado River, without fertilizers, and with a yield of more than a bale to the acre. The old-time theory that white men cannot work in the cotton field has been exploded in Oklahoma and Texas. There are over a million acres of virgin land in Riverside county, California, and Yuma county, Arizona, that are available for cotton culture, and at the present price of cotton there is a net profit of $40 or more per acre in growing that staple.

The cotton grown in California will not all be sent east for a market. Much of it will be spun and woven into fabrics here, and Los Angeles, with her hundred thousand horse power of electrical energy from the Owens River Aqueduct, will equip the factories. The shirts and sheets and calicoes of the future are now growing in Imperial Valley. Next year they will be sprouting on the Colorado River bottoms. The cotton of California will find a market in Los Angeles.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The Times reprinted on Sunday from the Argonaut a careful summary of the record of Judge Lawlor of San Francisco, a Democratic nominee for the Supreme Bench, who aspires to capture one of the seats now filled with exceptional ability by Judge Melvin and Judge Sloss, who are candidates to succeed themselves and who should be re-elected. The record shows that Judge Lawlor was appointed by Gov. Budd without having had adequate training or practice; he was barely a beginner at the law and had appeared in court in but one case and then as an assistant to another attorney. Since his appointment to the Superior Court he has been engaged in hearing criminal cases altogether and has had none of that broad experience needed by a judge who must pass upon involved and fundamental questions of civil law. It would seem to the average man to be ridiculous to elevate to the Supreme Court of the State a judge whose acquaintance with judicial procedure is so limited as that of Judge Lawlor. Any township justice in Los Angeles is better qualified. If our courts are not to be degraded into political machines and servants of special interests, the people must not commit the folly of unseating able and experienced jurists like Judges Melvin and Sloss to make jobs for political self-seekers of the type of Lawlor.

NOT FAR ENOUGH BACK.

According to the Department of Agriculture the back-to-the-farm movement is not a particular success. It takes the department a column or more to say so. Boiled down to the bones the column means that the people don't want to go far enough back. They desire to remain within sight and sound of the trolley, to see the city light on the clouds at night and to get the appetizing smell of the glittering restaurants. Going back to the farm is all right so long as the city limits are not lost to sight.

To use the language of the man in the street, a lot of nonsense has been talked about going back to the farm and some people have made the journey who never should have anything but asphalt beneath their feet. The Department of Agriculture points out that "not every city person will make a good farmer." Although that is a fact so simple that it really requires no demonstration, a number of people have felt obliged to prove it to their own satisfaction, or rather dissatisfaction, and at considerable expense. Many a family that went so eagerly back to the farm has returned, sadder but wiser, to the region of bricks and concrete, where the incandescents sputter and life is not disturbed by molting hens.

The person nowadays who, possessing but a small capital, really has an honest wish to get back to the land must travel somewhat farther than the outskirts of cities and must be prepared to put up with inconveniences. Even in Los Angeles county there are points out of reach of the trolley where there isn't even a rural telephone and the people only know that electricity exists because they read so much about it in the Los Angeles papers. There's one thing you never can get away from and that's the newspaper. Who wants to? It follows you into the wilds of Antelope Valley, you come across it 'neath the wide-spreading branches of a sycamore in Topango Canyon, you find The Times beside the big pepper tree on an ancient Spanish rancho, or it is discovered high up on the banks of the Arroyo Seco.

THE DISTURBER.

THE ONLY DIFFERENCE.

And so you've dragged me out to see the youngsters dance. Old wife,
It seems a foolish thing for those who've reached our time of life.
I can't say that I quite approve this calisthenic rage,
Frivolity's become too much the spirit of the age.
There's Jack, he'll lose an evening, and you know he'll have to cram
If he expects to pass next fall his medical exam.
And Susy, our first grandchild, in her 'teens still—yes, I know—
But things were altogether different,
fifty years ago.

It's very bright and pretty—how that waltz runs thro' my head—
Yet all the same, I'd rather be tucked warmly up in bed.
You don't intend to wait, I hope, and see the whole thing through
The girl in pink's most graceful; why,
God bless my soul, it's Sue!
She dances like her granny did, and you were hard to beat;
I never thought our Sue would be so light upon her feet.
But don't you think the movement seems, well just a trifle slow?
They don't show quite the vim we used to, fifty years ago.

Jus' listen how the fiddlers speak;
your eyes are shining, quick!
Let's take one turn; I don't believe you've quite forgot the trick.
The music's going pretty fast, we'll have to make more haste;
How good it feels to get my arm once more around your waist
What's this? Already out of breath?
Or was it I that missed
The step? I know just now my side gave me an awful twist.
No, no! The spirit hasn't changed, altho' the feet are slow;
Altho' we used to dance more briskly,
fifty years ago.

Do you recall that New Year ball?
Dear wife, I see you still,
All rosy as I twirled you in our very first quadrille;
And that mad polka in the barn—mad
as our young hearts' beat—
We seemed to drag the music on behind our flying feet.
Tomorrow, for these few poor steps,
our weary limbs will ache;
And we will think them pleasant pains,
for love, for old time's sake.
How the fond memories of that dance still sets my heart aglow!
Ah, me! we had our spring-time, lassie,
fifty years ago!

HARRY F. BOWLING.

False Pride of Population.

Judging from the census padding revelations, pride of population is more than keeping pace with the actual growth of cities. There have been frauds in the count in former years, but nothing equal to the glaring over-enumeration practiced this year. Often local rivalry prompts the census man to count in floating population as residents, and cases are not rare where a census of the cemeteries was added to that of the town, in order to make a better showing than some nearby point. This appears to have been the incentive in the cases of Tacoma and Seattle and Minneapolis, but in the matter of other cities named by Director Durand the swollen figures point to the amiable American weakness of brag as the motive of the crime, for it is a crime to falsify the returns. It is not recalled, however, that offenders in the past have been made to suffer severely, but in the light of President Taft's letter directing that steps be taken to indict and prosecute the guilty, it is clear that this year's transgressors will not get off scot-free. The statement that many cities and enumerators are involved in the scandal, all the facts concerning which are to be given to the public, adds an unpleasant chapter to census history, but it should have the good effect of showing that census padding can no longer be practiced with impunity and teach a lesson that will not be lost upon the enumerators of the next decade. At any rate, the elimination of the fictitious thousands must give the present census a claim on reliability that puts it beyond successful challenge. It should not be understood that any of the returns so far announced are under suspicion. Those which seem to call for investigation and revision are being held back until the corrected figures are at hand. —[Washington Post.

PROGRESSIVE TRINIDAD.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

Commercial Agent John M. Turner reports that one is impressed with the bustle and activity of Port of Spain, the chief center of business on the Island of Trinidad. The shops are filled with buyers and the streets are full of traffic. The electric street cars are well patronized at cheap fares—7 tickets for 24 cents. Most of the streets are asphalted. Many fine homes are in the coves and beautiful bays around the island and many gasoline launches are in use while many more might be sold. The roads are excellent, offering every inducement for the automobile, with a wealthy buying public.

Trinidad enjoys a large revenue from its pitch lake, considerably over $200,000 a year being paid to the island as royalty. The wonderful thing about this lake is that it fills itself up, to the present level, after years of use, being only a few feet below the original level. The lake is hard at top and one can drive over it in a carriage. There is asphalt in a liquid state forty feet below.

As the pitch lake royalty reduces taxation the customs duties are much less on all classes of goods than in any other of the British Islands, plus some recent increase of 5 to 10 per cent to help pay for public improvements. The duty on flour is 80 cents per barrel and in 1909 there were imported 231,000 barrels in osnaburg sacks of 196 pounds. The flour imports have increased each year since 1905. Creole housekeepers buy their bread first and make the rest of their money do for all other wants. The population is 300,000, using yearly four-fifths barrel per capita.

There is plenty of work for men laborers at 36 cents per day and for women at 24 cents and these wages are higher than in any of the other islands. Cacao, an important crop, is being pushed; sugar has been profitable; merchants are making reasonably good collections, and money is cheap at the bank, being 6 per cent. for good two-name paper, a low rate for an agricultural island. The two banks are branches of Canadian banks.

Drilling for petroleum is an extensive business. Oil is a frequent topic of conversation. Oil has been struck in paying quantities, both asphalt base and paraffin base. For lack of sufficient storage space thousands of gallons of crude oil have run into the sea. Coal of excellent quality has been found in the field between 700 and 800 square miles and possibly also under the Gulf of Paria.

Harbor improvements at Port of Spain, to cost $5,000,000 (to be raised by bonds) are contemplated, looking to the opening of the Panama Canal, so that vessels can call for coal or oil (the port to be practically free) and to discharge cargo or to take on cargo left there for them. British war vessels are also to get oil fuel there. If the proposed long pier is built, all the iron, cement, lumber, piping and other supplies will likely be bought in the United States. At present Trinidad is buying about $1,500,000 worth of American goods yearly.

Biggest Electric Sign in the World.

What will be the biggest electric sign in the world is now under construction upon one of the skyscrapers of New York City. The sign, when completed, will be seventy feet high and ninety feet wide. This gigantic sign will be built to represent the Roman chariot races in such huge proportions that, to the looker-on in the street below, the chariots, charioteers, drivers and horses will appear normal in size. To accomplish this, the main chariot, driver and horses are twenty feet high and forty feet long; 20,000 electric bulbs will be used nightly, and 500,000 feet of insulated copper wire will be used to make the connections. The lights will be flashed in such a way as to make the walls of the arena appear to be left behind as the chariots pass and others appear. The horses will be made to appear as if running for dear life.—[Boys' World.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Summer is half a mile behind us! How it used to jar and grind us, when we sweltered in the heat waves, saying things about the flies! How we groaned and sighed and blustered when the sun, as hot as mustard, gave a daily demonstration in good old smoking skies! O the summer has skedaddled! Down the river it has paddled to the grim and ghostly ocean where the wraiths of summers be; and the Autumn, rich and rosy, soon will follow suit and mosey to the resting of the seasons in that moist and misty sea. Thus the seasons come and guy us, flirt an hour and then slip by us, and we're always growing older, always nearer to the end; and it's better far to rustle, like the seasons, as they hustle, than to stand and cuss the weather as we're apt to do, my friend. Till the old world falls asunder summers will be hot as thunder, and we cannot make them cooler by a lot of grunts and groans; while the old world holds together there'll be cold and stormy weather, and a lot of frantic snorting will not warm our ancient bones. Let us quit this thing of grunting; let us drape ourselves with bunting, shoot a lot of giant crackers and proclaim that all is good! In the winter, in the summer, let our record be a hummer! Let us pump our share of water—let us saw our pile of wood!

A COVETED RIGHT.

By Dora Oliphant Coe.

Really, I don't want the ballot. I wouldn't know what to do with it if I did have it, and I haven't time, anyway, to acquire a facility in using the tool that would insure me from doing damage to myself in the use of it. But there is one right, or privilege, or prerogative of the masculine half of the race that I have coveted ever since I was a little girl in pinafores.

When a man is thinking, or working, or waiting, or resting, or just being "sassy as he kin," he whistles. It doesn't make a particle of difference where he is, or how many people are around him, if he wants to whistle, why, he whistles.

And that is what I want to do. When my eyes are too tired to read on the car and there is nothing new to see outside and nothing interesting inside the car, I want then to do what nine out of every ten men do under similar circumstances—I want to whistle, and I want folks to pay no more attention than they would if I were one of the privileged class, a man, which I never have had the slightest desire to be—except when to whistle would take the kinks out of my nerves. Talk about smoking! It isn't the fact that men can smoke a cigar that makes them less nervous than women, it is the being permitted to whistle wherever and whenever the mood for such a form of expression takes them.

One good and true reason why I should be permitted to whistle on the street car is that when I am not allowed to express myself in that airy way, the desire, being shut up, canned, as it were, is very apt to ferment and blow out the cork, and—behold the result! What might have been sweet music becomes, by the process of fermentation—Verse. Quod vide:

I do not want the ballot,
And in legislative halls
I have no wish to prattle,
Nor to answer jury calls.

The men may do the voting
And wear policemen's stars,
But I—I want to whistle
On the street and on the cars.

A man can sit so comfy,
With his feet up in the air,
And whistle loud—fortissimo—
And no one turns to stare.

But if just once I'd whistle
Piano—just a bar—
The people all would rise in wrath,
And put me off the car.

The men may have the ballot
And the legislator's seat,
But I—I want to whistle
On the car and on the street.

Honestly, now, wouldn't it be better—for the world—to let me whistle?

"To send our minister on a vacation to Europe."

"Won't there be no church services while he's gone?"

THE WAY OF A YACHT.

Story of a Modern Cinderella and Her Prince.

[By a Special Contributor.]

"There's just one warning I want to give you, Polly," said Mrs. Van Pelt to the little Cinderella girl beside her as the magic pumpkin automobile honk-honked through a vine-covered gateway onto the drive that led by devious garden ways to the front of the Seabright Hotel. "Minty Robinson wrote that Billy Morehouse and his yacht are here for the summer. Now, you haven't had experience with—yachts. They're the most fascinating things to frivol with in all the summer-resort world, but never take one seriously—never allow your dear little heart to get the pit-a-pats, no matter how much it gavottes before you in all its full-sail glory, for at the end of the season it will skip off to some other waters and forget your very existence."

"You foolish darling, you," laughed Polly, squeezing the fairy godmother's hand. "I'm not the least bit of the yachty sort of girl. Really, when there are so many things in the world beside men it seems to me very silly to—is my hat on straight? Are you sure that my veil hasn't slipped off at the side?"

The automobile was drawing up at the hotel piazza, with its chattering group of young people on the steps, its needle-clicking, fancy-work row of elders installed in a background line of porch rockers, and Polly turned a flushed, panic-stricken face to her companion.

"I've got stage fright, awfully," she whispered.

"Little goose! Here, take my bag, and hang onto it like grim death. It's a tremendous comfort to have something in your hands when ——"

"Why, Mrs. Van Pelt, is it really you—how jolly!"

A tall young man in white flannels sprang up from the steps and hurried toward the ladies alighting from the automobile, a hand outstretched to the woman, but his eyes upon the girl following.

"The villain still pursues him," laughed Mrs. Van Pelt, giving the young man's hand a warm grasp. "How many summers does this make that we've spent together, Billy Morehouse?"

"I've lost count, dear Mrs. Van Pelt—they're all merged into one pleasant memory. Say," he added in a whispered aside: "aren't you going to introduce me?"

"Oh," she answered, laughing, "haven't you met Miss Cartwright? Polly, dear, let me present Mr. Morehouse."

"Can't I help you? Carry something?" he asked, eagerly falling back with Polly, as Mrs. Van Pelt turned to greet Minty Robinson half way down the piazza.

"No," laughed Polly, blushing divinely, "Auntie Van told me to cling to this like grim death."

"With all my worldly goods I do thee endow?" he laughed.

Polly shook her head.

"This time it's the outward and visible sign—to make my awkward hands look at their ease," she naively explained. "I dreaded so to face this formidable porch full of people," she added, in a confidential whisper, astonished to find how much at home she felt with this man whom she had never met before.

"Been there myself," cheerfully lied Billy, who would have entered the presence of royalty without blinking so much as an eyelash. "You are a stranger among us? Have come out from the East on a visit to Mrs. Van Pelt?"

"I've lived in San Francisco for twenty-three years," she smiled. "All my life except a few baby months that didn't count."

"Its hard for me to believe you've lived that many years anywhere," he flashed back, but she had caught the instant's surprise in his eyes, and answered simply and frankly:

"I am a stranger among you, though, for I've never gone into society. Ever since I left school I've been at work and this seaside fling is just a vacation spree that my fairy god-mother's giving me—isn't she the dearest ever?"

And she turned with a smile to Mrs. Van Pelt who came up just then arm in arm with Minty Robinson.

"If that isn't Billy Morehouse all over," Mrs. Van Pelt exclaimed, when, ten minutes later, the bellboy threw open the door to their suite, and Polly found a great fragrant bunch of American Beauty roses awaiting her with Mr. Morehouse's card. "I knew something was up when he excused himself and made such sudden tracks for the office. He's an awfully nice boy in every other way, but its perfectly absurd how he rushes every pretty new girl.

Then wasn't the least doubt that Polly was pretty. One glance at her settled that—though nobody who took one glance was so stupid as not to take a second. She was a little woman with a little woman's irresistible way of looking up at you with her wonderful gray eyes. Her hair was the wavy sort—a warm brown shot with glints of gold. When she talked a delicate blush came and went on her cheeks, and sometimes—the fact that it was only sometimes always made it the more fetching—a dimple twinkled in and out in hide-and-seek play with her smile. And she was essentially new—with all the newness of being unsophisticated, unaffected, unspoilt.

Small wonder that Billy Morehouse began his rush with instantaneous ardor. Of course the yacht had the lead in attraction. But there was automobiling as well, horse-back riding, tennis, golf. In a magic word of modern vernacular he gave Polly Cartwright the time of her life.

And Polly with only narrow, shut-in, bread-and-butter experience rose nobly to every gay occasion. Unaccustomed to the water, from the first she was never seasick. Having ridden nothing more exciting than a jog-trot farm horse she kept her nerve and her seat through all the prancing antics of a spirited thoroughbred. She took to tennis as steel filings to a magnet. As for golf—well, everybody knows that a charming companionship over the links counts for most in golf.

It was all great fun—and of course quite harmless since the fairy god-mother had been so careful to drop a hint to the wise in the very beginning. Polly understood perfectly that Billy Morehouse was not the least bit in earnest—but it was adorable to have the handsomest, richest most popular man at Seabright single her out of those all other girls, be her most devoted slave, shower her with candy, and fruit, and flowers, and the latest books and magazines—all a delightful part and parcel of the purple-and-fine-linen days of the little vacation month of luxurious bliss that was speeding so rapidly to a finish.

But Polly's heart was all bright, brave sunshine. She did not let coming events cast their shadow before. Three whole days more of happiness was her smiling way of putting it when she referred to going back to work at the end of the week.

Then out of a clear sky the bolt fell. Billy Morehouse, who everybody knew divided his time in town pretty equally between the club and the cotillion, received a telegram concerning "important business" that would call him to the city the next day.

It was Mrs. Van Pelt who casually dropped the information as Polly was dressing for dinner and the dance that was to follow.

"Tomorrow—going to the city on business tomorrow?" gasped Polly. "How—funny."

"Yes isn't it funny? Quite the funniest thing that Billy has ever done. But you know what I told you about a summer yacht suddenly skipping off to other waters—now child hurry a minute and give your whole attention to drawing in your breath or it never in creation get your [illegible] hooked."

Polly was very still—except for shaking little hand that gripped the edge of her dressing table for support. In a sweeping, overwhelming flood understanding the truth had come to her. She loved Billy Morehouse. So he was going away the next day. He did not care. He never cared.

Her face whitened, her lips trembled. She longed to turn, throw her arms about the fairy god-mother's neck and burst into tears. But in that illuminating instant of revelation a woman had suddenly taken the place of a girl and with a woman's passion to hide a woman's pride. The trembling lips forced a level set line. The [illegible] little hand loosened its grip. When the last hook was hooked—fortunately there were twenty-three on the waist—a careless, matter of course thing to do if Auntie Van would advise her to wear one of her orchids in her hair.

Every mouthful that Polly swallowed that she would have three whole days more at Seabright. This was the last night that she and Billy would be at the table together.

And afterwards, when they went to the ballroom, the gay strains of the music played the same refrain in her heart—the last night that she and Billy would dance together.

He put his arm about her and they floated away in a waltz—together for the last night.

"Come," said Billy eagerly as the music stopped with the music at the end of the ballroom where a casement window opened on to a little porch. "Come out the next dance with me, won't you? Why not? Please, Polly! You know that I go at 6 o'clock in the morning. This is our last night together.

Yielding, she gave him the support of floated over her arm and he [illegible] put it about her shoulders.

On the little porch they were alone with the moonlight and the fragrance of blossoming vines—and the [illegible] strains of another waltz drifting out from the ballroom.

"Did I really take you by surprise?" he asked boyishly. "Or did you suspect something was up when you saw me writing so many letters?"

"My getting a job, I mean," she laughed. "Going seriously to work. Say, Miss Polly, it's a pretty big responsibility on your little shoulders. Some of my friends may have a prostration from the shock."

"Responsibility on my shoulders—"

"Yes." There was still a [illegible] on his face but the laughter had gone from his voice. "Of course it was only your doing, little girl," he said quietly. "You who made me ashamed of idling. Who awakened my ambition to do a man's work in the world. I know you never preached. But a fellow could not be with you as I have been—could not love you, dear, with the love that a man has for only one woman, without trying to be something worth while. Won't you trust me, Polly? Before I go away give me the right to come back to you? Promise that you will be my wife as soon as I've made good?"

They were alone with the moonlight and the fragrance of the blossoming vines—and the dreamy strains of other waltz drifting out from the ballroom.

Then with the jolt of a head-on collision with a forgotten world they sprang apart at the sound of approaching footsteps.

"Polly, Mr. Morehouse," cried Mrs. Van Pelt's indignant voice, "I demand an explanation of this!"

Before the irate chaperon Mr. Morehouse who would have quailed in the presence of royalty without batting so much as an eyelash, stood there mumbling, abashed, confused, but with a tremulous little laugh Polly threw her arms about the fairy god-mother's neck.

"It means, dear Aunt Van," she mischievously whispered, "that sometimes when a yacht has carried one aboard in the pocket for a chorus of summers, it suddenly decides to put it and settle down in quiet waters to keeps!"

Wealth in Corn Crop.

A corn crop of 2,000,000,000 bushels a blessed gift to the American people. Pretty nearly everybody understands how large a factor corn is in the food problem. Corn to feed and fatten livestock that is to become the table beef, mutton or pork—for the table of the nation. Corn to feed and fatten the poultry. Meats, milk, butter and eggs all are affected as to quality and price by the corn crop. Even the prices up where they are now it is easy to see what could happen by way of vastly higher prices if there were a failure of the general crop to make it virtually impossible to feed the livestock and poultry which are the food of the American people. Even if corn means to the farmers who grow it may be realized by a comparison not only of the yield of this year with the crops of fifteen years ago, but of the different prices. Virtually the average price of a bushel and twice the average price of ten years ago. Consider it carefully! Hundreds upon hundreds of millions of dollars a year more to the farmers who raise corn than the wildest dreamer could have estimated not so very many years ago. Consider also all the crops that probably there will be a value of more than $7,000,000,000 for what the American farmers take out of the soil this year. This is a stupendous wealth that would be difficult for a prodigal nation to dissipate or destroy. It is a wealth that, wisely used, will last most of it will be, can be brought to the country.—[New York Press.

UNCLE IRA HAS GIRL USHERS.

WHITE-ROBED MAIDENS INNOVATION AT SIMPSON.

Will Permanently Replace Male Ushers, if Successful—Scotti Concert Tonight—Henry Miller in Town—Incidental Theatrical and Musical News.

Uncle Ira Hoag is as much a fixture of Simpson's—the local Carnegie Hall—as are the antediluvian lighting facilities, the squeaky seats, the grand piano, and Impresario Behymer.

No audence at a "big" concert of recent years has found its chairs except under the guidance of Uncle Ira's minions, and he has always conducted his official headushership in the same punctilious ceremonial round. Innovation seems as far removed from him as from the Democratic party, hence his oldest observers will be surprised, at tonight's Scotti concert, to see—

Girl ushers.

Mr. Hammerstein had girl ushers at the Manhattan Operahouse, and these seductive maidens, snapping their pocketflashes up and down the dark aisles, were a welcome sight to audiences weary of the walterlike usher with expanding shirtbosom and dimpling courtesy.

Mr. Hoag has twenty-five, white-uniformed, seductive little Misses, all trained for the occasion, and it is safe to say that every Miss will be a hit.

The idea is entirely Mr. Hoag's. He fought for it against some objections, and believes that it will succeed. So do his most experienced observers.

Henry Miller will arrive in Los Angeles this morning, and will spend a portion of the day in town. Last night he played at Santa Barbara. This evening he is booked at Riverside. His local weeks engagement will open Monday evening.

It is whispered that Miller will abandon "Her Husband's Wife" shortly. He will abandon it merely in the sense that he will put another actor in his own part, Star Henry Miller, in a subsidiary but highly important role, has been a most venture in the eyes of the general public, notwithstanding loads of critical praise and good patronage. The public wants Henry Miller as a star, apparently, hence his effort to subordinate himself in a fine cast has been appreciated only in professional quarters.

Miller's work in "Her Husband's Wife" is at least unusual for one of his celebrity.

Antonio Scotti and Berenice De Pasquale will sing at Simpson Auditorium tonight.

The programme numbers follow: Prologue from "I Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo) Tomer Scotti; Polonaise from "Mignon," (Thomas) Mme. Pasquali; Cavatine from "Faust," (Dio Possenta) (Gounod) Tomer Scotti; Songs "Infidelite," (Tosti) "Verbliebes Standchen," (Brahms), "Mainelie," (Del Acque), Mme. Pasquali; Duetto from Don Giovanni, (Mozart) Pasquali and Scotti; Group of Irish Songs, "The Mother's Lamentation," "Believe me, if all Those Endearing Young Charms," "The Low Back Car," Mme. Pasquali; A Serenata from "Don Giovanni," (Mozart), "Fin ch'han del vino," (Mozart), Signor Scotti; Duet from "Barber of Seville," (Rossini), Pasquali and Scotti.

Seats will be on sale at the Mason box-office this morning for Henry Miller's engagement in "Her Husband's Wife," next week, and at the Hamburg, Majestic for the return of Max Dill, Majestic for the return of Max Dill, Orpheum, in "Mary Jane's Pa."

The Bevani opera sale will open at the Auditorium box-office this morning.

The Composers Study Club, affiliated with the DeChauvenet conservatory, will have an afternoon of especial interest Saturday. Liszt will be the subject, and his life and works will form the basis of a discussion by Rev. Robert Windsor.

The general programme which will be given by the participants will be the Conservatory Orchestra, a chorus, and Harold Ranyard, Otto Dannenbaum, Ben Cranmer, Karl Wagner, Mrs. Jaklmowicz, Margaret Gabard, Blanche Olds, Doyle Cox, Julie Arnold, Christine Thompson, F. Senor Thomas, Senor Marsho, Mrs. Chandler and Hara, Kari Senor, and M. and Mme. Jean De Reszke.

The Elks' Minstrels will be on at the Burbank Sunday afternoon.

Percy Bronson will have the Cuban girl and Marjorie Rambeau will have the chief supporting part. Peter Lang will be seen in the Tom Lewis characterization, and the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Cohan will be played by Fred Gilbert and Florence Oberle.

There is a harpist at the Los Angeles Theater this week who is one of the features of the vaudeville year. This is Mary La Rocco, appearing with Mantell-Sayde and Sayde Palmer in "Before and After the Ball." During the course of the skit he is given opportunity for some solo work and the music his fingers touch the harp the audience seems to realize the [illegible] and the applause he receives at every performance makes him the hit of the road show bill. He has a unique and method of playing that distinctly all his own and is the only one who plays ray-time on a harp. La Rocco was formerly harpist in the orchestra at the Manhattan Opera-house under Campanini's direction.

"The Blue Mouse" seems to be tickling local theatergoers and every night at the Belasco Theater crowded. Clyde Fitch farce is proving one of the most genuine fun vehicles of the season.

Only four more performances of "The Dodo" remain at the Grand Opera-house. Mr. Hartman refuses to alter his policy of one week only for productions. Next Sunday afternoon he will give another Richard Carle success, "The Maid and the Mummy," which is new to local audiences. In this he will introduce an imitation of Maud Allen's Mendelssohn "Spring Song," a dance by the entire company.

The Hillsken Club, a local politico-social organization, with quarters occupying the three upper floors of the Bumiller building, will give a minstrel show in Gamut Auditorium tonight evening.

"Where's Mobile Bay" is the name of a new specialty-entertainment, and a pretty good show, full of surprises and take-offs on local situations, is offered.

Officers of the club are Claire S. Tappan, president; Kemper B. Campbell, secretary, and W. I. Traeger, treasurer.

SAVES CHILD'S LIFE.

H. L. Stroh, a baker, yesterday saved the life of little Alma Huff, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Huff, No. 1357 Oak Hill avenue, at the risk of his own. He ran on the railroad trestle over the Arroyo Seco and rescued the child who had crawled out on the frame work. James Purdy, engineer on eastbound Santa Fe train, No. 42, noticing a child playing near the track, wrote a warning note and threw it out of the cab window as he passed. Shortly after Stroh rescued the child a train appeared.

The Science of Investment is to buy the most with the least possible money. For example—

If you buy $1000 worth of land, and only pay $250 down, you make $750 when the land doubles in value.

If you buy $250 worth of land for $250 you only make $250 when the land doubles in value.

This is what is commonly called buying on margin, and while it is very attractive if everything goes your way, is ordinarily a dangerous method as the investor has to depend on reselling at an advanced price. In other words, the investor has to look to a quick speculative raise in value to insure the safety of his original investment.

The West Riverside Estate, Inc.

offers you an opportunity to buy $6250 worth of income property for $1250, or $12,500 worth of income property for $2500, and allows you 8 years to make the balance of the payments.

The returns from the property, based on all statistics available, will more than be sufficient to meet the other payments, thus removing this particular purchase from the dangerous class of investments above referred to, and allowing the purchaser to gain all of the profits that would accure from marginal buying without taking any of the risk.

Think it over! Call or write for all the facts at once! Today! Send for booklet "showing how $2500 will grow to $15,000 in 8 years."

ASK CASH FOR SOLID SPANS.

CITIZENS ACT PROMPTLY FOR CONCRETE BRIDGE.

WILL APPEAL TO COUNCIL TO PROVIDE THE MONEY.

ESTIMATES OF ENGINEERS ARE QUOTED FREELY.

C. M. Williams, Prof. Walter Judson and Dr. E. Jordon were busy yesterday securing signatures to a petition which will be presented to the City Council at an early session, asking for an additional appropriation, not to exceed $200, for the purpose of securing a beautiful concrete bridge, instead of an unsightly fill, across Arroyo Seco between Pasadena avenue and South Pasadena.

This petition will be supported by a strong protest against the proposed earth bridge or "dump" from the Park Commissioners, the Automobile club, the Friday Morning and Ebel Clubs, the Civic League and many other organizations.

Some of the important people in the city who attached their signatures to the petition yesterday were M. A. Newmark, Stoddard Jess, J. P. Walters, the L. A. Heavy Hardware Co., L. M. Davenport, D. A. Hamburger, Henry Philip, of the Broadway Department Store, Fred Baker, of the Baker Iron Works, E. Haymon, the Western Wholesale Drug Co., the L. A. Leather & Finding Co., Haas, Baruch & Co., the E. P. Boswell Implement Co., and A. C. Billiks.

Another enthusiastic worker for the concrete bridge who will probably appear before the City Council in its behalf is Justice Allen, of the Appellate Court. In advancing some of the many strong arguments in favor of a concrete bridge, C. M. Williams, yesterday said: "The proposed fill they are now contemplating for a bridge is merely an earth dump, over 1200 feet in length, 200 feet wide at the base and fifty feet high, having two culverts sixty-five feet wide and running 250 feet in length through the earthen bank. It is estimated that in these two culverts there would be 140,000 cubic feet of reinforced concrete. This is seventy-five per cent. of the amount it would take to build a concrete bridge 900 feet long and fifty feet wide, capable of handling the railroad, the automobile and wagon traffic.

COST OF GREAT WORK

"This 900-foot bridge would reach from the Los Angeles side across the Arroyo to high ground on the other side, which would merely necessitate a fill on the South Pasadena side of 300 feet, at an average depth of between twenty and twenty-five feet. The engineers tell us that the new bridge now spanning the Arroyo at the entrance to Elysian Park is 80 feet in length, 67½ feet wide and cost $152,000, or an average of $2.50 per square foot. The concrete bridge across the Arroyo would be 900 feet by fifty feet, so that at the same rate the same type of bridge for the concrete work complete would cost $128,000.

"They also estimate that the 800-foot fill on the South Pasadena side can be built for $20,000, thus making the complete cost of the bridge about $140,000. Carl Leonardt's chief engineer, has offered for the Leonardt Contracting Company, to build an arch concrete bridge for that amount or less.

"The engineers state that this bridge can be built for much less than the one now under construction as they have the gravel on the ground at no cost whatsoever, and that the same bridge built in any other part of the city would cost about a third more. Therefore if the city can have an article worth $200,000 at a cost of about $140,000, why not take it?

"One thing the public must not lose sight of is that while the estimate on the earthen fill was $128,000, the lowest bid which the Supervisors opened was $119,750. An estimate on a concrete bridge has the same right to a shrinkage allowance on cost when the bids are let.

"In regard to the earth fill, as proposed, the engineers tell us that it will take from three to four years for this settlement to settle enough to put in the sidewalks and topping of the road bed. This, of course, makes an additional cost at that time of from $100 to $150,000 for sidewalks, railings, etc. According to the figures, therefore we pay no more in the end for concrete than we would for earth and it seems reasonable that this thing might as well be taken care of in the right way now as at some future date.

"A great many people have spoken of fortifying the banks of the proposed fill but in the opinion of the majority of those with whom I have discussed the matter such a plan would cost a great deal of money to start in placing sod and flowers and in terracing the banks and there would then be a continuous expense of keeping up these banks which are over half a mile long. Then two to three men would have to be employed which would undoubtedly cost $2,000 per year in salaries alone."

THE PETITION

Here is the petition which those interested in the concrete bridge now have in circulation:

"To the Honorable City Council:—Knowing that your honorable body has a great interest in the future growth and development of Los Angeles along artistic lines, and in view of the favorable action of the Honorable Board of Supervisors in postponing action upon bids which have been submitted for the construction of a dirt bridge across the Arroyo Seco between the terminus of Pasadena avenue in Los Angeles and the city of South Pasadena, and the announced determination of that body to provide the additional funds necessary for the erection of a concrete bridge instead, if the city of Los Angeles, the city of South Pasadena and the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad will make like additional appropriation.

"We, the undersigned citizens of Los Angeles city and county, therefore petition your honorable body to grant the additional amount necessary, not to exceed five thousand dollars above the original estimate, to secure a beautiful concrete bridge, which will be a permanent monument to the good judgment of the citizens of Los Angeles, and an ornament instead of a detriment to the proposed Arroyo Seco Park.

TAKEN ON THE RUN.

Arturo Munos was arrested yesterday afternoon on Main street on the charge of petty larceny. Patrolman Pautz, who made the arrest, said that Munos stole a sweater in a clothing store on Main street and attempted to run away with it. ASK CASH FOR SOLID SPANS.

CITIZENS ACT PROMPTLY FOR CONCRETE BRIDGE.

WILL APPEAL TO COUNCIL TO PROVIDE THE MONEY.

ESTIMATES OF ENGINEERS ARE QUOTED FREELY.

C. M. Williams, Prof. Walter Judson and Dr. E. Jordon were busy yesterday securing signatures to a petition which will be presented to the City Council at its early session, asking for an additional appropriation, not to exceed $5000, for the purpose of securing a beautiful concrete bridge, instead of an unsightly fill across Arroyo Seco between Pasadena avenue and South Pasadena.

The petition will be supported by a strong protest against the proposed earth bridge or "dump" from the Park Commissioners, the Automobile club, the Friday Morning and Ebel Clubs, the Civic League and many other organizations.

Some of the important people in the city who attached their signatures to the petition yesterday were M. A. Newmark, Stoddard Jess, J. P. Walters, the J. A. Heavy Hardware Co., L. M. Davenport, D. A. Hamburger, Henry Philip, of the Broadway Department Store, Fred Baker, of the Baker Iron Works, Mr. Raymen, the Western Wholesale Drug Co., the L. A. Leather & Finding Co., Haas, Baruch & Co., the E. P. Boswell Implement Co.; and A. C. Billings.

Another enthusiastic worker for the concrete bridge who will probably appear before the City Council in its behalf is Justice Allen, of the Appellate Court. In advancing some of the many strong arguments in favor of a concrete bridge, C. M. Williams, yesterday said: "The proposed fill they are now considering for a bridge is merely an earth dump, over 1200 feet in length, 50 feet wide at the base and fifty feet high, having two culverts sixty-five feet wide and running 250 feet in length through the earthen bank. It is estimated that in these two culverts there would be 140,000 cubic feet of reinforced concrete. This is seventy-five per cent. of the amount it would take to build a concrete bridge 950 feet long and fifty feet wide, capable of handling the railroad, the automobile and wagon traffic.

COST OF GREAT WORK

"The 950-foot bridge would reach from the Los Angeles side across the Arroyo to high ground on the other side, which would merely necessitate a fill on the south Pasadena side of 300 feet, at an average depth of between twenty and twenty-five feet. The engineers tell us that the new bridge now spanning the Arroyo at the entrance to Elysian Park is but in length, 67½ feet wide and cost $80,000, or an average of $2.80 per square foot. The concrete bridge across the Arroyo would be 900 feet by fifty feet, so that at the same rate the same class of bridge for the concrete work alone would cost $126,000.

"They also estimate that the 300-foot fill on the South Pasadena side can be built for $20,000, thus making the complete cost of the bridge about $140,000. Mr. Leonardt's chief engineer, has offered for the Leonardt Contracting company, to build an arch concrete bridge for that amount or less.

"The engineers state that this bridge can be built for much less than the one under construction as they have figured on the ground at no cost whatever, and that the same bridge built in any other part of the city would cost about a third more. Therefore if the city can have an article worth $80,000 at a cost of about $140,000 why not take it?

"One thing the public must not lose sight of is that while the estimate on the earthen fill was $123,000, the lowest bid which the Supervisors opened was $123,750. An estimate on a concrete bridge has the same right to a reasonable allowance on cost when the figures are let.

"In regard to the earth fill, as proposed the engineers tell us that it will take three to four years for this filling to settle enough to put the sidewalks and topping of the road bed. This, of course, makes an additional cost at that time of from $100,000 to $15,000 for sidewalks, railings, etc. According to the figures, therefore we pay no more in the end for concrete than would for earth and it seems reasonable that this thing might as well be taken care of in the right way now as at some future date.

"A great many people have spoken of applying the banks of the proposed fill in the opinion of the majority of those with whom I have discussed the matter such a plan would cost a great deal of money to start in placing vines and flowers and in terracing the banks and there would then be a continuous expense of keeping up these banks which are over half a mile long. Then two to three men would have to be employed which would undoubtedly cost $2,000 per year in salaries alone"

ENDS DYSPEPSIA IN FEW MINUTES.

Gas, Heartburn, Headache and All Misery from Stomach Vanishes Before You Realize It.

There is not a single reader of The Times who suffers from any form of stomach trouble who can afford to leave Diapepsin untried. There is no other preparation which gives such prompt and lasting relief.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all four, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask you pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures Indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your Stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapepsin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

PRETTY MOTHER WINS A PRIZE.

ENTERS BOY AT BABY SHOW AND LANDS HERSELF.

Many Infants Vie for Honors at Exhibition Conducted by Woman's Christian Temperance Union for Benefit of Door of Hope—More Than Half Favored by Judges.

Abashed the reporter entered. Babies to the right of him, babies to the left of him; babies everywhere and not a drop to drink. No, that last will not do, for a score of milk bottles were plainly in sight.

"Lovely, aren't they?"

The woman who asked it was lovely herself, but the reporter preferred to remain non-committal.

"Are they?" he asked, inanely.

"Sir!" said the woman ,with charming severity.

"I mean," stammered the reporter, edging gingerly away from the main performance, "it is quite a remarkable display."

Conversation lagged. The reporter wanted to blurt out, "Madame, I am embarrassed." Afterward, he wanted to bolt, but he stood his ground.

"Where do you cage them at night?" he asked.

"Cage them?" she echoed.

"Yes," he said, gaining confidence now that the ice was fairly broken, "surely you do not let them run at large like this. The neighbors might object."

"I'll introduce you to the matron," the woman replied. And she did.

Mrs. J. E. Bowlsby, the matron, proved to be a motherly woman, who explained that the Door of Hope, at No. 3600 South Main street, is an entirely non-sectarian philanthropic institution where any woman of any age needing a home for any reason is always welcome.

Mrs. Bowlsby gave some idea of the work done at this home when she stated that, since it was instituted seven years ago by Mrs. E. M. Whittemore, more than 150 little lives have been ushered into the world beneath its kindly shelter. At present seventeen women reside there.

The baby show yesterday was conducted under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the funds raised from this source will be added to those resulting from the fair held there this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon. The sum total will be used toward a Christmas fund for the institution.

More than fifty babies were entered and prizes were awarded to twenty-six of these. There were prizes for everything from the youngest baby with a tooth and the youngest child who could creep, to the most attractive blonde. Nobody entered the contest for twins.

The judges took the names of the babies, but failed to make a record of the parents, so, as a matter of history, their record is quite incomplete. One dashing girl who brought a pretty 2-year-old boy to enter in his class, was very much surprised when she was herself awarded a prize for being the most attractive woman present. This prize was literally for the most attractive woman not a member of the W. C. T. U., but Mrs. Christina Hansen would easily have been the winner without this class legislative.

At the fair today and tomorrow, several hundred dollars worth of pretty needlework will be offered for sale It is the handiwork of residents of the Home. The committee having the affair in charge is composed of Mrs. Bertha Herron, Mrs. Lulu Wright, Mrs. Eva Rhomberg, rMs. A. L. Johnson, Mrs. C. A. Cale and Mrs. E. Rimlinger.

The Board of Managers of the Home consists of:

Rev. B. C. Cory, president; M. L. Wicks, vice-president; Marion T. Boyd, secretary; Wiley J. Phillips, Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, Mrs. Laura T. Carter, of this city; Mrs. L. M. Allen, Miss Rebecca Cowgill, of Pasadena.

Detailed Statement of the Unusual Offer to Investors

This company has just been organized under the strict laws of California, having an authorized capitalization of 10,000,000 shares of a par value of $1.00 per share. It has been organized under a broad charter, which enables it to acquire and develop proven California Oil properties, construct pipe lines, build refineries and engage in other business appertaining to the Oil Industry.

Deales have already been consummated for the acquisition of at least three of the leading individual oil companies of California. The net income of two of these companies at this time, conservatively estimated at a very low price for crude oil, is about $600,000 per annum. This represents a profit of 10 per cent. per annum on the entire capitalization of the California Consolidated Oil Company at the present price of the stock, regardless of future development.

Properties and Earning Power.

The properties proposed to be operated by the California Consolidated Oil Company, now being operated as three individual oil companies, are as follows:

MASCOT OIL COMPANY—Located in the Midway District. Consists of 160 acres. Equipped with 34 wells. Four additional wells now being drilled. Present output, 90,000 barrels per month, provides a net income of $360,000 per annum. Has a contract for the delivery of 5,000,000 barrels of oil at a gross price of $2,500,000. Now paying dividends of 2 per cent. per month.

PREMIER OIL COMPANY—Located in Coalinga Oil Fields. Property consists of 160 acres. Fourteen producing wells, one now being drilled and one ready for drilling. These 16 wells, basing the figures upon the present production of the 14 now producing, will yield at least 864,000 barrels yearly. This means a net income of $240,000. Has been paying dividends at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum.

YELLOWSTONE OIL COMPANY—Holdings in Kern River, Sunset and McKittrick fields. Property consists of 225 acres, all leased to other companies, except 10 acres. This 10 acres being operated by the company contains 6 wells.

The estimates of profit from the Mascot and Premier properties above are based upon the present 50 wells upon the two properties. In the judgment of the best oil experts of California, these properties will easily support 140 wells. On the same conservative basis of estimate this should provide a net income of $1,680,000 per annum. This estimate is based upon the two properties alone, making no allowance for the Yellowstone property or for other profitable branches of the industry into which this corporation will enter.

Underwriters' Syndicate Announcement.

Instead of following the usual practice of allotting this stock to a few capitalists as underwriters, and paying them for the disposal of same, it has been decided to organize an Underwriters' Syndicate. Readers of this publication are invited to join us by purchasing this stock at the Underwriters' Syndicate price, the proceeds of which will go towards the payment of the properties. This gives each individual the privilege of associating himself with the organizers of the company, thereby securing the advantages usually accorded to underwriters or the founders of a company of this character.

The fact that this method of financing a conservative corporation is unusual, makes it all the more attractive to the American public. The investors of the nation, large and small alike, are glad of the opportunity to join in the organization of a company of this kind on the underwriters' basis, and favor the idea of participating in the market at the bottom and not at the top, particularly in a company which has been organized by men of unimpeachable integrity for the protection of stockholders' interests.

The Underwriters' Syndicate price for the capital stock of the CALIFORNIA CONSOLIDATED OIL COMPANY is 60 Cents Per Share.

No order can be accepted for less than 100 shares. The allotment of stocks available at this price is necessarily limited. The demand for the stock is growing very rapidly, and we advise immediate investment in order to make sure of securing the advantage of this low price. Mail your order today.

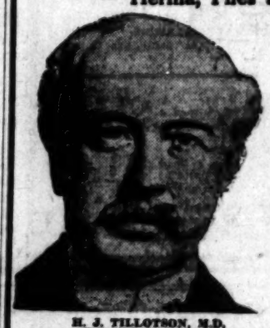
CURED IN FIVE DAYS

Hernia, Piles and Varicose Veins



H. J. TILLOTSON, M.D.
Established 28 Years.

I am the only Specialist in Los Angeles who is sole owner of his office and equipment, who does not advertise a fictitious name and photograph. I publish my true photograph, correct name, personally conduct my office. I am the longest established, most successful and reliable, as medical credentials and press records prove. Imitation of my copyrighted announcement is an evidence that I am a bona fide Specialist. I make this statement that you will know you consult a Specialist, who sees and treats patients personally. I possess skill and experience, acquired in such a way that no other can share, and should not be classed with medical companies. Experience is the safe standard by which judgment may be valued, and it is unwise and expensive to embrace the statements of medical companies. It is impossible for a medical company to attend college. Companies have no diploma or license to practice medicine in California or any other State. Medical companies usually are named after a doctor. A portrait, whose personality and identity are indefinite, is selected and published as the legitimate specialist of the office. Hired substitutes, ordinary doctors with questionable ability, give consultation, examination and treatment.

A thorough investigation should be made by every ailing person as to the specialist he consults. Duty and destiny of self and those who depend upon you demand the best medical attention. I have the ability and can give you this service. I have always charged a very reasonable fee, so that my services may be obtained by any man who sincerely desires to be cured. I make no misleading statements or unbusinesslike propositions; neither do I desire to be partisan-larly independent, and I would like to have you for a patient, if you will come to me on a strictly professional basis, and the inducements that I offer, which are my ability and [illegible] years' successful experience. Time-saving treatment and guarantee of cure of certain diseases.

NO MONEY REQUIRED TO COMMENCE TREATMENT. Many patients have no confidence in their doctor, because he demands pay before a cure has been effected, and there are many who have been misinformed about their condition, or through unsuccessful treatment have become skeptical and think there is no cure for them. I give opportunity to test such cases. It makes no difference about the financial part, as I accept pay for my services as benefits are derived, when I am satisfied the patient is reliable. Health is capital at interest. I will prove my ability to cure you before asking pay for my services.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE.

Dr. Tillotson's written guarantee means a cure or no pay for services. I guarantee to cure certain diseases or refund every dollar you have paid me for my services. My services cost you nothing unless I cure your Varicose Veins, Hernia, Piles, Fissures, Ulcerations, or any disease I guarantee to cure. My terms are reasonable and no more than you are willing and able to pay.

Many Cases Cured Permanently in One TREATMENT. Most Time-Saving. Most Natural. Most Safe. No Detention From Occupation, Family or Home. A Radical and Permanent Cure. I Will Give $500 to Any Charity me a Guarantee That Every Statement in This Announcement is True.

I cure rapidly, painlessly and at small expense. I will demonstrate actual results in your case. I will give conclusive evidence of my merit which is obtained and maintained by ability. I invite you to come to my office; I will explain my treatment for Hernia, Piles, Fistula, Varicose Veins, Pelvic Nervous Blood, Kidney, Bladder and Rectal Diseases. I will give you free a physical examination; if necessary a microscopical and chemical analysis of secretions to determine existing pathological and bacteriological conditions. Every person should take advantage of this opportunity to learn their true condition. Certainty of cure is what you want.

Varicose Veins

In the cure of Varicose Veins, Rupture and Associate Diseases of the Pelvic Region, I am successful in bringing to bear the curative power of Nature's forces, in such a manner as to supplant the old-time, wide-open surgical operations. Once it required several weeks to cure these conditions and the method which some still use is such as to endanger the life of the patient and require a long period of convalescence. Now an absolute cure can be accomplished in a few days and with perfect safety.

TRUSSES SELDOM CURE RUPTURE.

Disregard for existing Hernias has cost many lives. The smallest hernias are the most dangerous to life, because of the increased liability to strangulation. I am aware that a great deal of fraud has been practiced on the public in connection with the alleged cure of Rupture, and when I say positively that I cure Rupture, to stay cured, I do not expect any one to accept my statement without investigation of my professional work. My claim to your confidence is based on absolute facts, accomplished results. A personal consultation. I will make a free examination and can explain every detail of your Hernia and demonstrate to you the curative value of the method I have discovered. I invite the careful investigation of any person who sincerely desires to be cured. I cure Rupture, in selected cases, with perfect safety, and entail no suffering, and do not detain you from occupation under Written Guarantee. Many cases cured to stay cured by one treatment.

PILES, FISTULA, RECTAL DISEASES.

These diseases are very common; most frequently found in persons of middle or advanced age; are exceedingly annoying, often very painful, and sometimes very dangerous, and frequently unfit one for pleasure or occupation. My treatment and successes are the result of years of experience; my treatment is kindly applied. I cure Piles without cutting. Some cases are cured by one or more treatments. If I do not cure your Piles, Fistula and other Rectal Diseases, my treatment does not cost you anything. Gentleness in treatment comes from treating many cases, so I guarantee a cure of Piles, Fistula, Fissures, Ulcers and all curable Rectal Diseases.

LIFE'S BLOOD STREAM.

The great cleansinghouse of a person's body is the blood stream. Your blood cells are your bank account. Your only defense against disease is by and through blood corpuscles. My blood-making, blood-purifying remedies have been tried and proven. My blood-cell remedies nourish, strengthen and increase the blood cells and nourish the nerve centers. I want to prove to you at my expense that my blood-making, blood-purifying remedies give power to weak brains and life to nerve centers.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES.

With these diseases you may have more complications than are presented by any other diseased organs. By my searching illumination of the bladder I determine accurately the diseases and by my microscopical examination and urinalysis I make sure of the condition of the kidneys, thus laying foundations for scientific treatment.

CERTAIN QUICK CURES

M. S. CHENOWETH, M. D.
THE MASTER SPECIALIST

The photograph which I publish above is one taken of me in May, 1910, and is a perfect likeness. I do not hide under a false name, nor publish a false picture, nor make a false statement of any kind. I personally conduct my own office, see my patients, and treat them personally from the time they come to me until I discharge them as cured.

I am the oldest licensed and longest established specialist in California. I am a graduate of one of the largest medical colleges in the United States, was physician of outdoor clinic, St. John's Hospital, St. Louis, Mo., 1883-1889, and railway surgeon on Harriman lines of Colorado for four years. Member of American Medical Society six years and the author and publisher of medical works of recognized authority. My years of experience, the right kind of experience, together with the cures I have effected, has earned me the title, The Master Specialist.

A WORD OF ADVICE.

Before beginning treatment elsewhere, take my friendly advice and ask the doctor to tell you of his qualifications to cure you, and then be sure he shows you the proofs of his ability. Mere talk means nothing; promises and guarantees without ability behind them are of no value to you or any one else. After you are satisfied and begin your treatment it is up to you to see the promises are carried out. If you should be unfortunate enough to select the wrong doctor and find it out in time, come to me and I will be glad to do all that can be done for you.

I can refer to hundreds of reliable people for absolute proof of cures of ailments mentioned below, as well as to cite you to cures of Varicose Veins I have made that other specialists failed on by the tieing-off process and other silly methods.

I will cheerfully donate $1000 to any charity if any statement in this announcement is not absolutely true.

PILES.

Piles are common among all classes and ages of men and women. They are indirectly caused by a defect in nutrition and constipation. If anything tends to make life a burden it's a well developed case of Piles. The whole system is thrown out of working order, and the pleasures of life are denied to the sufferer. My method cures the most obstinate cases without pain. I do not use a knife; there is no cutting, no pain of any kind; no after inconvenience but immediate relief and a permanent cure. Most of my cases have come to me after other specialists and drug store doctors have failed, and I have yet to treat a case I did not cure.

FISTULA.

There is no more annoying and dreaded disease of the rectum than Fistula. It requires the strictest observance of almost impossible hygienic laws to maintain cleanliness and may result fatally if neglected. Only a few days under my treatment and the worst case of Fistula is cured. No knife; no bleeding; no pain; no after misery; just a permanent cure.

HERNIA.

Hernia or Rupture. This is a condition which does not permit neglect. You cannot afford to be used as an experiment, and you will be unless you choose the right specialist. Neglect of Rupture has proved fatal to many; neglect may cause strangulation, and if this occurs [illegible] relief is the only means of saving life and in most cases proves fatal. My treatment cures in a few days. You leave my office knowing you are going to get well. I do not use a knife; there is no pain, no detention from pleasure or occupation, absolutely no danger. You come to my office wearing a truss; you leave your truss behind; there is no further use for it; your rupture is cured.

VARICOSE VEINS.

Varicose veins do more to destroy human vitality than many other diseases put together. They sap up the strength of the body. You come to my office with your varicose veins and you leave absolutely well. Only a few days' treatment is all that is necessary. Not weeks nor months of endless doctoring, but in many cases one single visit. I permanently cure you without the loss of time, no pain whatever and no after trouble.

CONSTIPATION.

Constipation is the mother of most of these diseases. The clogging up of the bowels is the beginning, then comes depression, and indisposition to do anything; headache, backache and all other aches. Drug store remedies may give temporary relief, but why take medicine all your life just to get relief when my treatment cures constipation forever? Neglect gives birth to Piles, Fistula and so many other diseases that it is hard to tell of them all. My treatment permanently cures. It is a blessing to suffering mankind.

I guarantee to cure these diseases just as I say I do, or refund every dollar paid to me. If I fail, the fault is mine, not yours. Why should you pay? I have no home treatment; I do not treat by mail. All patients must come to the office for treatment.

FREE CONSULTATION AND ADVICE

I offer not only FREE Consultation and Advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a Careful Examination and Diagnosis without charge. All persons should not neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about their troubles.

My offices are open all day from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sundays from 10 to 12.

SECRET LIFE IS REVEALED.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES TRACE LAWYER'S PAST.

SPEND LARGE SUM TO SECURE HIS CONVICTION.

EAGER THAT THOMPSON'S CASE MAY DETER OTHERS.

Probably with the intention of making an example of Attorney Fred H. Thompson, who is in the County Jail on a charge of having received mail which he knew had been stolen, the United States expended $25,000 to get the evidence which led to his arrest, Tuesday afternoon. It cost $2600 to procure witnesses examined by the grand jury which indicted Thompson and his wife.

The manner in which the government set about to prosecute the lawyer establishes a precedent in this city. No resident of Los Angeles has ever been more thoroughly tracked than has Thompson.

It is said that the detectives have gone back into his life's history for several years. Data is now in the hands of the Federal officials that outlines Thompson's every action day by day.

The mass of detail which has been dug up seems incredible. The officers know of every check he received or signed and sent through the banks; every trip he took, every ticket he purchased and almost every drink he absorbed.

Orlando F. Altorre, who stole the $15,000 which Thompson is alleged to have received with guilty knowledge, was taken from the County Jail to Leavenworth, yesterday to begin serving sentences for stealing and perjury.

He seemed to be happy to get away, as he had previously declared he was afraid Thompson would poison him if they were placed in the same jail. It was like leaving home for him, having been imprisoned sixteen months, and he was profuse in his thanks for the good treatment accorded him.

It is likely that, in a few months, he will be brought back. With a conviction of perjury hanging over him, he is incompetent as a witness against Thompson and his wife. But he can be restored to citizenship by being pardoned. It is likely that this course will be pursued shortly after the first of the year, as the government will not overlook any chance of proving the guilt of the attorney.

Thompson did not obtain bail yesterday. In fact, little effort is being made by him to procure his release. He stated shortly after his arrest that he could get bonds in the sum of $3000, but that he could raise no more. He has a bond of $8000 on deposit in the Police Court.

The Thompsons were to have been examined before Justice Chambers yesterday, on charges of having received stolen property. Both Assistant United States Attorney Horton and the attorneys for the defendant were anxious to obtain a postponement. The case was reset for December 12. The case in the Federal court will take precedence of that in the State tribunal.

PARTY LEADER PASSES.

Resident Deputy County Clerk Dies at the Soldiers' Home After a Short Illness.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Oct. 26.—Andrew R. Earl, a member of the home and holding the office of deputy county clerk for this place, died after a brief illness at the hospital last night. Since coming to the home from Fresno in 1893, "Andie" Earl had been the central figure in almost every social event of importance among members of the home, and always conspicuous in political affairs. A recognized leader of the Republicans in camp, his reliability and fair dealing with coworkers in that party was unquestioned. For many years he was prominent in Grand Army affairs, and was several times elected Commander of Uncle Sam Post, No. 177. Earl served in Co. D, Third Massachusetts Infantry. He was a native of Massachusetts and aged seventy-one.

RITES FOR PIONEER.

Final Honors for Man Formerly in Grain and Flour Business in Escondido—Railroad Prospect.

ESCONDIDO, Oct. 26.—Rev. R. B. Larkin and Consuello Lodge, F. and A. M., officiated at the funeral yesterday of E. B. Churchill at the Congregational Church. Rev. Larkin was assisted by Rev. J. C. McReynolds, pastor of the Christian Church. Mr. Churchill, whose age was 81, was a native of Erie county, N. Y. In 1850 he was engaged in placer mining near Sacramento. He came to Escondido from the middle West in 1893 and for ten years was in the grain and flour manufacturing business. He leaves a widow, to whom he was married fifty-six years ago, and five children; E. M. Churchill of Escondido, C. D. Churchill of Jasper county, Iowa, Mrs. Lena Denney of Imperial, Mrs. L. M. Guest of Oklahoma and Mrs. R. B. Coe of David City, Neb.

SPEAKS OF NEW RAILROAD.

At the close of a banquet at Hotel Escondido, last evening, tendered to Seth Hartley by Sig Steiner, Mr. Hartley announced that he had plans for the building of a steam railway from San Bernardino to San Diego by way of Escondido and adding that he believed that he can have the road between Escondido and San Diego in operation within a year. He said that he has an option on a wharf at San Diego and has made other necessary preliminary arrangements for the enterprise.

G. W. Purcell, who has a franchise for an electric railway between San Diego and Esconcido, has done a little grading for the road at the San Diego end.

CLING TO PREACHER.

Covina Pastor, Who Decided To Leave the Town Wavers Under Heavy Pressure of Flock.

COVINA, Oct. 26.—Aroused to concerted action by the resignation of the pastor, Rev. Paul G. Stevens, the Covina Presbyterian Church, last evening, in a meeting which included 300 members and people of all local denominations, asked their spiritual leader to reconsider his action, and remain with the work which he started nearly five years ago.

While the meeting was ostensibly called for the purpose of giving the pastor and his wife a farewell reception, the leaders of the movement worked energetically meantime and precipitated a spirit which was an earnest plea that the pastor remain. In every address from the platform, he was urged to reconsider.

Among those who spoke were: B. L. King, in behalf of the trustees; O. G. Church, for the eldership; Mrs. J. A. Ennis, foreign missions; Harry Church, Young People's Societies; C. E. Tredway, Sunday-school; Miss Grace Fisher, the pastor's Philathea class; Mrs. W. M. Griswold, Pastor's Aid Society; Rev. S. W. Gage for the pastors of the city.

While Rev. Mr. Stevens had thoroughly made up his mind to resign, he stated after the meeting that the pressure had been so earnest that he was wavering in his decision.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall of Waverly, Va., says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all dealers.—[Adv.
